CONGRESS AT WORK.

party to effect some sort of a compromise before the approaching primaries? These are questions which have been asked in Washington with growing frequency of late and which have found echo in many sections. From the attitude assumed by Senator Foraker in expressing surprise at the Secretary of War's assumption of all the blame for the party's schism in the Buckeye State, it would seem as if any overtures for such a compromise must come from the Taft forces. The kindly feeling for Mr. Foraker which the War Secretary indicated in the course of his remarks at the recent dinner held in his honor by the members of Ohio's Republican delegation in congress led some to believe that the Taft people would not exactly reject any peace overture which might come from the Foraker men. But when the senator was interviewed and expressed his surprise at learning that Taft, not the president, was to blame for the present condition of affairs, and said that apparently there was nothing but a fight to the end, the belief that some peace pact might be effected was dissipated in many quarters. However, the other candidates for the highest place on the ticket of the Republican party are chuckling with glee over the Ohio situation. Speaker Cannon still maintains a profound silence, but the strong and oft-repeated assertions that Illinois will send a solid Cannon delegation to the June convention are giving more strength to his boom.

Secretary Metcalf has said "Play ball!", and there's an end to it. The cabinet members who hold down the navy portfolio has ruled that if the enlisted men of his branch of the service want to engage in baseball games on Sunday they may do so to their hearts' content. Recently a number of Philadelphians retained a lawyer and desired him to make formal complaints to the Navy Department against the practice of the sailors and marines stationed at the League Island navy yard in pulling off ball game on Sundays. In their complaint they also drew attention to the fact that this practise was in direct violation of the Pennsylvania laws. However, after going into the merits of the case the Secretary rendered his decision as above, pointing out that it is the policy of the Department to encourage as far as possible all such athletics on the part of the enlisted men. He informed his correspondents that jurisdiction of league Island recently was acquired by the federal government, with the consent of the State legislature, and that therefore Sunday ball games on the reservation are not in violation of any law. He has directed, however, that the general public hereafter be excluded from the yard during the playing of such Sunday games, so that the residents of Philadelphia will not now be able to tell whether the Sabbath is being desecrated unless they ascend the tower of the City Hall or go up in a balloon.

RECIPROCITY WITH FRANCE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The President today issued a proclamation announcing the conclusion of the Franco-American reciprocity agreement under a provision of the Dingley act. Under it America concedes 20 per cent abatement in duties on champagne and sparkling wines imported into this country, and France confirms the minimum tariff rate now accorded American products.

Jerome has attempted to belittle and discredit all the testimony having to do with Thaw's irrationality. He has attempted to show that the youthful outbursts of the defendant were fits of temper which deserved "spanking," as he expressed it, rather than scientific discussion. He has attempted to discredit the outbreaks in his later life with the suggestion that they were the result of too much drink and nothing more.

SUPREME COURT DECISION.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—That whisky in which burnt sugar of caramels have been placed after government inspection is not subject to forfeiture to the government under Section 3455 of the revised statutes was decreed yesterday by the Supreme Court of the United States.

REAL ESTATE SLOW.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Speculative operations in real estate in this city and many others, according to leading operators, will be small in volume until what are considered the more legitimate demands for cash of the mortgage borrowers are satisfied. Mortgages in this city alone who are pressed to renew their loans or to get new loans need nearly $50,000,000. During the next few months, while the surplus money is being taken for urgent requirements, rates will be strong. Later it is expected they will get lower when the pressure from necessary sources will be relieved.

FOR TARIFF REVISION.

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—It was announced by the Chicago association that a most influential and representative body will assemble in Washington, February 3, for the purpose of revision without the interference of politics after the next Presidential election. A committee will urge the formation of a non partizan committee of experts whose duty it will be to investigate the alleged inequitable tariff schedules and report on them to Congress. It is said that there is no political influence of any kind behind the committee which includes both Democrats and Republicans.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—New York women who are interested in obtaining for themselves the right to vote are planning a monster stree parade in order to show their strength. The recent visit of representatives of the "Militant Suffragists" of England, has created renewed interest among the advocates of equal suffrage in New York and several open air meetings have been held in Madison Square Garden at which women have spoken in support of their cause. At a general meeting to be held today arrangements will be made for the parade which is in contemplation. It is hoped to have a very large turnout of women to parade through the principal streets, bearing banners announcing their principles in the hope that they may be the means of interesting more women in the campaign and showing men that the women are determined in their efforts to secure equality before the law.

Anglicized French. For two centuries we have been crying "Encore!" at the end of a song, where a Frenchman never says it, his own equivalent for it strangely being the Latin "Bis!" And "on the tapis" appears in English far more often than in French, and misunderstood at that since it does not mean "on the carpet," but on the tablecloth of the council table for discussion.—London Chron.

