ROSENBERG REPLIES IN FULL

SECRETARY OF UNITED FISHERMEN OF PACIFIC COAST, ANSWERS A RECENT ATTEMPTED STRICTURE AS TO HIS STANDING.

"Astoria, Ore., April 17, 1908.
"Editor Astorian—My attention has been called to an anonymous communication signed 'A Fisherman,' which appeared in your issue of April 16th.

"As a rule I do not answer anonymous communications or for that matter even signed communications, attacking me personally. Life is too short to answer personal attacks made by men whose greed and unfairness as the executive officer of the United Fishermen I am working to offset. Life is also too short to answer attacks by the tools of our opponents or attacks made by men who are so constructed mentally that no matter what is being done by any body to advance the welfare of a cause, they must spit their venom at the men chosen to represent such cause.

"So when a screed, more or less of the same nature as the one printed in the Astorian, appeared in the Oregonian of March 4th, I treated it with silent contempt. Everyone knows that the Oregonian is fighting all initiative measures, including the bill to abolish fishwheels, hence no harm to true salmon protection could come from such a screed.

"But when, however, such matter is printed in an Astoria paper which is making a splendid fight for the bill to stop fishing at head of tide, it is due to the paper and the public generally that an answer be made, no matter how repulsive it might be to touch such dirt.

"The main charge is that 'Rosenberg did not have the matter as much at heart as one who is engaged in fishing for salmon.' Further that the packers, because 'the movement was so late as to endanger the welfare of this industry, were opposed to putting up money in the hands of Mr. Rosenberg.' . . . Likewise the geographical location of the committee is attacked and the absence at the mass meeting of outside members of the Columbia River Salmon Protective Association shown up as a weakness.

"Now as to laxity of interest on my part because I am not now actually engaged in fishing, can only say that as the Secretary of the United Fishermen of the Pacific, the federation of the local fishermen's unions of the Pacific Coast States and Alaska, my time is so occupied mainly with legislative work that of necessity I cannot go out in a fishing boat.

"As to the movement for removal of fishwheels having started late, that being the reason for non support on the part of the packers, wish to say that the leading packers last summer and fall were consulted about this measure and then thought well of it and promised support at the proper time. Since the date of the mass meeting Mr. Elmore has subscribed and another has given help but has withheld his name.

"In this connection I wish to state that my policy, when aiding legislative matters, always is to refuse the handling of the moneys needed for printing and other agitation purposes. This primary for the reason to have more time for the general work of presenting the matter before the public, and secondly so that no opponents of salmon protective legislation or any of their tools, can charge with the least appearance of truth, that Rosenberg is wasting the money contributed for such legislative work. My policy has been and is, that while acting in an advisory capacity in any locality where my work carries me, that the officers of the local union, or as in this instance, the officers of the Columbia River Salmon Protective Association, and since the mass meeting on April 10th, properly elected local committees of citizens, attend to the financial part of this work. Any money now received or disbursed for salmon protective legislation is in charge of the committee of which Mayor Wise is chairman, J. H. Whyte secretary, and S. S. Gordon, president of First National Bank, treasurer.

"As to non attendance at the mass meeting of outside members of the Columbia River Salmon Protective Association, only this need be said: There was no special need for these men to leave their business in the different parts of the State and come to Astoria to tell the people of Astoria how necessary is salmon protection. The people here know it and showed fully at the meeting how earnest they are about this matter. Besides, telegrams from Judge McBride and District Attorney Hedges left no doubt as to the support non-resident members of the Columbia River Salmon Protective Association are willing to give to Bill 332, the bill to stop fishing at head of tide, and how they feel about bill 318, the trick bill of the fishwheel owners.

"ED. ROSENBERG."

The public is cordially invited to the above service and entertainments.

MORE VICTIMS IN RUINS.
BOSTON, April 17.—Two more bodies were found in the ruins of the Chelsea fire making eleven bodies recovered. Two victims died in the hospital. The list of the missing is still large. It is feared that many persons perished.

SPOON-HOOK FOR FISHERS.
On the Pacific coast, particularly that portion of it lying around Catalina Island, where the tuna, black sea bass, and yellowtail attain to huge size and are noted for their gamey qualities, hundreds, possibly thousands of spoons are used every season. Of these a large portion are lost in the tangle of kelp which fringes the mainland and the island coasts. Spoons of the size used on the big fish of from 40 to 400 pounds weight cost about $1.60, complete and ready for attachment to the line. The average angler who goes after the game fish will find that his spoon account for one season will be close to $20.

