ENDS IN BITTERNESS

Thoughtful Men in England Are Pointing Out That Only Animosity Arise

RELATIONS ARE STRAINED

However, in the field events, the only ones in which American athletes really contested, we win nearly every event of note.

LONDON, July 25.—The Olympic games came to a close this afternoon when Queen Alexandra presented gold medals and trophies to the successful competitors, and the Dowager Duchess of Westminster, the Duchess of Westminister, Duchess of Rutland and Lady Desborough handed the silver and bronze medals, the diplomas and the commemorative medals to those entitled to them. A big crowd attended the function and cheered the athletes as they came forward to receive their prizes. The Italian, Dorando, was honored with the greatest ovation, the sympathies of the spectators going out to the man who had missed the prize of the Marathon race when it was just within his grasp.

Before the ceremony of the prize-giving began, America captured two more events, the 110 meter hurdles and the 1600 meter relay, the latter being the last event of the program. The present standing of the countries is:

United Kingdom 38, America 22, Sweden 7, France 4, Hungary, Norway, Germany, Canada, Italy two each; Belgium, South Africa and Finland one each.

In the field track events, in which points counted five for first; three for second and one for third; the standing is: America, 114; United Kingdom, 66; Sweden, 12; Canada, 11; South Africa and Greece, 8 each; Norway, 5; German, 4; Italy, 3; Hungary, 2; France, 2; Australia and Finland 1 each.

America's score in the field track events is: 15 firsts, 10 seconds, 8 thirds, in addition to a tie for third place in the pole vault; United Kingdom got eight firsts, six seconds, four thirds; Sweden two firsts and two seconds, and a tie for third; South Africa one first, one second; Canada one first, one second, three thirds; Germany one second, one third; Italy, Australia, Hungary one third each.

Thoughtful men in England are expressing serious doubts and these doubts are being expressed also by some of the most influential newspaper, whether the Olympian games serve any good purpose. Theoretically, they are supposed to foster international friendship. The result of the meeting just finished has been to create international dissensions and to kindle animosities. Relations of the American and British officials are so strained that it is difficult to arrange future competitions or carry them out without unpleasant incidents.

All American officials and athletes are convinced that the United States was robbed of the 400 meters race while the English public are equally certain the American runners prearranged the plan to keep Halsewell out of the first place by fair means or by foul.

The newspapers hold similar views though they comment temperately and they advise the matter to be let drop into oblivion so that the matter will be forgotten by both countries as soon as possible. Nevertheless it is not likely to be dropped or forgotten for some time. The Italians also admit that the Americans should claim a "technical victory" in the Marathon race and express their belief that Dorando would have been able to finish alone had he not been dragged to his feet by the excited officials and spectators.

The American committee has decided to present a medal to Dorando Forrest Smithson, the great Oregon runner, wearing the colors of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club of Portland, Oregon, today won the 110 meter hurdle race and succeeded in making a remarkable reduction in the former world's record. Smithson covered the distance in 15 seconds flat, reducing the record by two-fifths of a second. The remarkable performance was tremendously applauded. J. C. Garrels, Chicago A. A., second; A. B. Shaw, Dartmouth University, third.

It is said that they had been living on the bluffs during a period of the encampment and with the aid of field glasses they had watched the operations closely, making a note of everything which transpired. The Japanese officers, it is said, left last night for Minneapolis where they will continue their observations along the lines used at Camp Douglas.

Savage Charged With Mail Pouch Robbery

$50,000 STOLEN JUNE 6

Negro Re-Arrested—Authorities Say They Have Positive Evidence of Guilt

CLIPPING HELPS SLEUTHS

The Prisoner Served Time at McNeil's Island Once Before For a Similar Offense—Man Talks But Little of Himself.

KANSAS CITY, July 25.—Charles W. Savage, a negro, was arrested here today by postoffice authorities charged with stealing a mail pouch in the Kansas City Union Station June 6 last, getting $50,000 being sent from Los Angeles to a New York City bank. The inspectors assert that positive evidence against Savage and declare their belief that he has buried the money, intending to recover it after his release from the penitentiary.

Savage was taken into custody a few hours after he returned to the city. He had since leaving visited several cities in the west, including Denver. In his pocket the detectives found a clipping from a Denver newspaper giving the calculations of a robber who had stolen a large sum of money and buried it. The man had been sent to the penitentiary for a number of years and in the stories he figured it out that by serving a certain number of years he would, upon his release, have earned $60,000 a year. Upon this the inspectors base their belief that Savage has concealed the stolen money, hoping to regain it when finally he is given his freedom. A few days following the Kansas City robbery, Savage was arrested by the local police. He paid a lawyer $200 to defend him and was released, the Judge holding that there was not sufficient evidence on which to hold the man. Savage immediately left the city and since then evidently has traveled extensively. The postoffice inspectors had information that Savage would return here today, and when he appeared at a negro lodging house they arrested him. Savage surrendered without a struggle and was taken to the postoffice building. He was put under several examinations. Aside from admitting that he had served a sentence on McNeil's Island for a mail pouch robbery, the prisoner would tell but little about himself.

