

This woman says that after months of suffering Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made her as well as ever.

Maude E. Forgie, of Leesburg, Va., writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I want other suffering women to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. For months I suffered from feminine ills so that I thought I could not live. I wrote you, and after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and using the treatment you prescribed I felt like a new woman. I am now strong, and well as ever, and thank you for the good you have done me."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

"MOLL PITCHER."

History of the Famous Heroine of the Revolution.

"Moll Pitcher" was the daughter of a Pennsylvania German family living in the vicinity of Carlisle. She was born in 1748, and her name was Mary Ludwig, a pure German name. She was married to one John Casper Hayes, a barber, who when the war broke out with the mother country enlisted in the First Pennsylvania artillery and was afterward transferred to the Seventh Pennsylvania Infantry, commanded by Colonel William Irvine of Carlisle, with whose family Mary Ludwig had lived at service. She was permitted to accompany her husband's regiment, serving the battery as cook and laundress, and when at the battle of Monmouth (Freehold), N. J., her husband was wounded at his gun she sprang forward, seized the rammer and took his place to the end of the battle. After the battle she carried water to the wounded, and hence her pet name of "Moll Pitcher."

Hayes died after the war was over, and she married a second husband of the name of McCauley, and at her grave in the old cemetery at Carlisle there is a monument that bears this inscription:

Molly McCauley, Renowned in History as "Moll Pitcher," the Heroine of Monmouth; Died January, 1832. Erected by the Citizens of Cumberland County, July 4, 1876.

On Washington's birthday, 1822, when Molly was nearly seventy years old, the legislature of Pennsylvania voted her a gift of $40 and a pension of $40 per year.

NATURE'S WARNING.

Astoria People Must Recognize and Heed It.

Kidney ills come quietly—mysteriously,

But nature always warns you. Notice the kidney secretions. See if the color is unhealthy—If there are settlements and sediment, Passages frequent, scanty, painful. It's time then to use Doan's Kidney Pills,

To ward off Bright's Disease or diabetes.

Doan's have done great work in Astoria.

Theodore Josephson, 515 Seventh street, Astoria, Oregon, says: "About five years ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills and derived great benefit. I was suffering from severe pains across my back and my loins and at times so severe that I was unable to stoop or straighten. My kidneys also bothered me a great deal, and the secretions were generally too free in passing. At last Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention, and I procured a box at Rogers' drug store. I began using them and my health is now excellent. I take a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills now and then, when feeling any sign of backache and they never fail to banish the trouble."

BK. AMAZON ADRIFT

Got Good Offing But Apparently Did Not Hold It.

TATOOSH GOES AFTER HER

Nicomedia Leaves Out For China—Amiral de Cornulier Arrives in from England—Two-Square Riggers Yet in Port—Odds and Ends.

At 9 o'clock yesterday morning the British bark Amazon, Captain Garrick, left this port, wheat-laden for Europe, and was given a good offing by the tug that took her out. At 3:30 o'clock the observer at North Head wired the Western Union office in this that the bark was drifting in toward Tillamook Head, and repeated the substance of the Amazon's signals, which were, in effect: "Cannot get out unless assisted by tug, or wind." At 5 o'clock North Head again sent in a wire to the effect that the Amazon was "still drifting slowly in shore, and that the tug Tatoosh had been ordered down, and was then off Fort Stevens.

Comment among the people most nearly concerned ashore, and those who know what such a drift in this weather means, was of a sort that forbode no ill to the Amazon; the general idea being that an off-wind would spring up after sundown and fend off to deep water; and some were of the opinion that perhaps Captain Garrick, who was known to be ill when the left and for sometime previous, was a bit unduly nervous, and had sent for assistance as the quickest way out of trouble, though he may not have really needed it.

At 6:40 o'clock the Astorian office got into communication with the Hotel Moore, at Seaside, and from there it was ascertained at that time that the Amazon was about three points to the northward of the hotel pier about off Gearhart Park, and probably five miles off shore, with no sight of the tug whatever. The hotel people had been more or less worried over the position of the ship all the afternoon, but refrained from sending in any word about her, on the score of having been thoroughly laughed at on previous occasions when they had taken this trouble in good faith, a circumstance they should not have to complain of.

