Levies Reported—

The levies reported to the county clerk yesterday were: School District No. 17 on the Lewis & Clark, and District No. 9, Albert, Ore. The former levies 6 mills and the latter 1 mill.

Has Recovered—

John McIntosh, of Seaside, who has been in the hospital for the past two months, suffering from rheumatism, left that institution yesterday practically recovered. He will remain in Astoria a short time before returning home.

Now at City Hall—

City Attorney Charles Abercrombie has removed from his old quarters at 59 1/2 Commercial street, and will, henceforth, be found at his office on the second floor of the City Hall. 11-30-07.

A Fine Display—

Scholfield, Mattson & Co., have a very fine display of Christmas ornaments, and their stock, in this line, is a large and varied one. Ornaments of every description can be found in their store and a good selection can be made without looking further.

Preparing to Grade—

Contractor E. A. Gerding is laying rails on Irving avenue preparatory to hauling the dirt from the cut on Fourteenth street in cars and dumping it into the canyon beyond Eighteenth. Old-time citizens are recalling the days when cars ran upon wooden rails when the grading of Seventeenth street was in progress.

Elected Officers—

Cushing Post, G. A. R., elected the following officers, on Wednesday night to serve the ensuing year: Commander, O. F. Morton; senior vice commander, R. C. Welch; junior vice commander, H. Willson; quartermaster, A. Scherneckau; chaplain, C. S. Wright; O. of D., P. L. Taylor; guard, Thos. Dealey. The delegates elected to the state convention are: E. R. Brown, J. C. Davis and J. A. Neal, with H. Willson, R. C. Welch and R. C. Abbott, as alternates.

Works Both Ways—

The furniture house of Chas. H. Heilborn & Company intend to keep pace with the holiday wants of the people and have extended the benefit of their one-fifth-off sale through the month of December, in order that the real holiday buyers may have the advantage of the bargains.

Southwest Storm—

A southwest rain and wind storm raged yesterday, the rain falling in torrents at times. As night approached the velocity of the wind increased and by 8 o'clock was at its height. Few people ventured out being more comfortable in doors.

Articles of Incorporation—

Articles of incorporation were filed with the county clerk yesterday by Badolett & Co. The capital stock of the corporation is $4500 divided into three shares of $1500 each, fully subscribed. The principal place of business will be in Astoria, and the incorporators are Dora Badolett, J. P. Badolett and T. S. Trullinger.

Will Be Here—

Paul Wessenger, manager of the Weinhard estate, will be a guest at the banquet of the Chamber of Commerce on December 18th. A contract will be awarded, about that time, for the filling of the concrete floor, in the basement, and it is expected that by March 1st the bricklayers will commence work on the superstructure.

A Correction—

In the article regarding Mrs. Lilly Karpenin, the words "owing to the quarantine to which she has been subjected" were not intended as any reflection upon the methods of the city physician and his watchman. On the contrary we are informed every consideration has been shown the family, and it is owing to other reasons that Mrs. Karpenin is a worthy subject of the benefices of our charitably inclined citizens.

For Thirty Days More—

Chas. H. Heilborn & Company will fall in line with the popular will so far as their 20 per cent discount sale is concerned, and the big advantage will belong to the Christmas shoppers as well as to the ordinary buyer.

Gray's River Alright—

W. N. Meserve, one of the leading merchants and citizens of the famous Gray's River district, was in the city yesterday on matters of business, and reports his section of the country in flourishing shape and not at all depressed by the late stringency. All men over there have money and plenty of it; and as postmaster of the settlement, Mr. Meserve declares that the postal money order business of the office has increased steadily all through the alleged trouble in the financial world round about, and for the month of November they increased fully one-fourth in volume. He reports the active work of the government snag-puller Mathloma, and that she is doing excellent work in the river and will remain there for at least another month clearing the stream before the $2500 appropriation will be exhausted. Then these up-to-date folks want a dredge to do the rest, and they'll probably get it.

Seaside Election—

A sweeping victory for the Law and Order ticket was the result of Wednesday's election, at Seaside. The result, which was the cause of much rejoicing, at Seaside, when it was made known, was as follows: W. S. Henninger was selected mayor over R. R. Cole, by a vote of 130 to 22. The other officers elected were: W. E. Burke, recorder; Ed. Henninger, treasurer; Fred H. Moore, councilman-at-large; Howard Loughton and T. J. Haycox, councilmen from First Ward; A. W. Duncan and C. Reeves, councilmen from the Second Ward. The amendments to the city charter which were prepared by the present council were defeated, one of them being for the creation of a water commission.

