

Barrington Hall The Steel Coffee

Is just pure Mocha and Java prepared in a new way. The coffee berry is cut up (not ground) by knives of almost razor sharpness into small uniform particles. Thus it is not crushed, as by the old method of grinding, and the little oil cells remain unbroken. The essential oil (food product) cannot evaporate and is preserved indefinitely. This is one reason why a pound of Barrington Hall will make 15 to 20 cups more of full strength coffee than will any coffee ground the old way; why it excels all other coffee in flavor and why it will keep perfectly until used.

But the main thing about Barrington Hall Coffee is that it can be used without ill effect by those who find ordinary coffee injures them, because the yellow tanning-bearing skin and dust (the only injurious properties of coffee) are removed by the "steel-cut" process. A delicious coffee not a tasteless substitute.

DENUNCIATORY SPEECH

and greed, I defy your taunts. Tear to fragments my political career if it comport with your execrable will. Stifle and distort my utterance. Not satisfied, if such be your brutal frenzy, lash my poor form into insubility. Then if it be your further pleasure gnaw from my stiffening bones every vestige of quivering flesh. Howl in wretched bestiality through my innocent blood as it drips from your fiendish visages. Drag then if you want, what remains in the filth and vermin of your foul dens and burn it upon the altar of Baal or scatter it before the friendly winds of heaven to your betters—the carrion crows of the fields. All that they may do, all and more. If there yet be open further depth of infamy to a polluted, besotten press. These ready servants of greed, what have they not done or attempted to fasten still more securely an autocracy upon us? It seems to be their special function, not simply to pervert truth but to threaten and terrorize public men. Dare a senator align himself with the people? What? Yes, men, illustrious servants of the people have lifted honest voices here and elsewhere, against the march of plutocracy, to fall ambushed, politically assassinated, and by whom? By the trusts wearing masks. Ah, sir, newspaper masks. But, Mr. President, insignificant as I am, I, if my political career be marked, let them sharpen their blade, for I will be here at the appointed hour, and where here only God can stay my voice in behalf of organized united labor and the yeomanry of America.

The remainder of the day was given over to the consideration of a resolution by Senator Elkins suspending until January 1, 1910, the commodity clause of the Hepburn rate law. The resolution provoked so much debate and so many amendments were offered, that the whole matter went over till Monday, tomorrow, being given over to the eulogies of the late senators from Florida. In the meantime the Senate leaders hope to perfect a resolution that can be agreed upon Monday. The commodity clause went into effect today under which the railroads which haul inter-state commerce products in which the carriers interested are liable to the maximum fine of five thousands dollars for each offense. The Elkins resolution proposes to give the railroads 20 months additional time to divorce themselves from these properties.

IDENTIFICATION MEN.

To Assist San Francisco Police During Fleet's Visit.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—Lt. Wm. P. Sheridan, in charge of the bureau of identification of New York City and Detective Sergt. T. B. McNamee, of Washington, D. C., have arrived here and will remain in the city to assist the local police in identifying and classifying crooks during the visit of the Atlantic fleet.

ELECTING A POPE

A Glimpse of the Doings of the Cardinals

GIVEN BY CARDINAL LOGUE

You Know an Irishman Was Elected Pope But he Cut Away From Rome and Ran to the Distant Appenine Mountains.

NEW YORK, May 1.—A glimpse of the doings of the Cardinals, during the election of Pope Pius X, was given by Cardinal Logue, the Catholic prelate of Ireland and who is in New York for the exercises in the celebration of the 100th anniversary formation of the local diocese when he responded to the toast "The Holy Father" at the dinner of the alumni of the Old Irish Theological Seminary at Maynooth, which has sent many priests to this country.

"In that large collection of cardinals no one protested so much against the selection of the Patriarch of Venice as he did himself" said the cardinal. Had it been a warmer day he might have been chosen sooner than he was. The pope was overcome and frightened at the burden he would have to undertake. He was fainting.

