

Barrington Hall The Steel Coffee

Is just pure Mocha and Java prepared in a new way. The coffee berry is cut up (not ground) by knives of almost razor sharpness into small uniform particles. Thus it is not crushed, as by the old method of grinding, and the little oil cells remain unbroken. The essential oil (food product) cannot evaporate and is preserved indefinitely. This is one reason why a pound of Barrington Hall will make 15 to 20 cups more of full strength coffee than will any coffee ground the old way; why it excels all other coffee in flavor and why it will keep perfectly until used.

But the main thing about Barrington Hall Coffee is that it can be used without ill effect by those who find ordinary coffee injures them, because the yellow tannin-bearing skin and dust (the only injurious properties of coffee) are removed by the "steel-cut" process. A delicious coffee not a tasteless substitute.

FORAKER SURPRISES TAFT

utes of its duration because the newspapers criers were preparing dispatches announcing the confirmation of the "Feud and bad feeling that is existing between Judge Taft and myself," he continued. "Under the circumstances I hope that I may be pardoned if I say here in his presence—the first time I have ever had an option to say it—that there has never, so far as I knew, been the slightest ill feeling of any kind between Judge Taft and myself."

Foraker said when the Chicago convention placed Taft at the head of the ticket that, he after that had become his leader and would continue to be his leader until the polls closed on the night of the election.

OPPOSE VACCINATION.

Attempt Made to Murder Health Officer in San Diego.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 2.—The avowed purpose of the city board of health to enforce the state vaccination laws in the case of public schools which open on the 8th has caused much ill feeling. Tuesday when the wife of Dr. Francis H. Mead, the health officer, opened the front door of their residence on Fourth street, she found a stick of dynamite attached to the door knob, together with a note reading:

"Mead, don't you attempt to vaccinate, you poor unscrupulous quack. My children will not be vaccinated. The black hand is on your track. This is the last warning."

The dynamite was very insecurely fastened to the door knob presumably with the intention that it should fall to the floor and explode when the door was opened.

BLOW AT HIGH SPEEDS.

National Auto Club Sets Its Seal Against Reckless Driving.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The Automatic Club of America has made its announcement against speeding, according to a resolution passed by the board of governors in the form of special notice to its members calling attention to the great number of serious and fatal accidents that have recently occurred. Especial attention is directed to the condition in Nassau county, Long Island, where the supervisors propose to stop reckless driving by trying those arrested in the regular court terms after indictment and punishing repeated offenders, by imprisonment.

"It is the desire of the club," said the pronouncement, "to put a stop to recklessness, and every member is required to drive with care and within the speed limits, having in mind at all times the safety of other users of the highways."

BURNS WINS FROM LANG.

MELBOURNE, Sept. 2.—Tommy Burns, American heavyweight defeated Bill Lang, of Australia, in the sixth round today (Thursday).

SHERMAN FAVORS HUGHES.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Sept. 2.—In a letter addressed to Rev. R. W. Gessner, of this city, James S. Sherman, the republican vice-presidential candidate, expressed himself unequivocally in favor of the renomination of Governor Hughes.

POLITICS AND CIVIL SERVICE.

VALLEJO, Cal., Sept. 2.—R. O. Pierce, a candidate for Supervisor on the republican ticket and who is a civil service employe at the Mare Island Navy Yard, has been notified by the navy department that he must either withdraw his name from the ticket or resign his position at the yard owing to the civil service rule prohibiting the active participation of civil service employes in politics. The local trades and labor council has addressed a protest to the congressional representatives claiming that this ruling prevents the enjoyment of the full rights of citizenship by civil service employes.

BEGIN CONSTRUCTION WORK.

SEATTLE, Sept. 2.—Work will begin here tomorrow on the construction of the first eight miles of the Union Pacific, out of this city. Twohy Brothers, of Spokane, were today granted the contract for building the road to Black River Junction. As it is necessary for the company to have men on the ground, and working September 5th, the start will be made tomorrow with a small crew. About $1,000,000 will be expended on this first section of the road.

GIRL IN POLITICS.

Miss Levy of Seattle is Campaigning For Her Father.

SEATTLE, Sept. 2.—Two hundred rough clad men of the Riggers & Stevedores' Union suspended the regular routine of their business session at their headquarters on Western Avenue Monday afternoon and gave undivided attention to a 10-minute address by Miss Gertrude Levy, the young woman who is conducting an energetic campaign for her father, Benjamin C. Levy, candidate for the nomination for county treasurer. It took a suspension of the rules of the union to permit the young woman to be heard and the president of the organization, to whom she first applied, was doubtful of the success of her request. However, he put it to a vote which resulted unanimously in favor of the fair applicant.

"I told them," said Miss Levy, "father's record as deputy for 15 years, and appealed to them as workers to assist a fellow worker to gain the recognition he deserves. They didn't treat it as a joke. I think I was too serious about it. They gave me a courteous hearing and applauded me when I finished."

POSTPONE NIPPON FAIR.

Announcement Made That it Will go Over to 1917.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The recent visits of the Japanese ambassador, Baron Takahira, to President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay and to Secretary Root at Clinton, it is officially stated, has no bearing on the question of Chinese-American alliance, nor were they for the purpose of discussing the presence of the Atlantic fleet in Asiatic waters.

Acting Secretary of State Adee said tonight in issuing a statement announcing the postponement of the Tokio exposition from 1912 to 1917 that the Japanese ambassador's visits were entirely informal and were for the purpose of securing the approval of the United States government, of the postponement of the Japanese world's fair. The hostility of a Chinese-American alliance was not discussed.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 2.—Fire this evening destroyed lumber valued at a hundred thousand dollars in the yard of the Saginaw Bay Lumber Company.

