AUDUBON SOCIETY
Dying Birds to Be Defended Throughout the Land.
LAST STAND FOR GAME BIRDS
 From January First on to a Reasonable Open Season in the Fall is the Period in Which Protection is to be Asked for Mating Birds.

NEW YORK, Mar. 19.—Until all mating birds of spring may fly from their winter homes to the north to rear their young, safe from the pot shots of unsportmanlike and market hunters, a national campaign against spring shooting will be carried from state to state, it was announced here to-day. Acting on the protests of sportsmen and the warning of the Department of Agriculture, the National Association of Audubon Societies has undertaken to make a last stand for the existence of the dying races of American game birds in every state in which shooting during the breeding season is not forbidden by law. In Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New Jersey and Oklahoma a determined fight is to-day being carried against the commercial interests which are organized to fight the movement.

That the most desperate measures have been taken by the men who butcher birds for the market to prevent protective legislation in these states as well as the twenty others in which the law still leaves the game birds easy prey while breeding, is known to-day. Although this market lobby has always been active in opposing laws which threatened to curtail their gains in any particular state, the possibility of such a general protection throughout the country has aroused them to finance a widespread and unscrupulous fight. To pit against this rich and selfish interest, the Audubon workers have simply the moral support of sportsmen and the general unselfish desire of the people to save the game birds from extinction.

From January first on to a reasonable open season in the fall is the period in which protection is to be asked for the mating birds and their young. In fifteen states and nine Canadian provinces the game birds are already shielded by law during this crucial time. Unless such measures are taken at once by the remaining states the government authorities have agreed that game shooting in this country will soon cease to exist and every species become extinct.

On the legislatures in the Dakotas, Wyoming, Iowa, Nebraska, New Mexico, Illinois, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Texas, Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas and all the southern states will depend the life or death of American game when this matter is brought before them this year or next. In each of these states all the money and influence of the commercial bird killers, is already at work for their short-sighted policy of exterminating slaughter for to-morrow's table.

CHICAGO RESIDENT RELATES MOST GREWSOME EXPERIENCE

During L. T. Cooper's recent visit to Chicago, where his new preparation and theory created the usual sensation, many hundreds of people brought enormous internal parasites to the young man, which had left the system after taking his medicine. Among these people was Mr. Emil Winkler, who brought to Cooper a tapeworm that proved to be over 90 feet in length. Mr. Winkler, who resides at 182 East Ohio street, Chicago, had this to say of his experience: "For five years I have been more or less complaining. I have had severe headaches, and any food that I would eat would nauseate me. I would have bad dreams almost every night; dizzy spells would compel me to quit work. Black spots would appear before my eyes when stooping over and rising quickly. I would feel tired most of the time; in fact, I had no life in me to speak of for the last five years. I tried various treatments, and one physician in St. Louis was recommended to me, and I was under his treatment some time, but as usual I obtained no relief. "So many people asked me to try Cooper's preparation that I decided to do so, and after using it for a few days, this awful thing passed from my system. I feel much better already, and I want to say right here that I thank Mr. Cooper a hundred times for what his medicine has done for me. I would not take $5000 and have that thing back in my system again."

Mr. Winkler is a fair sample of the experience of many during Cooper's stay in Chicago, and this no doubt helped to account for the enormous sale of the Cooper preparation in this city and others, recently visited by the young man.

We sell and will be pleased to explain the Cooper preparations.—Chas. Rogers & Son.

liam Dutcher, president of the association at its headquarters, 141 Broadway, to-day. "We will make our stand for these game species just as faithfully as we have worked for the protection of the non-game birds. If every patriotic citizen will take his place with us to defend the birds against rapid extinction, we shall be equipped to oppose all the selfish interest that money can buy and the gruesome story of the wild pigeon, the heath hen, the Eskimo curlew and the Carolina parakeet species, exterminated by the wasteful greed of man, will not be repeated."

SENSATIONAL THREATS
 CHICAGO, Mar. 19.—It became known yesterday that sensational letters threatening a novel and hideous form of assassination have been received lately by Mayor Busse, Chief of Police Shippy and Assistant Chief Schuetzler. The letters inclosed a dozen or more small steel points. They were smooth, bright and sharp. The letter to the mayor was written in a good, regular hand and couched in grammatical, if terrible, terms. The writer said he was one of a number of persons banded together to kill the mayor and other officials. A revolver, he said, had been constructed to shoot cartridges composed of steel points, samples of which were inclosed. The shooting would be noiseless, and the steel points, the writer says, were steeped in deadly poison. By means of this gun a dozen of fatal poison could be shot in the system of the intended victim and death would ensue at once.

OLD BELLS MADE NEW.
 The Only Way to Restore a Cracked Bell is to Re-cast It.

Every once in a while some one somewhere wants to know how to restore the tone of cracked bells. It is not usually a question of economy either, but often one of affection, for each bell has an individuality of tone that no substitute can replace to those who have heard it as a familiar voice through many years. Discussing this subject in its April number Popular Mechanics magazine states: "Every attempt so far made to restore the tone of cracked bells has proved unsuccessful. In many instances the cracks have been filed and sawed out and hot bell metal has been poured in, but the results have been the same. Bell metal is an alloy composed of 75 per cent copper and 25 per cent tin.

"The only way the tone of a cracked bell can be restored is by recasting it," says the manager of the McShane Bell Company. "There have been any number of experiments made by those claiming to restore the tone in various ways, but these experiments have never been successful."

"The same assertion is made by Chester Meneely, of the Meneely Bell Company, who says that the hot bell metal will not fuse properly and the cracks appear after a few blows have been struck with the hammer."