"But these Italians" he said, referring to the Italian cardinals, "generally have conveniences about them. One of them went up to him with a bottle—a smelling bottle, I believe." When the laughter of the priests had subsided, the voice of the cardinal took on a subdued tone. "It was a warm night", he said. "The cardinal elected to be our holy father did not want the office. He had been a faithful priest and hard working man in his arch-diocese. He had worked among the poor and was accustomed to his labors. And to be the pope, he would have only a little garden to move about. I've never seen it."

"You know an Irishman was once elected pope, but he cut away from Rome and ran to the Appenine Mountains and found a cave for himself. He is there yet."

The laughter that greeted him called forth this explanation from the cardinal.

"It is a historical fact that I am telling you. If I were elected pope," he added, with a faint smile, "I think I would get out of a window and run away."

"It is a dangerous age for the holy father of the church. The church has its enemies above ground and working like moles under ground. But he can fight them above ground and under ground. I am over here without the permission of the holy father, which I should have secured. I was afraid that I would not get it, so I did not ask it. Maybe I shall see the holy father sooner than I desire."

Cardinal Logue closed with a priestly tribute of love and fidelity to Pius X, describing him as a saintly man chosen by God for his office.

SURPRISE SPRUNG.

Prosecution Quashes Indictments Against Green.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—The prosecution in the case of Abraham Ruef sprung its first surprise today when Assistant District Attorney Heney moved for the dismissal of the 14 indictments against A. J. Green, the president of the Parkside Realty Company, a co-defendant of Ruef, in order that Green might testify against the former political boss. Counsel for the defendant strongly objected. Judge Doling overruled the objection and ordered Green's discharge. Green visibly showed his relief and acknowledged his willingness to testify.

Walter B. Cope, president of the San Francisco Bar Association, testified today as to Ruef's demand for a fee of forty to fifty thousand dollars if employed by the Parkside Realty Company to secure the desired franchises through the board of supervisors.

$5000 HAUL IN JEWELRY STORE

TACOMA, May 1.—Three unknown men yesterday entered the jewelry store of Frank C. Hart and while the attendants were in a back room, stole a wallet containing $5000 worth of diamonds and other precious stones and made their escape.

PITIFUL PLIGHT.

Husband in an Asylum—Wife is Detained.

CHICAGO, May 1.—While John Moulds raves in the Dunning asylum and calls constantly for his wife, she is detained at the immigrant station in Boston because she is an alien and cannot show that she is able to support herself.

She arrived yesterday on the Saxonian in response to a cablegram from the Chicago police informing her of the condition of her husband who came to this country from England three years ago and went to work here. Moulds made good wages as an expert machinist and besides supporting his family of nine children in England managed to save $500. Four weeks ago he took his money out of the bank and bought a ticket for home. That night he was beaten and robbed. He never recovered from the assault and became insane and was sent to Dunning. Not hearing from him, his wife became alarmed and communicated with the Chicago police. Working on her information, they identified her husband, and two weeks ago they cabled her of his condition. She took the next steamer for this country. Her pitiful story aroused the immigration authorities and at their own expense they wired her friends. If they can guarantee that she will not become a public charge she will be allowed to come to Chicago for several months and then will be deported.

HOTEL THIEF.

Engages Rooms in High-Class Hotels and Robs Guests' Rooms.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—"Dr." W. W. Goelet, graduate of Columbia College, and traveler, who was married to a young society woman of Oakland four months ago, is in the Berkeley City Prison, charged with the burglary of eight residences and apartment houses in Oakland and Berkeley.

His name appeared on most of the hotel and apartment house registers as D. F. Wythe, an alias he acknowledged. The Berkeley police department has had Goelet under suspicion for the last two weeks, and by visiting the places robbed have obtained evidence that they believe will hold him on several charges.

