TERSE TALES OF THE TOWN

At Family Addition—

There was born to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson a daughter yesterday afternoon. All are doing well.

At The Hospital—

No new cases were received at the hospital yesterday and all the patients at that institution were reported as doing well.

A Son And Heir—

Max F. Lorens was made a happy father yesterday when his wife presented him with a son. Mother and baby are doing nicely, thank you.

Contract Awarded—

James Hansen of this city has been awarded the contract for roofing the Columbia Warehouse in Uppertown. The consideration is $300 and work will commence at once.

Taxes Coming In—

The second installment of taxes, due October 1st, is being paid by many taxpayers, the sheriff's office being a busy scene in this respect. Very little else was doing in the office, there being no session of court.

Gone To Hillsboro—

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Utzinger, of this city, left yesterday morning for Hillsboro, the old home of Mrs. Utzinger, where they will visit for some weeks, taking in the Clackamas county Fair while they are there.

Will Go To Tillamook—

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hackman, with their children, Charles, Sarah, John and Nancy, of Seaside, are in the city, and waiting for the Sue H. Elmore, to go out into the Tillamook country to make their new home.

On Business Visit—

A. E. Buettner, traveling auditor of the Weinhard Brewing Co., of Portland, is on a business trip to Astoria. Mr. Buettner, who has been on a trip to California reports business as increasing greatly in that State.

The Gambling Cases—

The grand jury has as yet taken no action in the cases of the six men arrested for gambling on Sunday, and as the district attorney is out of the city, and will not return until Monday, no action is likely to be taken, at least until that time.

Wharf Condemned—

On account of the fact that the railway wharf has been condemned as unsafe the Old Oregon Mills was compelled to send by rail to the Hanthorn cannery wharf a shipment of lumber to be placed on an outgoing vessel.

Improved Water Supply—

A piece of work that will add materially to Astoria's water supply is nearly completed. The pipe line from Fat Buck Creek to Cedar Creek is finished and the construction of a dam and stand pipes is proceeding satisfactorily.

To Be On Hand—

Tomorrow the pheasant season opens in Oregon, and in this behalf, and to be on the ground, W. N. Ford, of this city, left up last night, for Albany via the Lurline, to be on the best ground in the State for such game, the Willamette Valley.

Gone To Crook County—

Warnstaff Bros., of Olney, have disposed of their interests in that section and left last night with their families for Crook county, where they will engage in agricultural pursuits having a large farm there. They departed on the steamer Lurline.

May Bid On Derelict—

J. H. Roberts, general manager of the Willamette & Columbia River Ship Lining Co., was in the city yesterday. Mr. Roberts was inspecting the wreck of the schooner Minnie E. Kelton and it is expected that his bid for it will appear when the bids are opened tomorrow.

Business Changes Hands—

The business of the Acme Dairy Company, of this city, will change hands tomorrow, the Sunflower Dairy Company having purchased the entire interest, which will be merged with the Sunflower concern, and run on the popular lines observed by that company since it was organized.

Home Again—

Mrs. T. F. Laurin is home after a pleasant visit with friends in Portland. She returned Monday and while absent attended the State Fair at Salem and the stock show at Portland. Edwin Laurin who accompanied her entered Columbia University for the coming term.

To Open Bids—

The water commission at their meeting next Friday night, will open bids for the construction of the proposed 20,000,000-gallon reservoir and

as several contractors have been examining the specifications it is thought that several proposals will be submitted.

Like Summer Weather—

Dan Belcher is still in evidence with the city street sprinkler, and hopes the weather will continue to allow him to keep going for some time. One of the horses being used on the sprinkler was laid up with distemper yesterday another being substituted for him.

Two Made One—

A marriage license was issued yesterday afternoon, by Cupid Clinton to Jasper Hoogaard and Martha Christensen, both of Seaside. Judge Trenchard in his office, immediately afterward, performed the ceremony that made the happy couple one and smilingly they went their way.

Missionary Arrived—

Rev. John R. Merke arrived in Astoria last night to assist Father McDonald, who is conducting a successful mission at St. Mary's Church. Father Waters is much gratified at the splendid results of the mission, thus far, and with the advent of Father Merke looks for a continuance of its success.

One Year At Home—

Edward Johnson, of Seaside, was in the city yesterday and made full arrangements for his trip and voyage hence to his old home in Bergen, Norway. He will leave on tomorrow morning's A. & C. express, and will be absent for a whole year; but he says he will be back because this is the place to live.

Skamokawa Improvement—

Considerable activity is being shown at the Howell Shingle Company's plant at Skamokawa. The new warehouse, recently completed, is 36x192 feet and a new dock 112 feet long has been built. Eighty-four-inch cut-off saws have also been installed. The capacity of the mills is 300,000 shingles per day and there is a steady demand for the output.

Will Open Office Here—

Water Bailiff Ole Settem, of the State Fisheries Department, lays down the badge and prestige of office tomorrow and will retire to other pursuits. W. A. Mack who has been appointed to succeed Mr. Settem, will open an office and operate from this city in the official quests he shall make after transgressing fishermen, if any there be.

Trial On October 7th—

The trial of William Campbell, for the alleged killing of Mr. McClellan on Gray's River, in the early summer, will come off of the 7th of the coming month, at Cathlamet; a number of witnesses have been subpoenaed from this city; and there are many who will attend from here on the score of definite and personal interest in the matter.

Taken Suddenly Ill—

Mrs. Louise Tripp, of Portland, who has been visiting her son-in-law, James Hansen, was taken suddenly ill on Monday night while at dinner. Dr. Estes was called and gave the lady prompt attention. She was somewhat improved last night though she had been delirious during the day. It is thought that she is on a fair way to recovery.

Small Registration—

Very little registration is being done at the county clerk's office for the coming election there having been but ten names added to the list since registration has opened. The books will remain open until October 10th but it is expected that there will be little increase as it is thought that most of the voters registered prior to the June election which registration holds good for the presidential contest.

Fisheries Dull Everywhere—

Captain Tom Latham yesterday received a letter from a friend on the Siuslaw, from which it is learned that the salmon fishing down that way is practically nil; which news corresponds with that received from all coast points lately; and which makes the sudden relief attained to under the new restraining order from the federal court at Portland, a bit irksome to those most interested in the business.

Going In Heavily—

It is said hereabout that the Warrenton interests are purchasing heavily in the tide-land area about Shoalwater Bay, with a view to establishing immense dairy interests over there, upon bases that are altogether modern and complete. William Mills have sold to their representatives the last reality holding he possessed over there and has gone to Portland. The Warrens will dike extensively and put up the best improved barns, and buildings, and machinery known to the business, and otherwise perfect their plans to create one of the largest and finest dairies in the coast country.

Incipient Blaze—

A telephone alarm sent to headquarters yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock and transmitted to the entire fire department brought Chemical No. 1, Hose 1 and Hose 2 to the corner of Fourteenth and Duane streets promptly. The cause of the alarm was the burning of a lot of shavings under a newly finished building which will be occupied by the Sunflower Dairy. With the usual alacrity of the fire boys No. 2 soon had a stream playing on the small blaze, Chemical No. 1 and Hose 1 standing by to render assistance if necessary. Their services were not needed and no loss is reported.
