Mae C. Wood Committed to Tombs Prison

NEW YORK, May 21.—Mae C. Wood, whose suit for absolute divorce from Senator Platt has been in trial for several days in the supreme court here. She was committed to the Tombs prison late tonight after Judge O'Gorman has dismissed the complainant in her actions and ordered her held in $5000 bail on the charge of perjury. The handwriting expert testified that in his opinion the body of the letter in which Platt was alleged to have admitted his relation as husband to the plaintiff was added after the senator's signature had been affixed. More telling still for the defense were depositions of engravers and stationers called by Platt's counsel, that the blank form upon which the alleged Platt-wood marriage certificate was made was not lithographed until three months after date upon which the marriage of Miss Wood to Senator Platt was alleged to have taken place. Miss Wood was called to the stand in rebuttal.

Platt's counsel then moved for the dismissal of the complaint. It was forthwith granted by O'Gorman who in rendering his decision said: "I cannot credit plaintiff's evidence as to the alleged marriage and the testimony as it impresses the court is that this is a most wicked design to support a false and fictitious claim by forgery and perjury." Forthwith he ordered Miss Wood committed to the Tombs on a charge of perjury, fixing her bail at $5000. She was obviously staggered by the sudden turn of affairs and the shock caused by the order of arrest which the court made. She quickly regained her composure, however, and by the time she reached the city had resumed her air of confidence which she held practically throughout the trial.

At the district attorney's office tonight it was said that Miss Wood's case would speedily be taken to the grand jury if the indictment was found. At a late hour Miss Wood had not been able to furnish bail she was remanded and was still locked up in the Tombs.

CONGRESS TAKES ACTION.

Will Give Subsidies to Ships Carrying Mail.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Congress took an important step today looking to the payment of ships subsidies, conferees on postoffice appropriation bill having agreed to accept an amendment by the Senate authorizing the postmaster general to contract with steamship lines running to ports of South America, Philippines, Japan, China and Australia, for carrying of mails and to pay vessels of the second class the same rate as is now paid to American vessels of first class to Europe, and vessels of third class, the rate now authorized for vessels of second class. There are no American lines of first-class to countries named and effect of this legislation will be to encourage the establishment of mail and passenger steamers to the ports of those countries.

CHICAGO, May 21.—A despatch to the Tribune from Kewanee, Ill., says: O. H. Loomis, aged 86 years, a pioneer business man, died yesterday. He had been a Sunday School superintendent longer than any other person in the world, according to recent investigations by church societies.