Fine Receipt For Colds.

Mix half pint of good whiskey with two ounces of glycerine and add one-half ounce concentrated oil of pine. This latter comes in one-half ounce vials packed in tin screw-top air-tight cases which are intended to protect it from light and retain all the original ozone.

This simple mixture is to be used in doses of a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful four times a day. The bottle should be well shaken each time.

Don't use bulk of pine or imitations of Concentrated, which are often found with similar name and style of package. They are insoluble and work havoc to the kidneys. Any druggist has the Concentrated oil of pine. It will also be found a most excellent remedy for lumbago and all forms of uric acid rheumatism. For this purpose it is taken with a few drops on sugar at night and morning.

It also makes an excellent salve to be applied externally on the lungs. For this purpose put a teaspoonful into two table-spoonfuls of hot lard and apply hot.

Industrial Conditions Guaged by Their Report.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—The report of the United States Steel Corporation for the quarter ending December 31, 1907, expectantly awaited by the public as an index of the industrial conditions was made public today. The net earnings for 1907 were $161,000,000, the largest in the company's history. The unfilled orders on hand at the end of the year amounted to 624,000 tons. The surplus for the quarter was $3,600,000. The usual quarterly dividends of one-half of 1 per cent on common and 1 3/4 per cent on preferred stock was declared by the directors. These dividends show no change from the previous quarter. The net earnings for the last three months of 1907 were $9,181,000. Compared with the same period in 1906 and unfilled orders are 3,865,000 tons less than for the corresponding quarter of last year.

WEARING A WIG.

A Help to the Health of Those With Bald Heads.

An eminent American who while in Paris consulted a famous physician of that city to ascertain if there was any remedy for baldness was told by the doctor that the best thing to do was to wear a toupee or wig. The American said that he always regarded the wearing of a wig as an evidence of a man's vanity, but he was quite surprised when the French physician replied: "You are quite mistaken. The wearing of a wig is regarded by those who have carefully studied the subject of health as a beneficent safeguard. A man who from any cause has lost a good part of his hair usually loses it some time after middle life, when his vitality begins to ebb. You must bear in mind that the scalp is filled with myriads of blood vessels, and when it is exposed without the covering that nature intended to give it a man is apt to suffer from sudden and acute attacks of cold, catarrh and influenza. I have often prescribed the wearing of a toupee or wig to a patient who has come to me complaining of his susceptibility to colds, and in nine cases out of ten after the wig has been worn the susceptibility has ceased at once. Many cases of deafness I have traced to colds constantly recurring in those who have lost their hair and who have provided no substitute for nature's covering. Some cases of chronic sore throat are traceable to the same cause. In some instances patients suffering from tuberculosis of the lungs in the early stages have found decided protection from colds by wearing a wig. Those who need to wear a wig and will not do so must be regarded as victims of vanity rather than those who, accepting the inevitable, make the best of their misfortune, for I regard baldness as nothing less than a misfortune to any man or woman."—Lest's Weekly

Bad breath has probably broken off more matches than bad temper, and that's a good many. The best cure for bad breath is the tonic-laxative, Lane's Family Medicine.

Orchard says he is glad he told the truth but that does not put the breath of life into his victims.

ADVERTISING AN ART.

But It Should Be Made an Art That Calls Beauty to Its Service.

Advertising has indeed become an art. It remains for it to become, if not a fine art, at least an art that calls beauty to its service. When it does, much of the energy that is now misdirected, much of the money that is now prodigally wasted in destroying the world's beauty, will be saved.

The right procedure is indicated by the most conspicuous medium for public advertising. The press, in its daily, weekly or monthly forms, offers altogether the best means for calling public attention to all sorts of things. The best of public journals—those which are recognized as the most desirable mediums for advertising and which consequently obtain the highest prices for their services—make it a rule to classify and restrict in a judicious manner the advertisements that they print. They confine them to certain parts of the publication, they restrict their display to certain decorous styles of type, recognizing that to admit a helter-skelter distribution through all columns or to display them in incoherent fashion according to the whims of the advertisers would largely destroy the very objects held in view. The readers of these journals would resent the intrusion of advertising matter into the space set apart for news, editorials, etc., and the influence that gives the advertising its value would decline.

In the same way the forms of advertising that now give exceeding offense to the community ought to be restricted and kept within proper limits. If this were effected the practice would change from the public nuisance that it now is to a function that, in a considerable degree, might couple genuine service to the public with a presentation of its material in an interesting and even esthetically attractive fashion.—Sylvester Baxter in Century.

This is not the first time we have heard the excuse that rotten hose was responsible for a heavy fire loss. When the real story is told there will be trouble over insurance rates.