TAFT AT CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, July 25.—"Notification day" seemed suddenly to become realization day in this city upon the arrival today of William Howard Taft. The work of preparing Tuesday's event has been carried on for the week, but the presence of the candidate himself renewed the interest of the occasion. The reception of Taft at the depot was simple, every effort being made to have the arrival of the candidate as inconspicuous as possible. Tuesday's ceremonies will take place on the lawn of the candidate's brother Charles P. Taft, which is being arranged for the occasion.

FIGHT IS NOT LOST

May Yet Collect Big Standard Oil Fine

HOPE IN SUPREME COURT

Issues May be Appealed to the United States Federal Court Through Application For a Writ of Certiorari—Is Much Activity.

CHICAGO, July 25.—President Roosevelt's statement of the Standard Oil decision, had the effect of a galvanic battery on the government's legal forces in Chicago yesterday. District Attorneys Sims and his assistants are straining every nerve to regain the $29,240,000 fine, which slipped through their fingers in the decision of the court of appeals.

The government prosecutor realizes that to go to trial again would even, in the event of a conviction, mean a much smaller fine. He, therefore, basis his hope on the theory of Attorney-General Bonaparte that the issues may be appealed to the United States supreme court through application for a writ of certiorari. The course of the action as now mapped out by the government is understood to include an application by the Attorney-General for a writ of certiorari, and a petition for a rehearing before the United States court of appeals.

Mr. Sims and his aides, James H. Wilkerson and Harry A. Parkin, were in telegraphic communication on this subject with Mr. Bonaparte yesterday. The local department of the Bureau of Justice will probably devote its attention to the application for a rehearing while Frank B. Kellogg, who will be called into the case at the suggestion of President Roosevelt will, it is understood, prepare the action that is to be presented to the supreme court.

MACK CHOSEN AS CHAIRMAN

Of the Democratic National Committee

7 HOUR CONFERENCE

First Republican Elected Chairman by Democrats for Many Years

AFTER A BITTER CONTEST

Henry Watterson Selected as Chairman of the Newspaper Committee, Who Will Study the Publicity Problems For Campaign.

CHICAGO, July 25.—Norman E. Mack of New York was chosen chairman of the national democratic committee. John R. Martin was re-elected sergeant at arms and Urey Woodson was re-elected secretary of the committee and L. B. Hall of Nebraska, chosen vice-chairman, and Governor Haskell of Oklahoma treasurer.

The selections were made after a seven-hour conference of the subcommittee and Bryan and Kern. It was the first time in many years that a national chairman had been selected by the democratic party and only after a bitter contest had been waged. The choice of Mack was made possible only after the New York leaders, Charles F. Murphy of Tammany Hall and W. J. Conners, chairman of the State Democratic Committee, had yielded to the personal desires of Bryan. There were in the race besides Mack, Judge M. J. Wade of Iowa, L. E. Bryan of Wisconsin, former Governor Campbell of Ohio, and Urey Woodson. The sentiment for Mack steadily grew until it remained for the New York leaders to express their views. A long distance telephone was brought into play and Conners and Murphy withdrew any objection to Mack, who thereupon was selected as chairman of the committee.

At the evening session of the committee Henry Watterson of Kentucky was selected chairman of the committee which will be charged largely with publicity problems of the campaign. The committee will be known as the "Newspaper Committee."

ALL WITH YANKEES

All Nations Back America's Kick at Olympic Games

COULD WRECK THE MEETING

But the American Team Will Stick it Out in Spite of the Adverse Decisions of the British Judges—It is Said.

LONDON, July 25.—The British Olympic Committee continues to be as disagreeable as the weather, which is putting it about as strongly as possible. The autocratic policy adopted in the American protest of the tug-of-war drove all other nations from the event, and Britain had things all to herself. No one paid the slightest attention to the farce, however, and the London policemen tugged themselves to death for the decision over the heavily shod Liverpool cops.

James E. Sullivan, president of the A. A. U. and America's Olympic Commissioner, is authority for the statement that the American team will stick it out to the bitter end, despite the adverse decisions of the British and the unfair methods which have been extended to the detriment of visiting athletes in general. America is backed by every other nation at the Stadium, and at a word it would be possible to wreck the meeting by a wholesale withdrawal. Even Canada and Australia stand ready to follow the lead of the United States. There has not already been a general withdrawal is due to the fact that no European country wishes to figure as a quitter.
