THEY DESERT THEIR LITTLE GIRL

3-YEAR-OLD LILLIE NIEMIE
IS SENT TO BOYS' AND GIRLS' HOME AT PORTLAND

Judge Trenchard yesterday afternoon ordered that little 3-year-old Lillie Niemi, who has been deserted by her father and mother, be taken to the Home for Boys and Girls at Portland. Last evening Sheriff Pomeroy took the child to Portland, where she will stay and grow up to womanhood in the institution that the State has provided for such cases.

The matter was presented to Judge Trenchard yesterday by Mrs. Amanda Larsen and Mrs. Mathilda Hillstrom, who reside in Uniontown. According to the story told by Mrs. Larsen, with whom the child has been living—and her story was amply corroborated by others whom the probate judge interviewed before sending the little girl away—the father deserted his wife and infant daughter about a year ago. He made a living here by fishing. Recently the mother, Mary Niemie, placed her daughter in the care of Mrs. Larsen, agreeing to pay her a monthly stipend for the care of the child. Then Mrs. Niemie went away, and it is alleged that she is now leading a life of shame in Aberdeen. She failed to pay anything for the care of her little girl and Mrs. Larsen, who has children of her own, and is a hard working woman, could not support the little one. Such appeared to be the facts in the case, and apparently there was nothing to do but send her to the public institution.

The girl is a bright looking child, and though she talks no English, is ready and quick.

Judge Trenchard said yesterday that there are altogether too many cases of abandonment of children among some of the foreigners.

"The better class among the foreigners resent this," he said, "and do what they can to prevent it. Yet apparently some of the lower ones don't seem to care what becomes of their little ones and as a result they are left to the kindly or chance ministrations of friends or strangers, or, as is more often the case, must be supported by the state or county moneys. It is a shameful state of affairs, and the only mitigating circumstance is that the better classes do resent it and do what they can to prevent it."

Of course it is not only among the foreigners that this and other forms of charity arise. Judge Trenchard said that recently an able-bodied man, evidently a native of this country, appeared before him and wanted money to pay his fare to Marshfield. He represented that his wife and children were there, and that he could get work there. He was advised to secure work here and earn his fare, but he represented this good advice; even seemed to grow angry because it was given him. Since then this man is seen daily about the streets usually more or less under the influence of liquor.

ELECTRICITY IN SAWMILLS.

Interesting History Of The Industry and The Great New Power.

Standing in the United States today are a great many buildings, in a perfect state of preservation, built long before Benjamin Franklin tested the lightning in the clouds and prophesied the power of electricity. The heavy frames of these ancient buildings were hewn from the logs by hand, and the marks of the carpenter's broad-axe can still be seen on the time-stained timbers.

The earliest method of obtaining boards was by whipsawing them from the log by hand. In this process the log was squared with the broad-axe, the edges of the timber were marked for the thickness of the board desired and two men, at opposite ends of a large rip-saw, stripped off the board. This was a very slow, costly, tedious
