that his measure will yet become law. SALEM, Or., March 31 .- Based on the findings that there is no increase in the present commodity rates between Portland and points in the state of Oregon either by way of cancellation of present commodity rates or direct increase, the Railroad Commission today gave its decision Chairman Westgate Calls Body to justify any act by the Federal Before the House Committee on continued their attacks on the buin the case of the Portland Champer of Commerce against the O. R. & N. Company, in which a sweeping reduction is made in the distributive rates between Portland and points east of The Dalles, but the rates between Portland and The Dalles are not disturbed. The plaintiff is given permission to reopen the proceedings should it see fit. The reduction of rates is made upon the folowing basis, according to class: "Between Portland and points east of The Dalles within the state of Oregon the first-class rates should be ascertained as follows: Reduce the present rates by an amount equal to G. INDIANAPOLIS, March 31 .--Two hundred and fifty thousand picks will be dropped from the hands of as many bituminous coal miners of the United States this afternoon not to be used again until a wage settlement has been reached between the members of the United Mine Workers of America and the coal operators. The situation, however, does not indicate a prolonged strike. As an open Winter and industrial depression have left a large stock of coal on hand and the differences between the miners and operators is very slight. It is practically agreed that the present wage scale will be continued, but there are some politics in connection with the change in the national officers of the miners' organization and this has resulted in a imporary suspension. -----

This nettled Hepburn. "Oh," said he, "I don't know that there is any power the gentlemen posses to make me fear any question he may ask."

Cushman made a vigorous reply to Hepburn. He held up a map showing that the states involved are all located in the Far West and said: "I think the gentleman would not look with such complacence on the forest service if that service should go into his State and take twelve or fifteen counties out of the middle of Iows and build a Federal fence around it." ..... He was not, he said, crying out against reasonable extension of the forest service, but charged it had been carried far beyond the point where it should go. Mondell's motion was lost. # CALL FOR FRIDAY APRIL 10th

The Time for Holding the State Republican Convention Is Left to the Committee and Probably Will Assemble Some Time in May.

PORTLAND, March 31 .- At last, lican State Committee decided to call the body together to set a date for the State convention. Westgate 10. The State committee will call the convention and aportion delegates.

The time of holding the State convention is left to the committee and it will probably be held some time in May. There was some fear that the convention would be held prior to the primaries, but owing to cent of first class. authorities whether there is authority for it or not so long as it was ascribed to the public interest. Teller quoted Secretary Root as saying that the States could not complain if the Federal Congress assumed to do what they failed to. He called attention to the President's expression regarding certain evils which "Congress ought to find a way" to remedy. The President's power is fully defined by the constitution and no "interpelation" should be made to extend to these powers. The fall of the confederations of states in the past, he said, resulted from a failure to recognize the rights of each of the states. Speaking of the Benton Dam bill regarding the Snake river, Washington, Teller said the right sought in that bill belonged to the State and the House committee which is innot to the Federal government. These embraced charges that the bureau had been created for timber monopolies in favor of large corporations, and illegally assumed jurisdiction over water rights belonging to the Western states, and juggled with figures in order to obtain large appropriations from Congress. The work of the bureau was vigorously defended by Hepburn, of Iowa, and Scott, of Kansas. Mondell also charged the committee on agriculture with being in a reckless state of mind when it allowed to the forestry bureau $100,000 more than had been estimated for. He charged Boat Company, was the only witness that being a lump sum it could be who testified this afternoon before used for any purpose, "including advertising," which statement was controverted by Scott, who read a letter from Secretary Wilson saying that the $100,000 was to cover unforseen items. Scott declared that the committee had prepared a very conservative bill.

Charging that the forestry bureau had contrary to its claim expended annually over a million dollars more than it received, Mondell said that the bureau goes on "year after year, juggling figures." He moved to strike out the paragraph of $500,000 "for the proper and economical administration, protecton and development of the natonal forests."

Hepburn vigorously criticised the "chirpings" against economy. As to the forest service, he claimed, the principal objection come from the committee of which Mondell is the head. ATTEL MUCH THE CLEVERER

The Little Hebrew Had the Best of It Up to the Ninth Round, When Nelson Broke Down His Heretofore Impregnable Guard.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31 .-With the disadvantage of at least eight pounds against him, Abe Attell, the champion featherweight of America, tonight fought Battling Nelson a fifteen-round draw. The fight was most spectacular and there was not one count that the crowd did not stand on its feet shouting for one man or the other. At the end of the contest both men were fairly deluged with blood, Nelson's face in particular presenting the worse sight. Attell had the advantage of all the earlier rounds. He matched his superior skill, agility, cleverness and fleetness of foot against the rugged and sturdier man and by outgeneraling his opponent bade fair to win a clear cut decision. The turning point came, however, in the ninth round. Nelson, who had been taking his punishment without a whimper, finally succeded in getting past the Hebrew's heretofore impregnable guard and once having paved the way, worked his man considerably. every acre of land in their states had In the fourteenth it looked as if Nelson would score a knockout, but Attel's wonderful cleverness and knowlgive the information to the commit- edge of ring trickery stood well intions were a number relating to the the round out.
