

The Daily Market Report

PORTLAND, Aug. 19—What Oregon apples will be worth at the opening of the market for the staple fruit crop this fall is for the present a matter of speculation, and fruit men have various views of the situation.

There is a fair average crop this year in practically all the apple states of the Union, with a showing distinctly above the average in some of the Western states, notably in Oregon, and here also the fruit this year will grade a little higher than usual.

It is estimated that the total yield of apples of the United States this year will be 50,000,000 barrels.

Poultry generally has moved better this week than last week, and prices also have shown a slight upward tendency. Today good hens sold at 13 to 14 cents, and broilers and fryers were quoted at 15 to 16 cents a pound.

Strictly fresh eggs were in good demand today at the top quotation, with the supply limited in all quarters.

A Reason For Thanks. The impecunious author's wife was trying on a new dress and endeavoring to observe the hang of it by means of a round mirror on top of a high chiffonier. Every woman will appreciate what that means.

"Oh, dear," she exclaimed as she thought with some pathos, "I haven't seen the bottom of my skirt since I was married."

Her husband looked up, brate that he was, and remarked: "Well, you can thank your lucky stars for that."—New York Press.

Had Left For Parts Unknown. In a murder trial in Texas some years ago the counsel for the defense was examining a ventruman regarding his qualifications to serve. The candidate admitted that he had once been a member of a jury which tried a negro for murder. It is not permissible in such cases to ask the result of the trial, so the counsel said:

"Where is that negro now?" "I don't know," was the reply. "The sheriff hanged him at the appointed time."

No Idle Boast. Bilkins—Smythe tries to make people believe that he belongs to the "upper crust." Wilkins—Well, I should think he did belong to the "upper crust." Bilkins—In what way does he show it? Wilkins—Always short and easily broke.—Brooklyn Life.

Imposing. "The Swelltons seem to keep up an imposing establishment," remarked the canned goods drummer.

"You bet they do," replied the groceryman, with a sigh long drawn out, "and I'm one of the fellows they impose on."—Chicago News.

Collins Playing Steady Game. Jimmy Collins is playing a very steady game at third for the Philadelphia Americans. He is doing everything that can be expected of a third sacker, and doing a great deal that other men in his position can't.

Earth and Moon. The moon's real diameter is 2,163 miles, not much more than a fourth of the earth's. Her surface is 14,000,000 square miles, or between a thirteenth and a fourteenth of the earth's. The earth's volume exceeds the moon's nearly forty-nine and one-half times, but the moon's material is lighter than the earth's, for the earth's mass exceeds hers not forty-nine and one-half times only, but nearly eighty-one and one-half times.—New York American.

Historical Revelation. "How did you distinguish Achilles from the girls?" asked the Greeks. "How could you see that he was a man in woman's garb?"

"He didn't," explained Ulysses, "drop his handkerchief every time he turned around."—Kansas City Journal.

A Dime Novel Reader. "Did you tell Johnny to split that kindling?" "Yes."

"But he didn't do it." "No; he said he'd swim in blood first."—Washington Herald.

Bergen's Suspension a Loss. The Brooklyn Nationals have been greatly weakened by the absence of Catcher Billy Bergen. In a recent game in Cincinnati Bergen threw his mask at Umpire Rudderham. Billy is usually one of the coolest men playing baseball, but Rudderham's decision was so "raw" that he simply could not control himself. The mask episode, however, was reported to Harry Pflam, with the result that Bergen has been suspended indefinitely by the National league president. Bergen's absence is a big loss to the team, and it is to be hoped it will prove a good though severe lesson to him.

Men Past Sixty in Danger. More than half of mankind over 60 years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlargement of prostate glands. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodney Burnett, Rockport, Mo., writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles

FATE OF A RARE STAMP. Craved by Collectors and Burned by a Careless Domestic.

In the year 1851 a twelve penny black Canadian postage stamp was printed by the government at Ottawa. The public did not regard this somber issue with favor, so few were issued.

One of these stamps was sent to the Hamilton postoffice, where it was sold to an old gentleman, who said it was a shame to print the queen's picture on a stamp that might be handled by profane hands. Tenderly the old gentleman put it on a parcel, sending it to a friend in the United States. Here, in the wastebasket, it lay for many a day till an errand boy found it and quickly transferred it to his album. Despairing of getting a good collection and his fever for stamps somewhat abating, he sold them to a dealer. The new owner, on looking at the catalogue, found that what he had paid $5 for was worth $25.

Accidentally the stamp was slipped into a 25 cent packet and sent to a dealer residing in Hamilton. When the latter opened the packet he was astonished to find such a valuable stamp and, being honest, wrote his friend to inform him of what had happened, offering him $1,200 for it. The offer was accepted, and the stamp again changed hands. By this time the stamp had increased in value, and not a few came from a distance to look at the treasure. One day an English nobleman, who, through a Canadian friend, had heard of the stamp, offered $1,500, which offer was accepted. The English lord, falling in love with an American heiress and wishing to gain the favor of her brother, presented him with the stamp as a token of esteem. Here, in its new and luxurious American home, it came to a sad end, for one day the maid, by mistake, swept the stamp, which had accidentally fallen out of the album, into the fire. In an instant the stamp which thousands had heard of and longed for went up in smoke to the broad, blue sky, leaving not a trace behind.