Goelet's methods, according to the police, were to engage rooms in high class hotels and apartment houses, then plunder right and left. Some time ago he traveled with Benjamin Fay Mills, the pulpit lecturer, as Mills' private secretary. Goelet was compelled to leave Los Angeles under a cloud of charges of theft. He had also been secretary for Dr. Diddelwolfe, a noted evangelist. Goelet is 35 years old, a native of Virginia. His parents, it is said, live in Washington, D. C. He was in the Spanish American war, serving in the hospital corps in Cuba.

REFUSED TO BUY SWORD.

John D. Rockefeller says He is a Man of Peace.

NEW YORK, May 1.—John D. Rockefeller has refused to buy for $500 a sword sent by a young woman in England with the information that the weapon was carried by a soldier in Cromwell's famous "Ironsides" troopers and had been buried 150 years near a church. The writer said the sword was dug up 150 years ago. The ancient relics did not appeal to Mr. Rockefeller who declined it yesterday with the remark: "I am a man of peace and have no use for a sword."

Annie Parry sent the relic over. As Mr. Rockefeller refused to accept the sword it was sent to the seizure room of the customs service.

The sword is about three feet long, has a curved blade and has apparently had rough usage. If the sender does not endeavor to have it returned it will be sold next fall with other unclaimed merchandise.

STILL GRAFTING.

NEW YORK, May 1.—A story of a life saved by the grafting of the skin of live rabbits to a man's body was told in the trial in the supreme court in Newark, of the case of Antonio Maggio against the J. F. Ghasby Lumber Company, in which $30,000 damages are asked.

According to the testimony of Dr. Anthony d'Amoco of Newark, Maggio, who was badly scalded by the explosion of a glue melting machine in the lumber company's plant, was on the point of death when the grafting of the skin of live rabbits on his body saved his life. The operation took four hours. Maggio was laid up for six months and has since been a cripple.

ATTEMPT TO KIDNAP

The girl who so narrowly escaped being made a prisoner is Giovanna Ognebene, and she is remarkably well developed.

Salvatore Forestiere, aged 25 years, is charged with being the leader of the band of conspirators.

Those arrested with Forestiere are Basile de Stafano, Giuseppe Granata, Domenico Canole, Antonino Mauro and Ciro Forestiere.

The last three named, it is said by the police, arrived in Chicago a day or two ago from New York City. The police say they were sent for by Forestiere, to assist him in the kidnaping plot. One of the men is a brother of the principal conspirator. It required the combined efforts of several policemen to prevent the girl's father from wreaking vengeance on Forestiere at the central police station. A dozen times he leaped at the man as if he would strangle him, and the police had to drag him away.

Forestiere denies that it was a "Black Hand" plot, but admits he was intent on coercing the girl to marry him. It is an old Sicilian custom for a bridegroom to abduct the charmer.

LOST CONTROL OF CAR.

Trolley in Tacoma Goes Over Bank, Three Men Hurt.

TACOMA, May 1.—Car No. 17, in bound, on the Jefferson-avenue line of the Tacoma Railway & Power Co., got beyond control of Motorman A. W. Williams on a steep hill at South Twenty-seventh street and Jefferson avenue at 12.35 this morning, and plunged over a 200 foot embankment carrying with it Conductor H. J. Bond and E. G. Gordon, the only passenger aboard. Motorman Williams, as the car failed to take the curve near the foot of the hill, was pitched out of the door at the left side of the car, and thrown violently against a wooden blacksmith shop, but escaped serious injury.

The conductor and passenger remained inside the car as it took its plunge down the embankment and rested within a few feet of the Northern Pacific tracks. Bond received ugly scalp wounds, a deep cut near the outside corner of his right eye and a terrible shaking up. Gordon escaped miraculously with only a slight glass cut upon the hand. Both Bond and Gordon were sent to a hospital. The car turned over once in its descent. A wrecking crew has been out to demolish the wreckage.