A cheaper and better spoon hook has been invented. It consists of an ordinary table, or tea spoon, depending of course on the size of the fish for which the lure is intended. In the bowl of the spoon, down toward the tip, a hook is soldered securely, so that it stands upright from the bowl, the stem of the spoon forming the shank of the hook. A piano wire leader is attached to the hook by means of a hole drilled in the handle, and the spoon is ready for use. Drawn through the water at a rapid rate the bowl of this home-made spoon gives to the whole lure a peculiar rotating motion, unlike that of the regulation spoons, and this seems to be visible to the fish at a greater distance than the ordinary whirling flash of the average spoon. The cost of this spoon in the largest size is less than 35 cents, as compared to the $1.60 of the ordinary type.—Technical World Magazine.

the roomiest and lightest of the whole line-up; and in this pleasant place Norris Staples, Dr. Rosenberg and Howard Brownell served as judges of election, while C. T. Crosby and L. G. Stinson, with trained skill, did the clerky duties of the day. This polls being in the very heart of town was among the busy resorts of the anxious, inquisitive and interested throngs and presented quite a lively appearance for awhile. (Registration, 262.) O'Brien's Hotel, on Seventeenth street, was the fifth precinct headquarters for the day, and here Messrs. A. Scherneckau, Thomas Peterson and John Chitwood did judicial duty, while G. Zigler, A. R. Carruthers and David Smith kept the records of the day. Things were steady and quiet, but active withal, during the afternoon, and the results of the day showed that those engaged on the tallies had plenty to do. (Registration, 298.)

No. 3's engine house, on East Exchange street, as another busy center for electoral affairs all of yesterday afternoon, and a snug vote was taken in and recorded. The judges of the hour were Gust Holmes, Charles Amundson and W. E. Goodin, while the records fell to the capable hands of Charles Malagamba and Eric Gustafson. (Registration, 232.)

Max Young, R. M. Woodin and Axel Finney served as judges out at No. 7 yesterday and the records were kept with dispatch and neatness by J. A. Gamble, Emil Peterson and H. F. Kemp. There was a quiet, but very steady, flow of voters in and out of the old McGregor mess house during the seven hours devoted to the work of the day and there was no lack of interest displayed at that end of the city. (Registration, 233.)

The scattering vote for county central committeemen yesterday, when rounded up, shows the following choices in that behalf, by precincts, so far as the city vote is concerned:
In . . . 1—None chosen.
In No. 2—J. S. Dellinger, 1; A. E. Petersen, 15; F. J. Carney, 27; Chas. Wilson, 5; Thomas Linville, 8.
In No. 3—F. I. Dunbar, 49; Thomas Linville, 6; J. S. Dellinger, 9; and Joe Wilson, 2.
In No. 4—C. J. Curtis, 51.
In No. 5—Thomas Linville, 8; Daniel Welch, 25; Aug. Danielsou, 9.
In No. 6—W. E. Schimpff, 1; E. Gustafson, 10.
In No. 7—W. F. McGregor, 12.

AN INSIDIOUS DANGER.

One of the worst features of kidney trouble is that it is an insidious disease and before the victim realizes his danger he may have a fatal malady. Take Foley's Kidney Cure at the first sign of trouble as it corrects irregularities and prevents Bright's disease and diabetes. T. F. Laurin Owl Drug Store.

THE DISAGREEABLE JOB.

It is the man who can stick to the disagreeable job, do it with energy and vim, the man who can force himself to do good work when he does not feel like doing it—in other words the man who is master of himself, who has a great purpose, and who holds himself to his aim, whether it is agreeable or disagreeable, whether he feels like it or does not feel like it—that wins.

It is easy to do what is agreeable, to keep at the thing we like and are enthusiastic about; but it takes grit to try to put our whole soul into that which is distasteful and against which our nature protests, but which we are compelled to do for the sake of others who would suffer if we did not do it.

To go every morning with a stout heart, and an elastic step, with courage and enthusiasm, to work which we are not fitted for and were not intended to do, work against which our very natures protest, just because it is our duty, and to keep this up, year in and year out, require heroic qualities.

ENGLISH QUEENS.

The English queens have nearly always been fond of good cheer. Queen Anne was no exception. She was fond of holding profound culinary discussions with her cook, and English cookery books still contain many dishes "after Queen Anne's fashion."

The Commercial.

One of the coziest and most popular resorts in the city is the Commercial. A new billiard room, a pleasant sitting room and handsome fixtures all go to make an agreeable meeting place for gentlemen, there to discuss the topics of the day, play a game of billiards and enjoy the fine refreshments served there. The best of goods are only handled, and this fact being so well known, a large business is done at the Commercial, on Commercial street, near Eleventh.

The very best board to be obtained in the city is at "The Occident Hotel." Rates very reasonable.

The Palace Restaurant.

The ever-increasing popularity of the Palace Restaurant is evidence of the good management, and the service, at this popular dining room. For a long time the reputation of the house has been of the best and it does not wane as time progresses. The system used, that of furnishing the finest the market affords, and all can be obtained, in season, is a plan that will always win, coupled as it is with the best of cooking and prompt service. A common saying nowadays is "Get the Palace habit."

The Clean Man.

The man who delights in personal cleanliness, and enjoys his shave, shampoo, haircut, and bath, in Astoria, always goes to the Occident barber shop for these things—and gets them at their best.
