WATERFRONT NEWS STATE FISH WARDEN OF THE DAY IN ASTORIA

ELDER OUT THIS MORNING EARLY—STATE OF CALIFORNIA SAILS TOMORROW—ELMORE OFF FOR TILLAMOOK—CONDOR IN—LURLINE BACK ON RIVER.

H. C. McALLISTER HEAD OF OREGON FISHERIES PASSES THROUGH THE CITY ON AN OFFICIAL TOUR TO THE SOUTH.

The steamer Lurline came down the river last evening in place of the Kamm liner Undine, and will remain on the run permanently. She appears for the first time in several months, and is in fine trim for business, and did her share of it yesterday both ways. Captain McCully, of the Undine has been transferred to the Lurline, and this will add to her popularity, but no one can ever look at the Lurline and forget the genial and popular old commander that made her famous, Captain Larkin, now dead, but always kindly remembered.

State Fish Warden H. C. McAllister was in the city yesterday for a few hours and had a cheerful report to offer for his department, the detail of which he is mastering rapidly and admirably. Mr. McAllister was on his way to Tillamook Bay and the southern coast country, on a trip of inspection of the hatcheries and to look closely into the fishing interests of the State generally and acquaint himself with the needs and conditions thereof. He left out on the steamer Sue H. Elmore, and will be gone for the better part of a week.

The steamship Geo. W. Elder is due to arrive here from Portland at 5 o'clock this morning, and will sail for San Francisco, Eureka and Port Los Angeles, immediately. W. H. Wilson will go out on her as a passenger for Eureka, and Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Adams and family, for San Pedro.

He was of the opinion that it would be necessary to abandon the Bonneville hatchery, owing to the excessive cost of conveying water to the ponds, which would require the installation of a conduit of cement for a distance of 2700 feet and costing in the neighborhood of $500. He has been looking over the ground around Westport and it may be that some departure will be made in that neighborhood, though there is nothing definite about it as yet.

The steamer Sue H. Elmore went to sea and Tillamook Bay at noon yesterday, and among her passengers were State Fish Warden H. C. McAllister and Walter Ridehalgh, of this city.

The bids that were asked by his department for the construction of a new 42 foot, 20 horsepower launch, were all rejected on the score of the excessive sums, and the board is about to seek new figures upon plans for a boat designed by the State, and to cost about $3000, of which definite information will be given out later.

The dandy Heather went up to Wallace Slough yesterday and took on a load of fine spar buoys made there for the Government by J. A. Fastabend, the well known contractor of this city, returning down at 5 o'clock.

Warden McAllister has men busy now, packing the fish-food (10,000 gallons), the work being distributed as follows: 3000 gallons here at Astoria; 1000 at Eureka; 1000 at Cathlamet; 1000 at Tillamook City; 1000 at Warrendale; 1000 at McGowan's, across the river; and 1000 at the Seufert plant at The Dalles.

The steamship State of California is due down from the metropolis at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, and will leave out for the O. R. & N. piers an hour later, from San Francisco.

Notice.
Notice is hereby given to the public that no bills will be paid by the Fourteenth Annual Regatta Committee unless such bill is accompanied by a voucher duly signed by the Chairman and Secretary of the Regatta Committee.

The motor schooner Condor arrived in from Siletz at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, and went on to Portland after a short stop in these waters.

HERMAN WISE, Chairman,
JOHN H. WHYTE, Secretary.

The steamship City of Panama arrived down early yesterday morning and went out at once, bound for Coos Bay points.

The entire proceedings last night incidental to the mustering in of the First Company into the National Guard passed off in a highly satisfactory manner. Charles H. Abercrombie was elected captain by the members of the new organization, and in accordance with the military rules Captain Abercrombie then appointed his two lieutenants. Carl Knobloch was appointed first lieutenant and J. Oak Sutton, second lieutenant.

The first drill of the new organization will be next Wednesday night, in Foard & Stokes Hall.

The meeting last night was called to order by Lieutenant Holman, and after a few remarks, he called the roll. Each of the men present answered "here" as his name was called. After the completion of the roll call, Lieutenant Holman introduced Adjutant General Finzer, who administered the oath of allegiance, and then followed the election of captain. There was no other candidate than Mr. Abercrombie, and he received the unanimous vote of the men. Adjutant General Finzer made a brief but interesting talk to the men of the new company, and explained briefly what some of their duties would be, in time of peace and in time of war. Captain Marcellus and Lieutenant Holman also addressed the men briefly.

