

YOUNG WOMEN

Young women are often great sufferers for want of proper advice at just the right time.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., has always issued to young girls a special invitation to write to her about their sickness. She is a mother, and fully understands.

In nine chances out of ten your case will be just the same as those of the young ladies whose letters follow.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

is what you need to restore health. Miss Abby F. Barrows, of Nelsonville, Ohio, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"When I wrote to you I was very nervous, had dull headaches, backache, and was very irregular. Doctors did me no good. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and your advice made me regular, well and strong. I am now in better health than ever before."

Miss Elsie L. Hook, of Chelsea, Vt., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I am only sixteen years old, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and your advice have cured me of sideache, periodic pains, and a nervous, irritable condition after everything else had failed."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, fatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

BUREAU OF REPUBLICS CORNERSTONE LAID

waters, which they have done for nearly a century the one craft flying the Union Jack and the other the Stars and Stripes. The only shots ever fired having been salutes expressive of amity and friendship. These have proved the most powerful vessels of war, the true Dreadnoughts, since they have kept the peace,—by discharging salves of good will.

"A nation has everything to dread from gigantic armed Dreadnoughts, nothing to dread from these true agents of peace.

"The is the first lessons this continent gives to the world and especially to Europe which is in the vortex of militarism, armed not against outside enemies, for the enemies of Europe are they of its own household.

"The second lesson comes from the South, our friends, of Argentine and Chile. Following the pernicious example of nations hitherto, these Republics struggled with each other until the better way was revealed. They then met and both conquered—by making peace, by offering the olive branch, not the sword. On the highest peak of the Andes upon the new boundary line agreed upon, these once warring powers have erected a statue of Christ, the Prince of Peace, cast out of molten bronze cannon, its pedestal bearing this inscription:

"Sooner shall these mountains crumble to dust than Argentines and Chileans break the peace which at the feet of Christ, the Redeemer, they have sworn to maintain."

"The third great lesson which this continent has just given to the world, coming from the centre, is that of the five small Central American nations whose representatives met in Washington recently and agreed upon the establishment of a Supreme Court, to which all differences which may arise between them shall be referred. All of these nations have promptly ratified the action of their representatives.

"Perhaps this is the most encouraging step forward that has yet been taken, for it promises to lead to the nation of these five nations, following the example of our own republic, converting a number of separate states into one nation with internal peace secured and perhaps pointing the way to the larger merger of all South American states into the counterpart of our own Union.

"These instances furnish the answer to the contention that nations, differing from individuals, cannot settle all differences without resorting to war.

"It remains for this hemisphere to maintain its lead in the adoption of arbitration as the only Christian means of settling international disputes. We hope that all of the republics in the South American continent will soon follow the example of Argentina and Chile and of the five Central American Republics with their own Supreme Tribunal.

"Judge from the progress made in this direction during the lives of those of us who have been in this work from the beginning, we can look with hope to the early realization of our dream, which is to secure to the American continents the reign of internal peace by substituting peaceful arbitration for war. We are justified in indulging the fond hope that the good work is to go on, and that before long a conference of all the Republics will be held which shall provide that all disputes arising between them are to be thus peacefully settled. At such conference we might even expect to see a representative from Canada, which I have no doubt her Motherland would warmly approve. In our first American conference I remember we began with sixteen republics and one monarchy—Brazil. There is a precedent, therefore, for Canada being represented in the next.

"We failed to obtain a judicial World Court at the Hague, but we should not fail in creating one for this Western Hemisphere. I may not live to see that day, but I shall die convinced that it is to come and thanking the kind fates that at least I was privileged to be one who sat at the first conference at which the effort was made the reasons for its failure have passed away and there are those today who hear my voice who will live to see this Western Hemisphere, following the illustrious example of Argentina and Chile, dedicated to internal peace.

"There is no work going forward in the world today which good men everywhere should regard with deeper interest and warmer approval than that in which the American Republics are now engaged. Let us then stand true to our ideal—the American continents dedicated to internal peace. In this sublime labor it thrills me to feel and to repeat that there is no people whose heads and hearts are more fully enlisted than the people of the United States, no ruler who will labor more zealously than the President, no Secretary of State who will study more deeply or advise more wisely than he who holds that office today. This work accomplished, to everyone who has contributed to it in the smallest degree there will come the assurance he has not lived his life in vain."

