French Bark Hoche Makes Port From Honolulu.

ROSE CITY SAILS TOMORROW

Roanoke Off This Morning Early—British Bark Calluna Crosses in and Brodick Castle Reported Outside—Steamship Tungus Due Down.

The French bark Hoche, Captain Remet, 21 days from Honolulu, crossed in yesterday noon after a quick and uneventful trip, and was anchored off Tongue Point, to await towage to the metropolis, where she will load grain for the U. K.

The steamer Alliance arrived in from Coos Bay yesterday morning at 7 o'clock and after berthing at the Callender dock for a while, went on up the river.

The steamship Breakwater came down the river early yesterday morning and went out on her way to Coos Bay with good business in cabin and hold.

The steamer Yosemite arrived down from Rainier early yesterday morning with 850,000 feet of lumber for San Francisco, and stopped at the Callender docks for water, proceeding to sea at once.

The steamer Nome City is billed to arrive at the Callender pier this afternoon from San Francisco.

The steamer Atlas did not get to sea until 2 p. m. yesterday afternoon on her return trip to California.

The British steamer St. Egbert which should have been here yesterday from Portland on her way to the Orient, got mixed up in her sailing hours, and will not be here till today sometime.

Word comes from Portland that Captain Anderson, of the Henry Villard, has resigned and will make a trip to his Norwegian home for a few months, and his command will be taken over by Captain Davidson, who was to have taken the Emily Reed had she entered port from Australia. Captain Davidson used to command the Reed and is well and happily known in these waters. The Henry Villard is under charter to the Alaska Fishermen's Packing Company of this city for the season of 1908 at Nushagak.

The steamship Vanguard, Captain Brulin, will leave Portland tomorrow for Vladivostok, and Chinese ports, laden with flour, lumber and general merchandise.

The schooner Virginia is due down from Goble today, lumber laden for San Francisco.

The steamer Hanalei is due down from Portland this morning on her way back to the Bay City, and will dock at the Calander for freight and passengers.

The German bark Nal is on the way down the river and should anchor in this harbor sometimes this forenoon.

The Norwegian steamship Tungus is due to arrive down from Portland today, with 760,000 feet of lumber for the Orient and she will sail on the first available tide and bar.

The steamship Rose City will dock at the O. R. & N. pier at 11:30 to-night, and will sail thence for San Francisco at 6:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The steamship Roanoke, Captain Dunham, is due at the Callender dock early this morning and will sail for Eureka, San Francisco and Los Angeles, at 5:30 o'clock sharp.

Charlie Mitchell, dock master at the Callender, "has got it in the neck" and don't know what to call it. It's either a boil, tonsillitis, or the rheumatism, but all the same it hurts. All communications with Mr. Mitchell, preferably, by long distance telephone for the present.

The British ship Brodick Castle is reported outside with Captain Leighton, of the bar pilots, on board. She is out of Sydney, Australia, and has made a very slow passage of it. Captain Taylor is in command; and she is consigned to Hind, Rolph & Company. (Later—The Brodick Castle has entered port.)

The schooner Alvena is due down today from Portland, with lumber for the California coast.

Notice to Mariners.
Capt. J. C. Downing of American steamship "Portland" reported Feb. 15, 1908, in latitude 59 04 N. longitude 139 11 minutes W., passed a large tree with roots and branches attached, probably 100 feet long, looking at a distance of a few miles like a dismantled ship. John McNulty, nautical expert.

The Norwegian ship Colonna, Captain Birkland, 46 days out from Callao, in ballast, for Portland, crossed in at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. All well. She will go on to Portland on the first tow that offers, and will load flour at the Portland flour mills, for Europe.

The mail in this port for the revenue cutter McCullough has been ordered sent on to Neah Bay, where that vessel is at present stationed as relief for the cutter Thytis which is off to Alaska to pick up some wrecked Japanese sailors. On the return of the Thytis the McCullough will report here for duty.

COLLEGE PROFESSORS.
Higher Salaries For University Professors, Says Pres. Schurman.

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Higher salaries for university professors were urged by President Jacob Gould Schurman of Cornell University in a talk last night at the annual banquet of the Chicago Cornell Alumni Association.

President Schurman also advocated a more liberal education for lawyers and students in the technical branches of learning.

He asserted higher salaries for the teaching profession were imperative if the best brains of the country were to be kept in the universities.

Following President Schurman's speech Professor James Parker Hall, who was toastmaster, suggested that the Cornell Alumni all over the country contribute to a fund for pensioning superannuated professors.

Wm. H. French, a trustee of the University, urged the alumni to contribute $10 each to help wipe out the annual deficit of the institution.

REASON ENTHRONED.
Because meats are so tasty they are consumed in great excess. This leads to stomach troubles, biliousness and constipation. Revise your diet, let reason and not a pampered appetite control, then take a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will soon be well again. Try it. For sale at Frank Hart and leading druggists.

DATE CHANGED.
NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—The Hudson-Fulton celebration committee yesterday decided to change the date of their celebration from September 16 to September 25, 1908. The object of the change is to insure the probability of good weather. The celebration will cover eight days or more.

Save Money by buying Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

You will pay just as much for a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as for any of the other cough medicines, but you save money in buying it. The saving is in what you get, not what you pay. The sure-to-cure-you quality is in every bottle of this remedy, and you get good results when you take it. Neglected colds often develop serious conditions, and when you buy a cough medicine you want to be sure you are getting one that will cure your cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy always cures. Price 25 and 50 cents a bottle. For sale by Frank Hart and leading druggists.

An article on Abraham Lincoln says: "Time has given us some proper conception of the repose and strength of his nature." Ample strength, and a repose that never failed. A grand combination, and not only America but the world sees it.

