CRAFT ARRIVING AND DEPARTING IN AND FROM ASTORIA
—AND THEIR MASTERS, MEN AND MESSAGES

No. 7 spar buoy, moored at a point between Smith's Point and Flavel, in the Astoria harbor, and on the north side of the channelway, was carried away yesterday morning by some passing vessel, and was immediately reported at headquarters. It is presumed that it will be replaced without loss of time, either as it was before or in some more serviceable form, as there was more or less complaint of the night light there to serve from all bearings.

The schooner Schome will leave out today for Port Gamble, where she will load lumber for her home port of San Francisco. She is of the same fleet as the Oliver J. Oleson and a number of others, whose owners are halting them here for certain business reasons of their own.

No more Spencer this season. She has been called off the run by reason of damaged machinery, which will take too long to repair to admit of her resuming business between here and Portland.

The steamship George W. Elder is due to leave the Callender docks at 5:30 o'clock this morning for Eureka, San Francisco and Port Los Angeles.

The steamer Lurline was a bit late in getting down last evening, but went up at 9:30 o'clock with plenty of business on both decks.

The steamer R. D. Inman is the next of the coast fleet due to arrive here from San Francisco, and is likely to show up at any moment.

The steamer Johann Poulsen leaves San Francisco this morning for this port and Portland.

The Evie did not get away for the

ILWACO

Mr. Charles Davis, of Chinook, was in Ilwaco Wednesday on business. J. W. Seaborg, owner of the Ilwaco library, returned the first of the week from Portland, where he has been under the care of an optician for a couple of months.

Mr. Nutt left the first of the week for his home in Rainier, after a few months spent here in the employ of E. R. Rowe, the owner of the only jewelry store in Ilwaco. Mr. Nutt's many friends, made during his short stay here, very much regret his departure.

John R. Goulter, county road commissioner, left Tuesday for South Bend, where he will spend the week attending to some county business.

Mr. H. H. Unruh is painting his residence on Lake street, which will improve the appearance and add to the attractiveness of that street.

Mr. Tom Williams, of Chinook, was a visitor to Ilwaco Wednesday.

Wm. Plandea, who has been spending his vacation in Portland and Spokane, returned Wednesday to his work at the wireless station, North Head. He reports a splendid time, but nevertheless is glad to be back at work.

Mrs. L. D. Williams and son Reese were visitors to Astoria Wednesday and Thursday.

Charles Eckert, conductor on the passenger train for the Ilwaco Railroad Company, with his wife and daughter left Wednesday for Seattle, where they will visit with Mr. Eckert's brother, Frank Eckert, and wife for a week or ten days.

Jacob Belknap, of Chinook, deputy sheriff of Pacific county, was in Ilwaco for a few hours Wednesday, returning home in the evening.

J. N. Glover and family have closed their beautiful residence at Oceanside for the winter and left a few days ago for their home in Oregon. They have been residing at Oceanside for several months, and henceforth will make their home there during the summer months.

F. V. Carney, traveling salesman for Fairbanks, Morse & Company, of Portland, was a visitor to Ilwaco this week soliciting orders.

J. J. Bumback, prosecuting attorney, returned Tuesday from a business trip to South Bend.

Mr. Averil, of the Cape Disappointment life-saving crew, returned from a short vacation spent at no place in particular, but chiefly in traveling.

Miss Rebecca Markham, of Ilwaco, left recently for Vancouver, Wash., where she will work in the store of A. J. Collins, of that place. We wish her success in her new field of endeavor.

Ben Wise, the Ilwaco clothier, is at present in Portland laying in his fall and winter stock of dry goods, shoes, etc. He will return the latter part of the week.

Mrs. Ross Williamson and baby spent a couple of days in Ilwaco on Tuesday and Wednesday with relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Williamson expect to soon again be residents of Ilwaco, when their work on Bear River is completed.

Emanuel Porter returned about the middle of the week from southern Oregon, where he has been spending a vacation of about a week. Mr. Porter was one of the many to take advantage of the excursion to Klamath Falls, and he expresses himself as delighted with that beautiful place.

Notice was received Tuesday by the postmaster here of a change in the mails. The morning mail, which heretofore has arrived at 9 o'clock, will be changed to 9:25, and the afternoon mail changed from 1:30 to 2:10. There will be no mail on Sunday.

The residence of the Misses Holmans at the Willows is being repaired in several ways and shingled, getting it ready for next summer.

The past fishing season on Baker's Bay has been a very remarkable one in some of its features. It has, so far as can be estimated, been a better one than the average, especially for the poorer classes of traps in the lower bay. A few on the outside have caught a little less than the preceding year, but this is an exception. Thirty-six per cent. of the total catch was large, 36 per cent. small and 28 per cent. steelheads. The fact of 28 per cent. of the total catch being steelheads is unprecedented, and proves that the river is restocking again. This is the result from the large number of young steelhead fry turned out by the hatcheries. Seining on Sand Island was much better this year than

A THEATRICAL INCIDENT

Frank King Relates an Interesting Occurrence at Leadville, Colo.

Manager Frank G. King, who will present "Chic" Perkins in "The Little Prospector" at the Astoria Theater on Sunday, September 20th, relates the following incident:

While playing Leadville, Colo., recently Mr. Hugh Dyatt, a wealthy mineowner, who has been a prospector for 22 years, being attracted by the title of the play, attended the performance. At the close of the play he asked for and was granted an interview with Miss Perkins. He told her that he was very much impressed with her rendition of "The Little Prospector," as well as the correct impersonations of the various characters represented, also the scenic equipment, especially the mining scene showing the entrance and surroundings of "Chuck Luck" mine, which he said was so delightfully natural it really seemed as though he were looking into the entrance of one of his own mines. He pronounced the production perfect in every detail and asked permission of the little actress to use her name as a mascot for a new gold mine he had just opened up. The mine is located 48 miles out of Leadville and is known as the "Chic Perkins."