Astoria may well be proud of the First Artillery corps. The young men in it are a fine body, and that they will be a credit to Astoria and this part of the state may be reasonably expected. Not only does the organization start out under auspices that are entirely favorable, and with more than the number of men that had been expected to join at the very first, but it also has the enviable distinction of being the first artillery corps to be organized on the Pacific Coast in the National Guard.

Not the least interesting part of the meeting were the addresses made by Hon. T. L. Daily and by Comrade Shaw. At the conclusion of the proceedings this short letter was read from Mayor Wise, which was greeted with applause:

California and Washington have both been striving to organize a company of artillery in the National Guard, but Oregon has managed to "beat them to it."

"When you meet the enemy, smoke him out."
"Success to the new company."
"Herman Wise, Mayor."
Accompanying the letter from Mayor Wise was a box of cigars, and the "boys" at once proceeded to "smoke the enemy out."

Adjutant-General Finzer seemed to take a personal interest in the organization of the Astoria company, and he expressed himself last night to a representative of The Astorian as highly pleased with the showing made and with the personnel of the men in the company.

Captain Abercrombie announced the following men as the ones from whom the noncommissioned officers will be selected; they are instructed to meet with Captain Abercrombie at his office next Tuesday night when some will be named as sergeants and, it is probable, the corporals will later be selected by competitive drill: Guy R. Osborne, A. L. Steele, Nicholas Bergman, Charles Garland, C. L. Rogers, George Stevenson, Axel Lothman, A. J. C. Schroeder.

The Astoria company is the first artillery organization on the Pacific Coast. Requisition will be made on the authorities at Washington for the proper equipment for the company, and it will be sent as soon as possible from one of the military depots. The equipment is very fine and complete, and contains three uniforms—the khaki, olive drab, and full-dress uniform, the latter of blue with red facings—and I will see that the equipment for the company is entirely new; at all events, the uniforms will all be new and that ought to please the men."

General Finzer was asked if the new company would be expected or invited to attend the encampment to be held in a few weeks in Murray, Wash.
"No," he replied. "There isn't time for that. Of course the company couldn't go until the equipment is here, and naturally the men wouldn't be anxious to go to an encampment until they are properly drilled, and can make a first class showing."

BIG SAVING
The Housewife can save a large amount from her grocery bills by canning almost everything she uses the entire year around, and have it with that fresh taste—as from garden or orchard, and she knows that her meat is free from bacteria; free from ptomaine poisoning, as well as her vegetables and fruits.

HOW? WHY?
Can the Economy Jar do all This?
Because the Economy uses no Rubber Ring. All other jars use rubber rings, which in time decay, become porous, leak air, and spoil and mould the contents.

The Foard & Stokes Hardware Co.

General Finzer says that the National Guard in Oregon is in excellent shape and that the character of the young men in the companies is high. The physical showing made by the guards is excellent and the men are better, upon the whole, than formerly. It was remarked that the physical examination of the Astoria recruits showed most of them to be of a pretty high standard. Oregon has two regiments, the Third and Fourth, with several companies lacking in the Fourth. The Astoria artillery corps will not be allied with either the Third or Fourth regiments, but later will probably be allied with other artillery organizations which, it is hoped, may soon be brought into existence. Field officers will then be appointed for the artillery, also. Inasmuch as the Astoria company is of the artillery, it naturally will be expected to have training along artillery lines and therefore requisition will be at once made for a small cannon for armory use, with which demonstrations can be made. Later, of course, larger cannon for field use may be sent to the company. In other states efforts have been made, according to recent magazine articles on the subject, to give companies of the National Guard practical training in the coast defenses, where they get all the chance they want to handle the big guns. With the near location of artillery at Fort Stevens it is possible that the Astoria men will get at least some chance to learn a little about the workings of the guns there. At all events, the Astoria National Guard will have a chance to compete with the Regulars of the artillery from the fort in general appearance and the like, which should stimulate them to their best exertions.

NEW TO-DAY
The Commercial.
One of the coziest and most popular resorts in the city is the Commercial. A new billiard room, a pleasant sitting room and handsome fixtures all go to make an agreeable meeting place for gentlemen, there to discuss the topics of the day, play a game of billiards and enjoy the fine refreshments served there. The best of goods are only handled, and this fact being so well known, a large business is done at the Commercial, on Commercial street, near Eleventh.

Mrs. C. E. Ward will leave on the Hassalo today for Portland, whence she will go to Everett and Seattle, visiting relatives in Everett and friends in Seattle. Mrs. Ward expects to be gone about two weeks.
Mrs. P. J. Brix and family will spend a part of the summer on their farm on the north side of the river. Mr. Brix expects to soon leave on a visit of several weeks to California, and on his return will join the family across the river.

The very best board to be obtained in the city is at "The Occident Hotel." Rates very reasonable.
