IN FASHION'S REALM.

Lingerie to Match Gown—Long Sleeves on Wedding Costumes.

In Paris one can buy delicate rose colored lingerie to wear with one's rose gowns. A lovely set of white awn embroidered in forgetmenots, to go with a gown of Persian blue broadcloth, was recently made for a bride.

The latest underwear for the new light skirts beggars description. Bulkiness is reduced to a minimum, and a

The coat shirt waist is the very newest thing. As its name suggests, it has the appearance of a coat worn over a vest or shirt front. To produce this effect a double breasted vest with a shawl collar is attached to a stiff chemisette. This design occurs in white butcher's linen, and the cuffs to the bishop sleeves are often of a contrasting shade of linen, which is also used in facing the shawl collar.

A SIMPLE DRESSING SACK—5798, step further will carry it out of sight entirely.

Long sleeves are seen again on some of the handsomest wedding gowns of the season, and not only does the bride affect them, but the bridesmaid as well.

The dressing sack illustrated can be made from flannelette, lawn, dimity or silk. It will require no other trimming than a bow of ribbon at the neck. Such sacks can often be cut from a dress that will no longer do service in that form. JUDIC CHOLLETE.

Charming Designs in Cotton Materials. The Coat Shirt Waist.

Among the cotton weaves in border effects and in plain stripes of different widths one can find all kinds of pretty materials for the shirt waist dress, the wrapper, dressing sack or kimono. These materials, considering they are cotton, are by no means cheap, because the border effect places them among the novelty fabrics.

of color are smarter this year than all white. Handsome white linen gowns are made up with considerable color in hems, collars, cuffs, belts, etc. Often these so called hems will be a foot in depth.

The new surahs are attractive, with deep borders running on one selvage. They are made up in tunic effect. A charming one is in tan and brown checks, with a Persian border fully ten inches deep in dull green.

The gingham dress shown in the illustration is to be worn with a separate white collar, which makes the frock very attractive. Braid, Hamburg embroidery or a bias strip of plain gingham that matches the predominating color of the plaid will be effective used as a trimming. JUDIC CHOLLETE.