Death of Melville S. Ingalls—

Melville S. Ingalls, who had been working at a logging camp near Rainier, took ill, with typhoid fever, a few weeks ago and his condition becoming alarming he was brought to the home of his parents in this city about a week ago. Yesterday morning, early, he passed away, after all that could be done for his recovery had been tried. He was born in this county, was 25 years of age and unmarried. He was a young man of excellent reputation, and his many friends, and those of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Ingalls will regret to learn of his demise. He will probably be buried on Sunday.

A Unique Calendar—

S. Schmidt & Co., salmon packers, have sent to its friends and business associates, copies of a very unique calendar. The calendar shows all the fast days of the year as taught by the Catholic church, and also the day and name of each of the saints of the Catholic chronology. A fish printed in red across the day numeral indicates the day on which it is proper to fast, or to partake of a fish diet.

Will Go Farming—

John Stark, ex-patrolman on the police force, is again in Astoria. Mr. Stark has just returned from a trip to the Sound country, and California, where he went for pleasure. He enjoyed his trip immensely and while in Seattle purchased a farm about 40 miles from that city, and will return there about December 17th to take up his residence.

Attempted Suicide—

In a fit of despondency, a woman, who is known as "Madge," attempted suicide early yesterday morning, in the lower part of the city. She undertook to make a meal on antiseptic tablets, and it took the combined efforts of an emetic, and a stomach pump to keep her in this vale to tears. Last night she had about fully recovered.

They Extend the Benefit—

So long as the people heartily approve the sale, Chas. H. Heilborn & Company will extend the 20 per cent discount sale of furniture, for the balance of December; therefore the buyers of Christmas things in their line, will meet with the valuable concession for that period.

Victor R. Heyno Dead—

Victor Robert Heyno, a native of Finland, aged 47 years, who has been a resident of this county for about a year, died at his residence this morning after an illness of several months, the immediate cause of his demise being dropsy. He is survived by a widow and daughter. Arrangements for the obsequies have not been made.

Up To New Year's Day—

Since the sale seems to be so popular, Charles H. Heilborn & Company intend to keep their discount schedules going during December, in order to make it feasible for Christmas shoppers to get the benefit.

Harry Anderson, of Fort Canby, came in on the Guy Howard yesterday forenoon and after spending the balance of the day in the city, left for home last night.

STATE QUARANTINE REGULATIONS

RULES OF OREGON STATE BOARD OF HEALTH—CITY PHYSICIAN WILL STRICTLY ENFORCE THE QUARANTINE LAWS.

For the benefit of the general public the State Board of Health Regulations about the duration of quarantine are given below:

Scarlet Fever—Isolation until complete desquamation or scaling has ended (about six or eight weeks from onset of disease). At end of this time disinfect patient and premises.

The rules and regulations of Oregon State Board of Health, published July, 1903, contains the following paragraph about Scarlet Fever: Isolation of patient and quarantine of children associated with or in the house with the patient for ten days after complete desquamation or scaling of patient, and disinfection of premises. It will be readily understood, that the quarantine during Scarlet Fever must necessarily be of long duration. The latest regulations state, that the process of scaling off or "peeling" will take from 6 to 8 weeks and the regulations of 1903 went so far as to stipulate a lapse of ten days after complete "peeling" before the quarantine could be safely lifted. The reason is, that the "peeling" is the most dangerous time as far as contagion is concerned, and as long as peeling is not completed in the fullest sense of the word, the broken and unbroken old skin must be considered as multitudes of disease germs, which at any time may attack any young or old person.

Quarantine and disease are always unwelcome guests and I have always tried to be as lenient and considerate as was consistent with the safety of the community. As the period of peeling is the most catching, I have always maintained that if any compromise should and could be allowed, it must be before peeling has begun. When once begun, compromise ends, then everybody must remain in quarantine until peeling is completed and even then a little longer, or ten days. To lift the quarantine, before the peeling is completed, when there still are some patches of old skin on the back of the hands, would be to scatter the disease germs broadcast.

Fortunately, the present cases of Scarlet-Fever are of a very mild form. But this disease is very treacherous, as the most malignant and fatal cases may appear side by side with the mildest forms in the same family. The duty of the physicians generally and the health officers specially is rather more to prevent disease than to cure it and in the performance of this duty the physician should have the fullest support of all good people. Those who have been placed under quarantine should be thankful, that the disease is a very mild one, and that their children have been saved, and the best way to show their gratitude is to comply strictly with the quarantine regulations.

The rules and regulations of the Oregon State Board of Health has made six weeks the shortest limit of quarantine in Scarlet Fever and as long as this regulation has not been withdrawn or amended, it will be enforced in every case, no matter who the patients are or how well they may appear before the limit of six weeks has expired.

F. T. MOHN, M. D.
City Physician.