At midnight the bar tug Tatoosh arrived in and Captain Bailey reported that he had picked up the vessel and towed her to a safe offing. No further particulars could be learned as the captain was tired from his efforts and his innate modesty, to a newspaper man, forbids his claiming any laurels. Nevertheless many who are interested in the vessel will take this meagre final report as an assurance that the vessel is now safely on her way.

The French bark Amiral de Cornulier, Captain Bidon, arrived in from Rochester, England yesterday afternoon, via San Diego, and will go on to the metropolis on the first hawser that offers. Her cruise was uneventful and fairly fast.

The steamship Nicomedia arrived down yesterday morning, cargoes for China, and left out almost immediately. She will be followed on the 22nd, by the Alsea, of the same line.

The steamer J. B. Stetson arrived in late yesterday afternoon from San Francisco, with a fair list of passengers, and will load out lumber from the Tongue Point mills for the return voyage.

The British ship Claverdon, Captain Thomson, got away at last, yesterday morning after two weeks delay here, making repairs and waiting for a tide that would carry her big draft safely across the bar. She is headed for Falmouth, with wheat.

The only square-riggers now in the lower harbor awaiting departure are the German bark Reinbek and the French bark Buffon, both wheat laden for Europe.

The oil tank steamer W. S. Porter was among the arrivals in this port yesterday, coming up from California with a full tank of crude stuff for the Associated Companies.

LIKE THE INFERNO.

Graphic Description of a Climb Over a Volcanic Island.

A climb over a volcanic island in Berlin sea is thus described in Outing Magazine by Robert Dunn:

"Cliff sank away into chaos. Upright fans of tuffa, crevices like salt crusted wounds, chasms with leprous edges—breathed all like mad. Less steam, but more crinkly and venomous gases. Parched white and red and ochre in their depths, they seemed almost to whistle—yet they did not whistle—a furtive, ambient, high pressure 'Zjssho-ooo' Was it sound? Then I would pause and catch only the horrid, overburdened silence.

"The 'thing' seemed more friendly. The sulphur no longer choked. You could have passed a burning bunch of miners' matches under my nose and I would have gulped the fumes like fresh air. But the invisible venom still belched out everywhere, secret and furtive; now from jaws and gashes four feet and more across, no longer red yellow, but with fangs crusted white or brilliant green and bristling with rapier-like stalagmites. Heat tremors pulsed, as the whole were a vast roof too close under the eye of the sun. And below on the blasted acre under the beak the panting steam dashed out the supreme desolation—crumbling, elukery and over-parched; trailed away its smear of the dull rainbow hues of sulphur from grotesque mosaics. It was a puddling of slag fresh from that great furnace of the unknown fusing point, and how alien to the cold waves and winds of the subarctic!"

Brain Growth.

The brain usually stops growing at about fifty, and from sixty to seventy it is more likely to decrease. It has been related by Canon MacColl that Mr. Gladstone's head was constantly outgrowing his hats. As late as the Midlothian campaign, when he was nearly seventy, he was obliged to have his head remeasured for this reason. Canon MacColl's conclusion that the continual growth of brain contributed to Mr. Gladstone's perennial youthfulness appears not unwarranted.—London Spectator.

As It Happens.

They parted as girls; they met as women.

"And what of all your sweethearts?" asked the old time chum at length.

"Gone the way of all good things," answered the captivator.

"That tall, lanky blond with the fierce mustache, for instance?"

"Went insane!"

"Gracious! And Jimmie Bowles—the little muskrat, as you used to call him—who was so devoted?"

"Killed in an auto accident trying to save my life."

"Dear me! And your needy artist swain, who found in you the only customer for his wonderful paintings?"

"Became a waiter and married an heiress."

"And the kinky haired little French count?"

"Ran away with my maid!"

"Worse and worse! And how about Reggie? You did profess to love him, you know."

"Now my brother-in-law!"

"Never! Well, that Mr. Hardflint, who used to snub us all, yourself included? I hope he met his deserved finish."

"He did. Come up to the house and I'll introduce you to him. He's my husband!"—Young's Magazine.

FROREST ADDITIONS

A Proclamation Creating Additions to Trinity Forest.