NEW THEORY IS RAPIDLY SPREADING OVER COUNTRY

L. T. Cooper's theory concerning the human stomach, which he claims to prove, with his new medicine, is being given more respect and comment every day.

Cooper claims that 90 per cent of all ill health is due to stomach trouble. When interviewed about his theory recently, he said: "Stomach trouble is the great curse of the 20th century so far as the civilized races are concerned. Practically all of the chronic ill health of this generation is caused by abnormal stomachic conditions. In earlier days, when the race was closer to nature, and men and women worked all day out of doors, digging their frugal existence from the soil, the tired, droopy, half-sick people that are now so common, did not exist.

"To be sure, there was sickness in those days, but it was of a virulent character, and only temporary. There was none of this half-sick condition all the time with which so many are afflicted nowadays.

"I know positively that every bit of this chronic ill health is caused by stomach trouble. The human stomach in civilized people today is degenerate. It lacks tone and strength. This weakness has gradually come through a sedentary existence. I further know that few people can be sick with the digestive apparatus in perfect shape. The sole reason for my success is because my New Discovery medicine tones the stomach up to require strength in about six weeks' time. That is why I have had more people come and thank me wherever I have gone to introduce my medicine, than I have had time to talk with."

Among the immense numbers of people who are now strong believers in Cooper's theory and medicine is Mrs. M. E. Delano, a prominent resident of the suburb of Brookline, Boston, Mass. She says: "For several years I was broken in health, caused primarily by stomach and nerve troubles. I gradually became worse, until recently I was compelled to go without solid food for days at a time. I had sour stomach, palpitation of the nerves of stomach and heart, dyspepsia, and extremely nervousness. I suffered terribly with insomnia, and my liver, bowels and whole system gradually became deranged. I felt instant relief the first day I began this Cooper medicine. I now feel like a new being, shopping—something I have not done for years.

"I make this statement wholly from a sense of duty. I feel I owe it to anyone who might find relief and renewed happiness as I have done."

The record made by the Cooper medicines is astonishing. We will take pleasure in discussing it with anyone who wishes to know about them.

NATIVE ESKIMO CLOTHES.

Light in Weight, Soft in Texture and Absolutely Cold Proof.

When winter set in and Eskimos began to visit the ship, it soon became apparent that they were much better clothed to meet the cold than were the white explorers, though the latter had everything that money could command in the way of "an approved arctic outfit." The Finnish boots, or "Finnskor," used by Nansen and other arctic explorers, were excelled both in lightness and warmth by the native boots. A single fur coat of deerskin made in Norway weighed as much as an entire Eskimo suit of outer and inner garments, with boots and mittens included, and was stiff as wet sailcloth, while the native garments were soft as a kid glove. A well made Eskimo suit—socks and boots, underwear, trousers and coat with hood—weighs ten or eleven pounds, about as much as your spring suit, and in it you could sit comfortably on a block of snow, with your back to the wind, fishing through a hole in the ice, with a temperature of 50 degrees F., as the writer has repeatedly done, feeling cold nowhere but on the face, the only part of the body that must be left uncovered. We found a deerskin shirt with the hair turned in warmer, lighter and more comfortable than a woolen, and a cap unnecessary when the hooded coat is worn. There was not an item of the arctic clothing that was not advantageously replaced by garments bought from the Eskimos. No one wore garments of European make if he was able to get his hands on the Eskimo equivalent.—V. Stefanson in Harper's Magazine.

SPEAKING PLAINLY.

The Judge's Request and the Counsel's Prompt Response.

A young and afterward distinguished attorney from an up country district of New York state was arguing his first appeal in the old general term of the supreme court. He had been in many legal scimmages in justices' courts at home, but had never stood in the awesome presence of five sedate and learned judges of the supreme court in general term assembled. His embarrassment was great. He repeated himself and misplaced his words so often that it was quite evident that he must soon be routed by his own confusion unless something should occur to break the spell. Finally, and just as he was floundering the deepest in a chaotic jumble of language and ideas, the presiding judge interrupted with the following remark:

"Mr. Smithers, I believe it will be a great relief to yourself and to the court if you will address us in the same free and informal way that you doubtless use in addressing your local justice of the peace."

"Well, then," replied Smithers, "I wish that while I am busy alleviating your honor's dense ignorance of the law you would keep your confounded mouth shut!" The court laughed heartily and waved for him to proceed. He grew eloquent and won his case in the midst of hearty applause.—Bohemian Magazine.

Now and Then.
She—You love me, then? He—I love you now. She—Ah, well! I suppose if a woman can get a man to love her now and then she should be contented? —Fair Journal.

Very Considerate.
He—Did you tell your father, darling? She—I told him I was engaged, dear, but not to whom. He is not well, and I thought I would break it to him gradually.—Life.

The Palace Restaurant.

The ever-increasing popularity of the Palace Restaurant is evidence of the good management, and the service, at this popular dining room. For a long time the reputation of the house has been of the best and it does not wane as time progresses. The system used, that of furnishing the finest the market affords, and all can be obtained, in season, is a plan that will always win, coupled as it is with the best of cooking and prompt service. A common saying nowadays is "Get the Palace habit."

The Commercial.

One of the coziest and most popular resorts in the city is the Commercial. A new billiard room, a pleasant sitting room and handsome fixtures all go to make an agreeable meeting place for gentlemen, there to discuss the topics of the day, play a game of billiards and enjoy the fine refreshments served there. The best of goods are only handled, and this fact being so well known, a large business is done at the Commercial, on Commercial street, near Eleventh.
