Carney toastmaster, and the gathering proceeded to enjoy themselves with the vinids before them. Chas. B. Merrick, secretary of the state association of grocerymen, was present and addressed the gathering on the subject for the betterment of the retail business. A number of other gentlemen addressed the gathering and at a late hour the assemblage adjourned considering the evening as well spent.

Prof. Chas. H. Gray and wife, who have been secured to direct the music in the revival meetings at the Methodist Church came yesterday and are busy organizing the large chorus choir. Rev. C. M. Florence Roberts and "Zira"—

Astorians are to have the pleasure of seeing the great emotional actress in the role of "Hester Trent" in the new adaptation of Wilkie Collins' "The New Magdalen." Miss Roberts has ever been a coast favorite and from the plaudits which have been showered upon her by the eastern critics, has evidently made good in the "effete east." Miss Roberts is ably supported and a pleasurable performance is anticipated.

STATE FEDERATION OF LABOR

CLOSE OF A SUCCESSFUL CONVENTION—NEW OFFICERS ELECTED FOR THE COMING YEAR—SALEM NEXT PLACE FOR CONVENTION.

The State Federation of Labor closed a very successful convention yesterday evening by the election of officers and the selecting of a place for next year's convention.

Considerable business was transacted during the day, business of importance to the cause in which the delegates were assembled, and when the time came for the selection of officers for the coming year, interest was at fever heat.

C. H. Gram of Portland who has made an excellent presiding officer, was re-elected as president, and the following additional officers were named: First vice-president, J. L. Wheeler, Portland; second vice-president, H. M. Lornsen, of Astoria; third vice-president, Harry Hill, of Salem, Ore.; fourth vice-president, John Greenwood, of Marshfield; fifth vice-president, Mrs. L. Gee, of Portland. J. Cassidy, of Portland, was elected secretary and treasurer and Messrs. Lund, Moore and C. H. Thompson were named as the executive committee, and thus closed a very successful session of as fine a body of men as has ever met in Astoria.

It was determined that the next convention will be held at Salem at a date to be named later.

Good feeling was manifested at the close of the convention and many handshakes were exchanged as the delegates parted to leave for their respective homes.

County Court Meets—

The county court met yesterday and finished up the drawing of the jury for the ensuing term. Two hundred citizens of the realm were selected, and their names will be made public when Clerk Clinton shall have registered them.

The semi-annual reports of the clerk and treasurer were read and referred to G. P. Clark, to be reported.

It was ordered that bids be received until March 2nd on work on road district No. 77 and on the same date bids will be opened for work on Elk Creek road.

Regarding the suit of Lewis L. Eager against Clatsop county, it was ordered that the matter be referred to the district attorney.

The county judge was authorized, on the turning over of the new court house, by the contractors, to have the building cleaned and made ready for occupancy.

In the payment of taxes, it appears that several taxpayers paid more than their legitimate share and it was ordered that the clerk be authorized to draw warrants in favor of these parties for the amount which they overpaid.

The court then adjourned for the term.

The Police Court—

Judge Anderson yesterday made the acquaintance of Hans Hansen. Hans is of the genius hobo and was as usual looking for work—with the object in view of keeping out of its way. The court was solicitous to know just what efforts Hans had made in seeking for work, and the facts were elicited that Hans thought the best way to find work was to go to each saloon and make inquiry for a glass of "fighting water." It was considerable for him to pour down the liquor after several places had been visited. As a real specimen of the "tired fraternity" Hans is a success. His coat was ragged and torn and fairly bristling with pretzels obtained from various free-lunch counters. Great was his relief, however, when His Honor informed him that if he would shake the splinters of Astoria from off his feet and do it suddenly, he would suspend sentence. Hans went.

DECIDED ACTION.

By Big Astoria Firm.

Encouraged by the surprising results, but determined that there shall be no disappointed customers, Danziger & Co. will keep on adding new lots of goods to the terrific price-cutting sale now going on. The rush of the first six days was the cause of many lines being badly broken in size or completely sold out. More goods are added from the reserve stock and warehouses to replace those sold. The bargains will be just as great and as many of them as the first day of the sale. Danzigers way of doing business needs no introduction. And, just as a reminder, we wish to impress on your mind, that you get what is advertised at that store, and you get goods that is the kind that builds trade. Not the regular bargain made stuff you are offered at professional bargain stores.