SIGNED BY THE PRESIDENT

This New Land Brings Total Area of Trinity National Forest up to Nearly 1,600,000 Acres—Headquarters at Weaverville.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The President has signed a proclamation creating additions in the Trinity National Forest, California, amounting to 350,471 acres. The additions to the forest are contiguous tracts of timberland lying for the most part in Humboldt and Trinity counties, with smaller areas in Shasta and Tehama counties. This new land brings the total area of the Trinity Forest up to nearly 1,600,000 acres.

Valuable forests of yellow and sugar pine, incense cedar and a few small stands of redwood included in the additions are estimated to contain more than two and a quarter billion board feet of timber. The market value of this timber is $4,500,000. These forests have been neglected by lumber interests up to the present time because it was more profitable to exploit the valuable and more accessible redwood forests lying farther west.

These stands which have been put in the Trinity Forests constitute some of the most valuable virgin timber lying outside of the National Forests and the proclamation putting them under forest management will insure them against destruction and at the same time make them produce a permanent supply of timber for the development of the rich mines in this section and the uses of the settlers. There are various agricultural and dairying communities within and around the forests and the protection of the forests slopes will insure a steady and abundant supply of water.

There are many opportunities for the development of light and power from the numerous streams which have their source in this region. An added advantage coming from the proper management of the forest will be the protection of the drainage basin of Upper Mad River, and the probable checking of floods, which are frequent because of the deforested watershed.

Numerous small parks or "glades" afford excellent grazing for stock, and upon this local residents are largely dependent. Large numbers of stock enter this country for summer grazing, coming from distant points, hence, in order to protect the settlers, it is important that grazing should be properly regulated, both with a view to the best development of the range, and the proper protection of the watershed. These additions will be put under administration immediately, with Supervisor F. H. Hafley in charge. The headquarters of the Trinity Forest is at Weaverville.

SOOTHES AND HEALS.

Hyomei Gives Quick Relief in Catarrh Troubles.

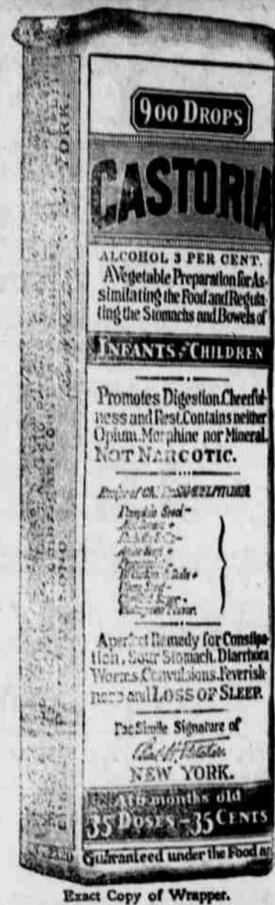

Be wise in time and use Hyomei at the first warning of catarrhal troubles.

Do not let the disease extend along the delicate mucous membrane, gradually going from the nose to the throat thence into the bronchial tubes, and then downward until the lungs are reached and you are in danger of consumption.

Hyomei will cure all curable forms and stages of catarrh. It is so uniformly successful in curing this common yet dangerous disease that T. F. Laurin takes all the risk of a trial treatment.

There is no other treatment for catarrh that is like Hyomei or just as good. None can take its place, none give such quick and sure relief and at so little cost. Its medications is breathed through a pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, thus reaching the most remote cells of the air passages, killing the catarrhal germs and soothing and healing the irritated mucous membrane.

Begin the use of Hyomei today and you will soon find that the offensive breath, the droppings into the throat, the discharge from the nose and all other symptoms of catarrh are overcome and cured. The complete outfit costs but $1.00 and T. F. Laurin stands ready to refund the money if it does not cure catarrh.

The Palace Restaurant.

The ever-increasing popularity of the Palace Restaurant is evidence of the good management, and the service, at this popular dining room. For a long time the reputation of the house has been of the best and it does not wane as time progresses. The system used, that of furnishing the finest the market affords, and all can be obtained, in season, is a plan that will always win, coupled as it is with the best of cooking and prompt service. A common saying nowadays is "Get the Palace habit."

The Commercial.

One of the coziest and most popular resorts in the city is the Commercial. A new billiard room, a pleasant sitting room and handsome fixtures all go to make an agreeable meeting place for gentlemen, there to discuss the topics of the day, play a game of billiards and enjoy the fine refreshments served there. The best of goods are only handled, and this fact being so well known, a large business is done at the Commercial, on Commercial street, near Eleventh.
