 THE MODEL FOOD STORE

TERSE TALKS OF THE TOWN

Will Close Today—

Announcement is made that the dry goods, grocery and clothing stores will close tomorrow at noon, because of the holiday.

Pays Out Big Amounts—

City Treasurer Thomas Dealey has paid out the sum of $13,196.29 during the last three days of the week, on warrants held by citizens.

Citizenship Papers—

Jonas Kustaa Makela, native of Finland, filed his declaration of intention to take out his first papers in the office of the county clerk yesterday.

Arrived Home—

Raymond Trullinger, son of W. L. Trullinger, arrived in Astoria yesterday direct from Paris. He has been with his uncle, John Trullinger, at Penance, Wales, and Paris for the past six years.

Odd, And Beautiful—

The new and dainty coin jewelry introduced here by Frank Donnerberg, the Commercial street jeweler, is among the most attractive, odd and beautiful work ever brought here, and is becoming quite popular.

Gone To Nehalem—

Deputy Sheriff McEwan and Captain C. R. Johnson went to Nehalem yesterday for a week's outing. The Nehalem Valley is proving a favorite place for outing parties from Astoria this summer.

Sunday School Picnic—

The Memorial and the First Lutheran Sunday schools will hold their annual picnic tomorrow, Labor Day, at Young's River. They will meet at the church in Uppertown at 9:30 o'clock sharp, and at the Memorial Lutheran at 10 o'clock sharp.

Severe Cut—

Young Magnus Stanley, while playing around the Scow Bay Iron Works late yesterday afternoon, stepped on a broken glass which made a deep incision on his right foot, severing an artery. He had to be sent to the hospital to have the wound dressed.

Become Partners—

John Gronholm has purchased a half interest in T. F. Laurin's business in the Eagle drug store, and yesterday articles of partnership were filed between Mr. Laurin and Mr. Gronholm. They will be together in the Eagle store at 351 Bond street.

Northshore Notes—

On tomorrow the Superior Court in and for Wahkiakum county convenes in regular session, and one of its important cases is that of the State of Washington versus Campbell, the man who killed Mr. McLellan, of Nasel, last Spring. And on Tuesday the primary elections for the State will be held; so there is news ahead and of interest.

Labor Day—

Labor Day promises to be a quiet and uneventful day in Astoria. The union men have made no special preparations to celebrate the occasion other than by a dance in the evening. Most of the stores will be closed at least part of the day, and as it is a legal holiday the banks and other public places will be closed, though the postoffice will keep its usual holiday hours.

That Grandstand—

The dismembered and prostrate Regatta grandstand now cluttering up the Flavel pier is much more of a nuisance in its present condition than when it was up and amenable to use for seats; and the delay in moving is said to be the Regatta committee's desire for a cheaper rate for the hauling. The stuff is to be taken to the vacant lot belonging to the Elks, in the rear of the Astoria Savings Bank, on Eleventh street.

The Cathlamet Regatta—

The Astoria people who went to Cathlamet yesterday came back last evening in fine spirits, and all reported that they had a most enjoyable time. Many of Astoria's leading citizens were there including, of course, Admiral McGregor, as well as Queen Hattie. The sports and all went off in fine shape and for everyone it was an enjoyable time. Cathlamet apparently had a successful Regatta and pleased her visitors.

When School Opens—

The fall term of the public schools will open on September 21, and everything is now fairly well in readiness for the opening. All teachers have been engaged except one for the High School, and Superintendent Clark has received several applications for that position. The desks have all been thoroughly cleaned and the janitors will put the rooms in cleanly condition before the term opens. Superintendent Clark has spent his summer vacation in working almost day and night in preparing a new course of study for the schools and he hopes to have it completed about the time of the opening. The work has proven much wider and more arduous than he had counted on.

