EXCITING AUTO RIDE

CHICAGO, Mar. 10.—A despatch to the Tribune from Saginaw, Mich., says:

Fifty miles in an automobile over honey combed and melting ice that threatened to give way every foot of the last 15 miles, was the thrilling experience of Edward Dean Saginaw and John Milwice, an old time pilot of Sebewaing who made a seven-hour trip from the latter place over Saginaw Bay and up the river to this city. Leaving Sebewaing in a twelve horsepower machine, the travelers had exhilarating sport for 20 miles. Then they became lost and but for a compass which the old pilot found in his pocket there is no telling where they would have landed. They were out of sight of land and many miles out on the bay.

They encountered numerous ice jams and snow drifts twenty feet high. Frequently they bridged chasms with frail planks, and often these cracks and drifts compelled wide detours.

"The real excitement, however," said Dean, "came after we left Bay City, up the bay. The honeycombed ice cracked all the way. There was open water on both sides of us much of the way and we were powerless to reach shore."

For Diseases of the Skin.

Nearly all diseases of the skin such as eczema, tetter, salt rheum and barbers' itch, are characterized by an intense itching and smarting, which often makes life a burden and disturbs sleep and rest. Quick relief may be had by applying Chamberlain's Salve. It allays the itching and smarting almost instantly. Many cases have been cured by its use. For sale by Frank Hart and leading druggists.

A HARD FALL.

Jacob H. Schiff, on the way to Egypt on the Caronia, was criticizing, in the smoker room, the tenor singing of a young man who gave, all by himself, a little musicale every night after dinner.

"With a voice like that," said Mr. Schiff, "one is apt to meet with extraordinary experiences. I have a friend with a voice like that, a young broker. For his Christmas holidays my friend made a little tour of England, visiting many quaint old houses, many picturesque churches.

"One Sunday he went to church in Salem or Gloucester or some such place, and lifted up his tenor voice in the hymns and responses with a favor and force that made the congregation stare.

"Pleased with the attention he attracted, my friend threw back his head, puffed out his chest, and abandoning the last vestige of restraint, sang with all his might and main. A high note was approaching. He collected his powers to meet it. They were staring now—well, he would give them something to stare for. What a glorious thing this congregational singing was. He must have more of it. Every Sunday, on his return to New York—

A heavy hand fell on his shoulder. He turned with a start, and saw the sexton, an old, bent man, glowering at him.

"Here, young feller, hold yer noise," said the sexton, in a wheezy whisper audible all over the building. "We pay people to do that here."

A GREAT SMOKER.

A Pittsburg millionaire, said at a dinner:

"I lunched with Sir Thomas Lipton at the Ghezireh Palace in Cairo just before he set out for his tea plantation in Ceylon, where the ex-Empress Eugenie was to visit him.

"When the coffee and Tarragone came on, I opened my gold case and offered Sir Thomas a beautiful aromatic cigarette fresh from the factory down the street.

"No, thank you," said he. "I am, with one possible exception, the biggest smoker in the world, but never smoke cigars nor cigarettes."

"What do you smoke?" said I.

"Bacon," he answered.

NOT AN IDEAL JUROR.

During the selection of the Thaw jurors, Martin W. Littleton, the brilliant defender of the young millionaire told at luncheon a story about a jurymen.

"It was in the far West," he said, "in the distant days before our western percentage of illiteracy had fallen to be the lowest in the world.

"A juror had been selected in a murder trial, and they were about to swear him in, when the judges, to be on the safe side, bethought himself to say to the man:

"I trust, sir, you fully understand the duties and responsibilities of a juror?"

"I'm a plain chap, and I believe in being fair to all. I don't go by what the lawyers say, and I don't go by what the judge says; but I look carefully at the prisoner in the dock, and I say to myself: 'He must have done something or he wouldn't be here,' so I bring 'em all in guilty."

GETTING ROUND IT.

A Chicago physician said the other day of the late Dr. Nicholas Senn, the celebrated surgeon:

"I studied under Dr. Senn when he was professor of surgery at Rush Medical College. I remember how, one day, he asked me a question that I did not know, and, in order to hide my ignorance, I gave an ambiguous answer.

"Dr. Senn smiled.

"He said I reminded him of a schoolboy, taking a written examination in history, came to the question:

"Which was the greatest general, Caesar or Hannibal?"

"The boy answered this question as follows: 'If we consider who Caesar and Hannibal were, and ask ourselves which of them was the greatest, we must unhesitatingly answer in the affirmative.'"

PORTLAND MARKETS

Latest Quotations in the Portland Market.

Complete Market Reports Corrected Each Day Giving the Wholesale Prices of Commodities, Farm Produce, and Vegetables.

PORTLAND, March 10.—Further shipments of California butter to this market are expected within a few days, and it is quite probable that local prices will be put down this week in order to meet the competition from the South. This is the season of flush production in California, and it is always a few weeks earlier than that of Oregon. As yet there is no serious accumulation of Oregon stocks here, but production is steadily increasing and the necessity of a lower price is generally felt in the trade.