Messages of Presidents.

From President Figueroa Alceoria of the Argentine republic:

"The event so auspiciously celebrated in Washington is the erection of a monument to the international solidarity of the states of the new world. The Argentine Republic on this occasion sends greetings to the United States of America and to all the nations represented in the Bureau of the American Republics and best wishes for the happiness of President Roosevelt and the presidents of all the sister republics."

From Minister of Foreign Relations Pinilla of Bolivia:

"The President directs me to inform you that as he cannot be present at the laying of the cornerstone of the new building of the Bureau, he desires to express the gratification with which he takes part in that great event which represents the sincere union of the American republics."

From President Estrada of Guatemala:

"I am greatly pleased to send you on behalf of the people and the Government of Guatemala as well as personally the expression of cordiality and sincere congratulation on the occasion of the laying of the cornerstone of the building of the American republics which represents the consolidation of the fraternal relations of the American family."

From Secretary of Foreign Relations Mariscal of Mexico:

"The president sincerely wishes that the ceremonies of the laying of the stone of the Bureau of American Republics be as the bureau is symbolical of the hope that an era of unalterable peace shall be the characteristic feature of all the countries in our continent."

From President Zelaya of Nicaragua:

"My sincere and enthusiastic congratulation to the International Bureau of American Republics on this solemn occasion of the laying of the cornerstone of the building to the erection of which Mr. Carnegie has most nobly and bountifully contributed. I doubt not that this work will be a powerful and efficacious aid in effecting the fraternal coming-together of all the nations on the continent."

From President Pardo of Peru:

"On the occasion of the ceremonies to be held on the 11th instant, I desire to express the best wishes of the Peruvian nation that the great building to be erected may always commemorate peace, union and fraternal friendship among the republics of America."

From President Amador Guerrero of Panama:

"On the occasion of the laying of the cornerstone of the building which will represent in Washington the union of American Republics, I am happy to send to your excellency most sincere congratulations."

From President Willman of Uruguay:

"On the occasion of the laying of the cornerstone of the building of the American Republics please convey to the government of the great republics please convey to the government of the great republics of America my congratulations for the materialization of a new act which means the establishment of a new pledge of the moral solidarity of nations of America."

From President Alfaro of Ecuador:

"The President sends greetings on this solemn occasion to all the republics of America and more especially to the United States, on whose soil the building of the International Bureau is to be erected as permanent center of union and fraternity among the countries of the new world."

From President Figueroa of Salvador:

"I sincerely trust that the building of which the cornerstone is laid today will further develop the Plan-American fraternal sentiments existing among the sons of the continent, in harmony with the philanthropic generosity of Mr. Carnegie."

From President Penna of Brazil:

"Brazil rejoices at the laying of the cornerstone of the new seat of the union of American republics in Washington; who gives to the generous donor, Mr. Andrew Carnegie, her sincere thanks and full confidence in the future of the union, sends the assurances of her ancient and unalterable attachment to the great Republic of the North which offers it such noble hospitality."

From Minister of Foreign Relations Puga of Chile:

"The progress of Latin-America is assured in following the example of the great Republic created by George Washington."

From Acting President Euclides de Angule of Colombia:

"This monument very fittingly erected on the land of George Washington's birth shall stand for the fraternal and permanent union of all the American Republics."

From President Viquez of Costa Rica:

"The erection of the building of the American Republics which by the nature of the international institution which it represents and the munificence of Mr. Carnegie, equalizes the temple of peace at The Hague, is a further important step toward the unification of the happily existing fraternal relations which must bind more closely the nations on the continent of Columbus."

From Acting Secretary of State Garcia Valez of Cuba:

"The provisional government of the Republic of Cuba has directed me to express to the governing board of the institution on behalf of the government of Cuba, its gratification at this new bond between the Republics of America which will contribute to the furtherance of the cordial solidarity of the continent."

From President Caerres of the Dominican Republic:

"The same ideal of liberty and right should be the cornerstone of the international union of the American Republics. He who unites and harmonizes in America is a true American."
