Hassalo Meets With Accident Near Altoona Landing.

VERBENA IN FROM VALPARAISO

Senator Sails Early This Morning Navigator Out With Monterey For California—Bougainville Due Down Today—Other Waterfront Notes.

At 8 o'clock yesterday morning the fine steamer Hassalo, of the O. R. & N. Company's Astoria-Portland service, blew her port cylinder head out, at a point just this side of Altoona. Luckily no one was injured, and the only damage aside from the ruined head, was the smashing of the piston bar where it joins the crank at the axle of the great stern-wheel. The steamer had a number of passengers on board, and in a few moments after the smash, she was pluckily wending her way up stream, landing her people, and taking on new passengers, by means of her boats. She limped her way into Portland late last night and the steamer T. J. Potter will leave out tomorrow in her place, and if she can be gotten in readiness, may come out tonight.

The steamship Geo. W. Elder broke the commercial ice in this port yesterday by an early departure out for her California ports. She carried good business above and below.

The French bark Bayard came down the river on the hawsers of the Harvest Queen early yesterday morning, and went to sea, and Europe, on the afternoon flood, with Captain Poivet on the bridge, and the bar tug Wallula at the sea end of the tow line.

The British ship Leyland Bros., 48 days out from Valparaiso, crossed in yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, with Captain Morganon the bridge, and went to an anchorage in the stream. She is to load grain out of Portland and will go up on the first tow that offers.

The Nerius, Brodick Castle, Strathblane, Largiemoire, and Verbena are all in this port awaiting despatch to Portland, or to local docks, for discharge, or cargo.

The Harvest Queen, the best thing that floats in the service of the O. R. & N. in these waters, went up the river yesterday afternoon, with the French vessels Moliere and Mareschal Davout on her hawsers, and did it in fine shape.

Portland people are inclined to find fault with the handsome tender Columbine on account of her black hull, and Astoria agrees with them precisely. It was a mistake, so far as her appearance went, to change from snowy white to dismal black; but the presumption if she was painted black on account of the ease with which her white hull soiled and to mitigate the work incident to the former color.

The French bark Pierri Loti is due down this morning with the Oklahama's tow line stringing out ahead of her. She is wheat laden for the United Kingdom and will take the earliest despatch possible after arriving here.

There was another collision in Portland's mimic harbor on Thursday; two river steamers, the Pomona and Ottawa finding it difficult to pass each other in the "two-yump" channel. No great damage resulted, however.

The San Francisco-Portland (-Astoria) steamship Senator is due to sail from the O. R. & N. piers this morning at an early hour, for San Francisco. Captain and Mrs. Kessel, of the late, lamented Emily Reed, will be passengers for the Bay City, as will Frank J. Reynolds.

The crew of the revenue cutter Hugh McCulloch, 68 in all, were paid off by Chief Deputy Collector of Customs, Frank L. Parker, yesterday, the sum of $3000 being distributed among them, and apparently all of them who could be spared from the vessel, were ashore and having a good time. The McCullough has been requested by the owners of the overdue schooner George Watson, now 27 days out from San Francisco, for Shoalwater Bay, to patrol the coast north of North Head in search of her; and she will leave out on this errand at 12 o'clock today.

The dandy sea tug Navigator came down from Portland yesterday at 3 o'clock, with the oil barge Monterey on her hawsers and proceeded to sea without any delay here, except to slow up for a bar pilot, off the Flavel dock.

It was reported on the waterfront yesterday afternoon that Captain James Keating has sold the motor launch Eagle for the sum of $400.

The French bark Bougainville, Captain Le Troquer, is due down from Portland this morning on the tow lines of the Oklahama; and she will take the earliest despatch to sea and Europe.

The British ship Verbena, Captain Lee, 46 days from Callao, crossed in yesterday, and is at anchor in the lower harbor. She will go Portland today on the Oklahama.

The British ship Largiemoire is alongside the coal dock and bucketing black diamonds over the side in good shape, and will probably have the 1600 tons landed by Monday night; and then she will hasten to the metropolis to discharge the balance, and begin loading outward.

The Lurline will be tied up under general repair for another week or ten days; but the Undine is filling her schedule in ample shape and fashion and make-good in all ways. She went up the river last evening with excellent business on both decks.

A severe cold that may develop into pneumonia over night, can be cured quickly by taking Foley's Honey and Tar. It will cure the most obstinate racking cough and strengthen your lungs. The genuine is in a yellow package. T. F. Laurin, Owl Drug Store.

Card of Thanks

The Palace Restaurant.
The ever-increasing popularity of the Palace Restaurant is evidence of the good management, and the service, at this popular dining room. For a long time the reputation of the house has been of the best and it does not wane as time progresses. The system used, that of furnishing the finest the market affords, and all can be obtained, in season, is a plan that will always win, coupled as it is with the best of cooking and prompt service. A common saying nowadays is "Get the Palace habit."
The Commercial.
One of the coziest and most popular resorts in the city is the Commercial. A new billiard room, a pleasant sitting room and handsome fixtures all go to make an agreeable meeting place for gentlemen, there to discuss the topic of the day, play a game of billiard and enjoy the fine refreshments served there. The best of goods are on hand, and this fact being so well known, a large business is done at the Commercial, on Commercial street near Eleventh.
