HERCULES ARRIVES IN AFTER THE BENSON RAFT—IRENE AND OTHER SCHOONERS TO BERTH HERE FOR SUMMER.

The lively schooner Irene has sailed into port, as usual; but this time she comes, not for cargo, but to go into summer quarters and await orders. She will be taken to an anchorage off the Tongue, or up in Young's Bay; and it is said other vessels of the lumber fleet will be berthed here to await the revival of business.

The steamer Yosemite came down the river from Rainier, yesterday, with 875,000 feet of lumber, for California, and cleared at once. On her next voyage to the Columbia, she will take out one of the great rafts from the Benson Logging Company's cradles at Stella, and tow it to San Diego.

The tug Geo. R. Vosburg entered port yesterday morning with a barge in tow, from the Nehalem, with 100,000 feet of lumber for San Francisco, from the Wheeler Lumbering Company's mills, which she discharged at the Parker-Fisher dock, leaving out tomorrow for the return voyage.

The Spencer came down yesterday, flying light as to people and freight. When she left up, David Shanahan was a passenger, as were Miss Edith Morris, a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Chron, and Mr. Goldberg, also their guest.

The fine and powerful sea tug Hercules crossed in yesterday afternoon after the Benson raft dolphined in the lower harbor, and will leave out with it this morning, for San Diego.

The pilot schooner Joseph Pulitzer went back to her station off the bar yesterday, with Captains McVicar and

EMPLOYED

AT MEETING OF THE SCHOOL BOARD LAST NIGHT CERTAIN CHANGES AND REPAIRS ALSO ANNOUNCED.

Several new teachers were employed by the school board at its regular meeting last night. They were: Miss Amy Holmes, eighth grade, McClure's; Miss Bertha Reese, part of first grade, Taylor school, and some overflow work; Miss Inez B. Huntamer, fifth and sixth grade, Taylor school; and Miss Maud Dobbs was placed in room one, Alderbrook school; Miss Alice Goddard placed in the eighth grade, Taylor school; and Miss Nellie Girding placed in room one, Adair school.

A communication was received from J. F. Hamilton asking that certain old tax records of the school district be placed in the sheriff's office in the county court house. They are now in the office of the Astoria Abstract & Title Company, where they were kept for the reason that Mr. Ferguson, who was formerly school superintendent, was familiar with them and could explain them to interested persons. The board decided to have the records moved back to the office of the school superintendent for the present at least.

The date of opening the school year was announced as September 21.

Bills aggregating $2118.98 were ordered paid.

The clerk was instructed to have printed 10,000 slips each containing a list of school books that will be wanted by pupils this fall. They are used as a matter of convenience, and the teachers can check off each book that any child will wish to purchase at the book stores. The prepared slips prevent mistakes and save trouble.

Mr. Eaken, chairman, appointed two committees, with Messrs. Welch and Ball on finance and Messrs. Ball and Taylor on teachers.

The committee on repairs was directed to remove the stonewall east of the front steps of McClure's school building, and such other portions of the wall as is deemed necessary, and to slope the embankment and sod the same. Workmen have raised up the northeast corner of the building, which had settled some during the past winter, and doorways have been cut in the south end of the hallway of the top floor so as to open out onto Grand avenue. A walk has been constructed from this new doorway out to the street. In the Shively school building new floors have been laid, the walls have been tinted, and other work of painting and renovating the place is going on. A new roof has been put on the cupola of the Shively, also, and asphaltum put on the roof, which had been ravaged by the boring of some insect. A walk is also to be constructed from the top floor of the Taylor building.

The following members were present at the session last night: J. A. Eaken, F. J. Taylor, J. W. Welch, J. N. Griffin, and A. L. Clark, superintendent.

PRIMARY SURVEY IS NOW COMPLETED

LINE IS INTO SEASIDE AND TOMORROW MEN WILL START AGAIN FROM ASTORIA ON LOCATION.

The preliminary survey for the Astoria, Seaside & Tillamook Electric Railway to Seaside will be completed today, and tonight the force of men will arrive in this city. They will be paid off for their work accomplished to date, and tomorrow morning the men will start on the work of running the "location," or final, line to Seaside. This should take about a month, and when that is finished all of the surveying work between this city and Seaside will be done.

F. L. Evans, promoter of the project, said last evening that just as soon as the survey is completed to Seaside the force of men will be reorganized and started to work on the preliminary survey to Tillamook. That should be finished before the rainy weather sets in.

Mr. Evans is rushing the work as fast as is compatible with good results. Last evening he also said that immediately after the completion of the work between here and Seaside the matter of financing that much of the enterprise will be taken up for active consideration. He will not go East on the matter, and it is understood that certain eastern capitalists will send their financial agent, and their engineer, here to look the field over. If the rest of the work goes ahead in as satisfactory a manner as the preliminary matters have, Mr. Evans will win even more complimentary opinion than is now being accorded him. It is now definitely settled that a line will be run around Smith's Point in addition to the one over the heights. The Smith's Point loop will be used for heavy freight, as well as for passenger service.
