MAYOR WISE.

the officers in the "reasonable" enforcement of the law, the better for all concerned.

There are extremists on both ends of this question; but I am no extremist. When the black clouds of a cyclone are gathering and drawing nearer and nearer, that is the time to get under cover. The time will come when the "reasonable" element in the liquor business will thank me for having saved them from total annihilation.

To the radical, on one side, I will say: "Don't attempt the impossible!" To the "indiscriminate" I say: "Better be satisfied with half a loaf." To both sides: "I have done what I thought best for all concerned; and what I believe to be right that will have to stand, no matter how much fuss you raise or how much you abuse me."

The dance halls, the slot machines, the wheels, etc., will stay closed during this year. After this year I will not be your Mayor, and I shall not prophesy what my successor's policy may be, and my conscience will not be responsible for his actions. In the meantime waste no time in useless kicking, for even the Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Association of Illinois has endorsed my action.

HERMAN WISE.

CHEYENNE SELECTED.

SALT LAKE, Jan. 25.—Cheyenne was selected as the next meeting place of the Trans-Missouri Dry Farming Congress, which closed its second annual convention here today. The meeting was one of great enthusiasm. The convention opened with 282 delegates and closed with nearly 600 in attendance. That this body will never again be classed among the minor industrial congresses is the belief of all those who attended the congress which closed today. Technical points of great value were brought out in the relation of actual experiences by practical men. Deep plowing and frequent cultivation is insisted upon, and one Utah delegate today convinced the farmers that there was more danger from overseeding than from underseeding. Forty pounds to the acre was the amount recommended by the speaker.

New Time Table—

According to the new time table, issued by the A. & C. R. R., which goes into effect today, the train that formerly arrived here, from Portland, at 11:45 will be due at 11:50. The evening train will be 10 minutes later than formerly, arriving at 9:50 p. m. The train for Seaside heretofore leaving at 11:45 a. m. now leaves at 11:55 a. m. These are the only changes affecting Astoria.

Man Overboard—

The jolly skipper of the schooner King Cyrus in an effort to reach his vessel last night received a good ducking. Missing his footing at the foot of Twelfth street, he fell from the dock but was rescued by passers-by and conveyed to a hotel.

Irritation of the throat and hoarseness little swallow of Kemp's Balsam, the best cough cure. Grip patients should make a note of this.

LIMPED INTO PORT.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Jan. 25.—The overdue Canadian Pacific steamer Montrose with the passengers of the Mount Royal on board, passed Brier Island tonight, and will be docked tomorrow.

HIS ABLE DECISION.

Justice as it Was Dealt Out in a Certain Village.

The mayor of a village in a western state, under a law by which the mayor is also police judge, had before him a cattle stealing case.

Two men had stolen two steers and sold them to a butcher in the town for the extremely low price of $37.

Now, the jurisdiction of this mayor-police judge extended in such cases only to the limits of petty larceny, which required that the stolen articles be not of a value of more than $35. Beyond this amount the magistrates had to bind the prisoner or prisoners over to the circuit court, subject to the action of the next session of the grand jury. Likewise, in cases thus beyond his jurisdiction, the judge got no fee, and at this particular time, as at many others, he needed the money.

When the evidence had all been adduced the case was as plain as the proboscis on an elephant seen in profile. The men had stolen the cattle, had sold them for $37. No amount of questioning could make the butcher who had bought them say that it was $34.50 or any other amount short of the originally mentioned sum. Apparently no mayor's fee was in sight.

Then the mayor thus summed up the case:

"We have heard the evidence in this case, and the duty of the court is clear. These men stole the cattle. They sold them for $37. Taking the mere prima facie evidence and the bare letter of the law, it would seem that it was a clear and unmistakable case of grand larceny. But I have decided to allow the two prisoners $4 for driving the cattle in to the market. This reduces the selling price to $33, and I fine the two prisoners each $20 and costs. The court is adjourned."—Chicago News.

His Trouble.

In a small Georgia town live an old negro couple, the support for both being the wife. Uncle Zeke spends most of his time fishing in the brickyard pond, not that he expects to catch any fish, but "des ter hab some harmless 'musement, chile." Aunt Mary takes in washing.

One day one of Aunt Mary's patrons broached the subject to her and suggested that she should not encourage her husband's laziness by supporting him in idleness, but Aunt Mary protested.

"Deed, honey, mah ole man ain't lazy," she declared. "It's des dem scientific notions he dun got when he was a-wuckin' at de college."

"But what have scientific theories got to do with his not working?" the lady demanded.

"Got er whole lot ter do, honey," Aunt Mary said, gathering up her basket. "Yo' see, dem ideas what he got was dat hit wasn't healthy ter wuck after meals, an' he ain't been able ter figger out no way ter 'omplish dat, not yet—less he gibs up eatin', an' course he can't do dat."—Philadelphia Ledger.
