Fish Traps

Following is a list of the traps, the names of the owners in a few cases being given, and the numbers of the licenses in the rest of the cases. Mr. Mack has written to the Washington authorities for a list of the men who hold the licenses as given below. In each case a warrant will be issued just as soon as the names are ascertained. These traps were all in the Baker Bay district, and the evidence was secured by Mr. Setten and Mr. Mack. Mr. Brown has been working up the river and he has little or nothing to do there. The list follows:

H. S. McGowan, 2 traps; Charles Davis, 2 traps; Julius Jensen, 2 traps; Christ Olsen, 2 traps; W. 1538, W. 1030, W. 392, W. 891, W. 533, W. 812, W. 422, W. 742, W. 1555, W. 50, W. 1593, W. 688, W. 48, W. 168, W. 162, W. 722, W. 427.

AFTER RUEF'S LAWYERS

New Code of Legal Ethics Didn't Seem to Save Them

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Following the indictment of two of Abraham Ruef's attorneys yesterday on a charge of attempting to bribe a salesman in the grand jury is this morning expected to vote the return of the indictments against John J. West, an attorney, and Phillip D. Martinin, a saloonkeeper, who were summoned today to testify before the inquisitors regarding an alleged attempt to influence the action of J. R. Joley, another prospective Ruef juror. Foley, who is an insurance broker, was also a witness before the grand jury.

FOR BETTER RATES

BUTTE, Mont., Sept. 19.—The State Railroad Commission has announced that it has perfected an arrangement with the Great Northern by which the recently made reduction in rates on farm products over the Northern Pacific becomes effective on the Great Northern as well. The tariff is a distance one and covers everything but hay, which is transported under a special commodity tariff. The rate also applies to mixed carloads.

CHOLERA KILLING MANY

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 18.—Asiatic cholera has a strong foothold in the garrisons of the city, over 400 soldiers being stricken. In 24 hours at noon today 395 new cases of civilians and 126 deaths of cholera had been reported in the capital.

HE DIVIDES FORTUNE AMONG CHILDREN

EACH GETS $4,000,000 OF ESTATE OF THE PITTSBURG MILLIONAIRE

STILL HAS $15,000,000 LEFT

W. H. Singer Thought it Best to Let Each of His Four Children Have Money "While it Would Do Them Some Good"

PITTSBURG, Sept. 18.—At the golden wedding dinner of himself and wife, W. H. Singer, the iron king, distributed $16,000,000 among his four children, each getting $4,000,000. Through the filing of certain papers in the Allegheny county court house yesterday this came out. It later was admitted by the Singer family.

Mr. Singer invited his children to the family home, 934 Western Avenue, Allegheny, to assist in celebrating his golden wedding anniversary on May 27. None but the children was invited, and each found by his or her plate of small dinner "favor" of checks, bonds and deeds amounting to $4,000,000 each.

The four children who received these gifts are: William Henry Singer, landscape painter, now in Norway, where he spends most of his time.

George Singer, iron manufacturer of Pittsburg, now in the White Mountains on a vacation.

Mrs. William Ross Proctor, wife of a Philadelphia architect.

Marguerite Singer, a younger daughter, who lives at home.

Mrs. Singer, who has a fortune of her own, received several pieces of valuable real estate as her golden wedding present.

Mr. Singer made his fortune as a member of the iron firm of Singer, Nimick, and Company. He also was connected with many banking institutions in Pittsburg and his wealth remaining after giving his children their fortune is $15,000,000.

A peculiar feature of the case was made known yesterday. Wm. Henry Singer, the son who chose painting rather than the iron business as his life's work, will not be able to enjoy his millions in America owing to the great fear his wife holds of the "black hand." She recently received a threatening letter and it frightened her into hysterics. Her husband was finally compelled to take her abroad.

The elder Mr. Singer is following out the policy laid down by his life-long friend, Charles Lockhart of the Standard Oil Company, who before his death called all his children into a dinner party and under each plate put a check for $1,000,000.

Mr. Lockhart and Mr. Singer many years ago promised each other they would distribute their wealth among their children "in time to do the children some good."

ELECT OFFICERS

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 19.—At an exciting meeting of the directors of the Los Angeles Racing Association officers of the track at Santa Anita were elected as follows: Presiding judge, Colonel A. W. Hamilton; assistant judge, E. D. Cole; manager, Dr. J. S. Gardner; handicapper, E. C. Smith; secretary, F. G. Randle. The directors for a time were split upon the election of presiding judge and manager.

VIA CYANIDE ROUTE

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 19.—The body of Charles G. VanFleet, formerly a judge of the supreme court of Colorado, was found in a room in a lodging-house here last night. The former jurist had taken cyanide of potassium and had been dead for some time when found. Judge Van Fleet came to California six years ago from Colorado and had been living on a ranch near San Jacinto. He leaves a wife and one son at San Jacinto.

FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE

LANSING, Mich., Sept. 19.—The Michigan Federation of Labor went on record yesterday in favor of woman suffrage and against prohibition and local option. It was decided to extend an invitation at the Denver meeting of the American Federation of Labor in November to hold the 1909 convention in Detroit.

GONE FAITH-MAD

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—While oJ. Bulanda stormed at the doors of the county hospital last night, vainly seeking admission to protect his son from the surgeon's knife, Judge Tut-hill, of the juvenile court, was consoling the boy and endeavoring to have his consent to the operation, which is expected to save his life. Bulanda has said that he would rather the boy would die than to allow his arm to be amputated.

