

COMPLETED HEARING

Of All the Contests Submitted

TAFT HAS TOTAL OF 603

Republican National Committee Have Turned Their Attention to Other Matters

ALLIES STICKING TO FINISH

Woodford Said if Hughes is Nominated For Presidency he Will be Certain to Carry New York, But With Someone Else, Its Doubtful

CHICAGO, June 12.—Late this afternoon the Republican national committee completed the hearing of all contests submitted and turned their attention to other matters. It has been a session of seven days of actual work, the decided contests involving 219 seats on temporary roll-call. These contests have been decided as follows:

For Taft—Alabama 22, Arkansas 2, Florida 8, Georgia 16, Kentucky 8, Louisiana 18, Mississippi 16, Missouri 6, South Carolina 18, Ohio 7, Oklahoma 10, Pennsylvania 1, North Carolina 18, Tennessee 18, Texas 36, Virginia 18, Alaska 2, Arizona 2—total 216.

For Foraker—Virginia 2, Ohio—total 3.

As Taft had 387 instructed delegates before the national committee hearing now have a total of 603 delegates in the temporary roll-call without taking into consideration any that either have endorsed him or that have declared for him in any other manner.

Outside of the conclusion of the contests the most important development of day was the issue by "Allies" of the statement in which they declared their intention of "sticking to the finish" and in which they asserted that it is certain "There will be no nomination on the first ballot." The attitude of allies as outlined in this statement was generally strengthened by the arrival of general Stewart L. Woodford of New York, who is in charge of the interests of Governor Hughes. One of the first things encountered by Woodford was a strong sentiment developing to couple the names of Taft and Hughes. Woodford met this with the statement that the New York delegation come instructed to support Hughes for the presidency until the convention had made its choice, there will be no consideration of Hughes' name for any place on the ticket except at the head.

It was asked if Governor Hughes' success in winning the contest over the racetrack betting had strengthened his candidacy and Woodford said: "It has proved that Hughes is a fighter and that he never quits."

Instead of continuing with the discussion of the vice-presidency, Woodford took up the advisability of Hughes for the Presidency and said: "I know one thing, namely: If Hughes nominated for the Presidency he will be certain to carry New York. With Hughes nominated in New York, it is certain, but with some one else nominated in New York it is doubtful."

When Taft's strength was mentioned, General Woodford paid a high tribute to the Secretary of War, but claimed that the Republican chances were greater with Hughes at the head of the ticket.

PLATT STAYS HOME

Former Senator Will Not Attend the Convention

WILL NOT TALK POLITICS

Aged Senator is Broken in Health and Will See Only a Few Friends at His Private Residence—Is First Convention he Has Missed in Years

NEW YORK, June 12.—When the Republican national convention convenes at Chicago there will be missing one of the old "war horses" of the party, one of the men who has been a figure in national conventions for many years, United States Senator Thomas C. Platt, will not go to Chicago. Instead he will remain in his lonely apartments in 110th street and there will hear of the first important Republican meeting from which he has been absent for years. For more than a score of years the rules of the Republican organization in New York state for nearly 30 years a dominant factor in the party's deliberations in the nation the aged senator has now put politics behind him, and broken in health, his power gone, he has withdrawn to his apartments where he sees only a few friends.

"No, I'm not going to the convention," he said to a reporter, "I have other things to do."

Although not one of the "big four" of the state, Senator Platt was chosen as a delegate from an up-state district. Some weeks ago he notified his alternate that he would not be able to serve. "I don't want to talk politics," he said to the reporter, nervously opening and closing his eyes. "I haven't anything to say. The days are past when the public or politicians care anything about what I say."

"This is the first time in a good many years you have stayed away from a national convention of your party," was observed.

"Yes, I went to a good many conventions—a good many of them. But those days are all passed. They are all passed."