BELL COMING WEST.

Is Booked to Stump in Oregon September 21, 22, 23.

PORTLAND, Sept. 2.—It was announced today that Theodore Bell, the California congressman will stump Oregon for Bryan, speaking September 21, 21 and 23, probably at Salem, Albany, Eugene, though Roseburg may be substituted for one of the cities named.

LOSES BARN AND STOCK.

MILTON, Or., Sept. 2.—Fire completely destroyed a fine new barn, 20 tons of wheat hay, two header wagons, a feed wagon, a lot of hogs valued at $100 and several sets of harness, belonging to Clay Moss, a rancher living five miles south of Milton, Monday evening. Mrs. Moss was the only person around the premises at the time, and in trying to liberate the stock was quite badly burned. A threshing outfit had just left the place and it is supposed that someone among them threw the stub of a cigarette in the straw. The loss is estimated at $2000, and is partially covered by insurance.

CAR THIEF GETS 20 DAYS.

THE DALLES, Or., Sept. 2.—Harry Hough was arrested here yesterday by Detective E. B. Wood, of the O. R. & N. Railroad, for breaking into a car of merchandise on the company's road between this city and Portland a few days ago. He was convicted in the police court of the charge and sentenced to serve 20 days on the city rockpile. Detective Wood is determined to break up the gang which has repeatedly broken into cars on the O. R. & N. road between Portland and The Dalles during the last few months.

LAKE MANGISHLAK.

Is Strongly Perfumed Waters Are Mauve in Color.

"Grasse, clinging to its Alp, high above the Mediterranean, is supposed to give the stranger a headache on account of its perfume," said a perfumer. "Grasse makes the world's perfume. You see mountains of flowers there, as in a milling country you see mountains of wheat. The odor is powerful, but as far as headaches go—"

"But in the Caspian district there is a lake so strongly perfumed that if the stranger boats on it or swims in it he really gets a headache. This lake's banks are of white salt crystals. Its waters are mauve in color, and from it an odor of violets is exhaled."

"It is Lake Mangishlak. I visited it to see if I couldn't bottle it up and put it on the perfume market. No go."

"You see, it is the presence of the seaweed Polydystia violacea that gives the lake its hue and smell. When you bottle the waters the seaweed atoms after a few days die and rot. Then the odor changes from violet to—pah!"

"But if you are ever in the Caspian visit the Mankishlak peninsula and take a look at the lake. It is in its way as curious as the asphalt lakes of South America."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

HIS OWN BAIT.

The Giant Alligator Snapping Turtle as a Fisherman.

There is a canny reptile fisherman which makes effective use of the bait which he carries in his own mouth. This is the alligator snapping turtle, a giant among reptiles, known to attain a maximum weight of 144 pounds, with a length of shell of about twenty-eight inches. It haunts rivers flowing into the gulf of Mexico, including the Mississippi, where it is common. In appearance and actions it is an enlarged duplicate of the common snapping turtle. Its pale brown hues well match the soft, muddy bottoms on which it lies motionless, angling for fish with the decoy. The bait is attached inside the lower jaw, close to the tongue, and is a well developed filament of flesh, white and distinct from the yellowish mouth part and closely resembling a large grub. While waiting the turtle keeps this grub in motion, giving it the aspect of crawling about in a small circular course. Its mud colored shell, often studded with a growth of fine, waving moss, looks like a great round stone, and close to it is a second smaller stone, the head. Close to this smaller stone crawls the plump white grub. A fish sees it and makes a natural mistake, only to be seized by a sudden snap of the powerful jaws. The jaws are remarkably powerful. The common snapper, which attains only a third of the size of his larger relative, will bite a finger clean off, and the alligator snapper could bite through a wrist or foot.—Chicago Tribune.

TRICKS OF WRITERS.

A Ruse by Which Kipling Piqued His Readers' Curiosity.

"When I first began to read Kipling," said an admirer, "my curiosity was immensely piqued by the scraps of verse with which he usually headed his early stories. They were all credited to poems I had never heard of in my life and were just such salient, striking fragments as would naturally whet one's appetite for the remainder. For over a year I tried hard to locate those mysterious poems and enlisted half a dozen book dealers in the search. At last one of them wrote me that I was wasting time and that the alleged quotations were merely Mr. Kipling's little joke."

"In other words, he manufactured 'em to order and stuck them at the top of his tales for the sake of the odor of erudition they lent to the production. I was mad for a while, but when I cooled off I had a good big laugh. Of course you know Scott used to do the same thing, and so, for that matter, did Edgar Allan Poe. Poe was really the worst quotation fakir of the lot."

"He would write wise sounding detached sentences and credit them to imaginary German philosophers with long, outlandish and impressive names. However, I don't know why the thing should be punishable. The business of a writer of fiction is to create an illusion, and as long as he does it I for one am not particular what means he employs to contribute to the end."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Immigrants' Purse.

The Immigrants who stream into New York all have different ways of carrying their money.

The Irish immigrant carries a canvas bag in which notes and coins are crammed together.

The Germans wear a money belt, gay and costly, of embroidered chambray.

The French and Italians carry brass tubes with screw tops wherein they keep their cash in twenty franc gold pieces.

The Swede is sure to have an immense pocketbook of cowhide that has been handed down from father to son for generations.

The Slavs carry their money in their high boots, along with a fork and spoon.—New York Press.

This Earthly Snig.

"The sun" remarked the kindly citizen, "shines for all."

"And that's what worries some people," averred the caustic citizen. "They seem to think the sun ought to be handled as a spot light."—Louisville Courier-Journal.