The surgeons will amputate the gangrene-affected arm today, and if the father attempts to carry out his threat to do bodily harm to Warden Hoppel and the operating physicians he will be arrested.

The father said he had engaged a faith healer, who guaranteed to save the boy's arm as well as his life. The warden was told that $25,000 damage suits would be started against him and all persons taking part in the operation, but he did not heed the three.

"It is simply a case of ignorance against science," said Warden Hoppel. "The arm will come off, despite Bulanda's threats. The boy's life is at stake, and the operation is the only thing that will save it."

DECISION IS IMPORTANT

Coal Companies Can't Monopolize Transportation By Owning Cars

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Frank B. Kellogg, special deputy attorney general, who is prosecuting the government's case against the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, after reading carefully Justice Pritchard's decision in the circuit court at Richmond, Va., to the effect that coal companies can not monopolize transportation facilities by virtue of ownership of private cars, said:

"I should say this is a very important decision and will have a beneficial effect on railroad transportation. It is the duty of the railroad companies to use every reasonable effort to furnish equal transportation facilities to all their shippers. I believe the roads should own all their equipment."

records in the attorney general's office the attorneys in record in 1889 and 1900, when the cases against the Standard and subsidiary companies were tried, were M. R. Keith, S. C. T. Dodge, Joseph H. Choate, of New York, and Virgil P. Kline, of Cleveland. None of the attorneys who were employed in the attorney general's office knew anything about the connection of Foraker with the Standard Oil Company.

"Yet," said Smith W. Bennett, assistant attorney general, "Foraker was the power behind the throne and may have been giving legal advice and looking up similar cases in other courts for citation in the fight of the Standard Oil Company in Ohio."

The same official stated he was employed most of the time with Attorney General Monnett in his contests through various courts with the Standard and has yet to hear from Foraker to make any arguments, or even appear in person or otherwise at any of the various hearings.

Sibley Denies Letters

FRANKLIN, Pa., Sept. 18.—Former Congressman Joseph C. Sibley today denied emphatically that he had ever written to Archbold telling him that he warned Roosevelt not to offend the Standard Oil Company.

Bill 500 Private Claim

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Congressional records fail to show any bill introduced in congress during 1900 or in the first session of the fifty-sixth congress, which was in session at that time, relating to foreign corporations, as referred to in the Foraker - Archbold correspondence. House bill No. 500, to which specific reference is made in the correspondence, was a private claim bill and did not deal with corporations in any way. There was not at that time any member of the house named Price, which is given as the name of the author of the bill referred to.

Hearst Reads Letters

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 18.—Hearst, in a speech opening the Independence party campaign in Missouri here tonight, answered the reply of Senator Foraker to letters read by Hearst at Columbus last night, and read two more letters from Archbold, of the Standard Oil Company, to Foraker. The new letters, Hearst said, refute the claim of the Ohio senator that all his work for the Standard Oil related solely to Ohio matters. Hisses greeted the speaker when he assailed Bryan and the Democratic party.

Not only did Hearst reply to Foraker, but he devoted a portion of his speech to Governor Haskell, of Oklahoma, whom he charged with having served the Standard Oil Company, and said that apparently Haskell had got out of his work with the Standard Oil, the chairmanship of the Democratic national convention and the treasurership of the Democratic national committee.

Foraker, according to Hearst, would not have admitted he was in the employ of the Standard had he known Hearst read the letters tonight, but would have denied the entire matter. The first letter follows: "26 Broadway, "New York, Jan. 27, 1902.

The second letter:

"26 Broadway,

"New York, Feb. 25, 1902.

"My Dear Senator—I venture to write you a word regarding the bill introduced by Senator Jones of Arkansas, known as S. B. 49, intended to amend the act to protect trade and commerce against unlawful monopolies, etc., introduced by him December 24th.

"It really seems as though this bill is very necessarily severe and even vicious. Is it not much better to test the application of the Sherman act before resorting to a measure of this kind?"

"I hope you will feel so about it, and I will be greatly pleased to have a word from you on the subject. This is, I believe, still in the committee. Very truly, J. D. ARCHBOLD. "Hon. J. B. Foraker, Washington, D. C."

Haskell Denies

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—Governor Haskell, of Oklahoma, in a statement tonight, denied ever having had anything to do with the Standard Oil Company, as charged by Hearst at Columbus. He says the man referred to was W. C. Haskell, former United States marshal at Cleveland, now an employe of the district of Columbus. Hearst's statement is false.

SACRIFICE TO SCIENCE

While it involved no loss of life the destruction of Count Zeppelin's balloon by lightning near Stuttgart, Germany, on August 5, last, was one of the severest blows yet struck at aerial navigation.

A spectacular accident to a mammoth airship at Barkley Cal., on May 23, last, resulted in a serious injury to sixteen men who narrowly escaped with their lives.

The airship, the invention of Captain J. A. Morrell, was on its trial trip. In full view of ten thousand people it ascended 300 feet when it suddenly burst and dropped to the ground with its crew of 16 men. One of the most remarkable escapes from death in aeronautical history was that of Gail Robinson who sailed the Knabenshue airship at Springfield, Ohio, July 13, 1907. Robinson fell 800 feet, the only mark of his experience being a small scratch. Everyone of the bystanders who witnessed his ascent expected to see Robinson dashed to a pulp. At first his machine shot downward so rapidly it was hard for the eye to follow him. As he neared the earth the machine slowed up and he reached ground safely.

When the people flocked to the wrecked balloon, thinking to find Robinson a corpse he was lighting a cigarette.