Names For Juries—

The list of names for the grand and petit juries was drawn yesterday for the September term of the Circuit Court, which convenes on the 21st. The list contains thirty-one names and is as follows: J. V. Burng, John Mattson, John Wuopio, Austin Osborn, Alex Grant, Frank Cook, O. Alopaous, V. Boelling, Peter Gimre, A. C. Anderson, W. R. Chisholm, B. L. Ward, W. A. Garner, Benjamin Young, H. F. Prael, Rudolph Basel, Ludwig Larson, George Lindstrom, J. W. Babbidge, George A. Nelson, B. J. Sloop, Astoria; H. C. Hilton, Fern Hill; H. H. Ingalls, Jacob Bosshart, Warrenton; J. B. Baumgartner, M. Leahy, Olney; John Boberg, J. D. Heckard, Seaside; Frank Cunningham, John F. McDermott, New Astoria; R. McMath, Westport.

Logger Badly Hurt—

Carl Armstrong, a logger employed at the Kelley mills at Clifton, was badly injured yesterday and was brought to this city last night by train and placed in St. Mary's hospital. That he was not killed may be deemed a matter of great good fortune. The trip line broke and caught Armstrong and whirled him about in the air and finally threw him to the ground. Luckily he escaped with no broken bones, but he received many bruises and it is possible he may be injured internally. At the hospital today he will be carefully examined and cared for and it is expected he will be a right in a short time. Dr. Fulton examined Armstrong last night. Like most of the men in the logging camps, Armstrong is assured of hospital treatment through an arrangement made by the camp owners with E. M. Crawford, division manager of the National Hospital Association, whereby the association arranges to care for the men who may be injured. Another man whose identity could not be learned last night was injured at the Bremmer camp yesterday and taken to St. Mary's hospital last evening. He had several ribs broken.

RUNAWAY HORSES DASH INTO SALOON DOORS

NO ONE IS HURT BUT SEVERAL ESCAPE IN THE NICK OF TIME FROM DANGER.

A team belonging to the Prael-Eigner Company ran away yesterday afternoon from the waterfront on Fourteenth street and dashed up towards Commercial and, reaching that thoroughfare, one of the horses wanted to continue straight ahead and the other wanted to turn east. The result was that they effected a resultant compromise and dashed into the front doors of the Exchange saloon, kept by S. Wilson at the southeast corner of Fourteenth and Commercial.

Directly in front of the saloon doors was a big pillar and one horse went on one side of this and the other on the opposite side. The wagon struck the pillar with a resounding smash and broke it, but the impact stopped the runaway. Had it not been for the pillar the horses in all probability would have dashed through the front doors and into the saloon.

Constable Jack Sayer was standing on the corner talking with a friend when the horses suddenly appeared in front of them, and while Constable Sayer is a strict teetotaler he went into the saloon this time fast enough. He and the man jumped inside like rabbits going into a hole, and they escaped the danger in the very nick of time. But as Constable Sayer was making his hurried flight he paused long enough to pull a woman into the saloon with him, and had he not done so it is quite probable she would have been struck.

The horses were not injured though the harnesses were more or less broken, and the big pillar was broken off at top and bottom. It is said the horses were not hitched or watched and became frightened over some trivial matter.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. Nelson Troyer, who has been spending the summer with her parents at Oakland, Cal., arrived home on the noon train yesterday, while her son, who has been in Oakland with her, is coming up by steamer. Mr. Troyer has been up on the sound for several weeks and will arrive home in a few days, it is expected.

quick despatch of the huge freightage hence; and is being ably seconded by Mr. H. Sheedy, the new depot agent in this city, who has lately arrived direct from Grand Forks, B. C., to take over that department from the shoulders of Mr. Johnson.

It is the intention of Secretary John H. Whyte, today, to do all he may to have this train sent out properly bannered, so that in its progress across the country the story of this one of Astoria's great interests, may be plainly yet impressively passed to the interested and uninformed of the inland regions. And it is well worth the heralding, since this traffic and trade, which stands for a market valuation of between $3,500,000 and $4,000,000, is but one of several commercial and industrial concerns centering at this city and in its neighborhood.

The steamer F. S. Loop is due in port tomorrow from San Francisco.

Meantime the question of the lost records remains an interesting one. It is understood that it will be necessary to call attention to the missing papers to Judge McBride at the September term of the court, and if the papers are not found by that time they will leave the records absent in an important matter. Their loss came at a time when it might have proved a highly embarrassing matter to Mrs. Gates had not Captain Abercrombie by chance happened to have had the extra certified copy of the necessary order.

It was learned last night that the husband, Gates, has left for the Philippines, and Mrs. Gates still has her child.
