

NOTICE
Books, Periodicals, Magazines, &c.
Are Not to be Taken From This Library without permission. Any violation of such provisions will be liable to the usual penalties.

DAY DEVOTED LARGELY TO THE WAKING OF ADDRESSES

Automobile Touring of City Indulged In

SOME FEELING SHOWN

San Francisco Chamber of Commerce Presents Resolutions of Interest

DAVID STARR JORDAN TALKS

Trans-Mississippi Congress Continues to Hold Interesting Sessions—Contests Before Committee on Resolutions.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—The session of the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress held today was devoted largely to addresses covering the wide variety of subjects to deliberations of the committee of resolutions which took action on a number of important questions and to the entertainment of delegates in the form of automobile tours of the city.

Practically all of the contests before the committee on resolutions in affect, directly or indirectly expressed the policy of the national administration upon matters in relations of the resources and in some instances it is expected that the controversies will be carried to the floor of the convention tomorrow when the delayed report of the committee is presented for consideration.

One of the most important of these is related with the disposal of water rights for power development and a resolution was introduced by Frank Short of Fresno, dealing with the subject, so amended in the committee as to defeat a proposal to grant to its originators of the powers projects the rights and privileges that are now accorded irrigationists.

Former Governor Pardee of California, a member of the national commission on conservation and resources, opposed Short in the hearing, and it was agreed that the resolution should not endorse the granting of perpetual rights, whether located in or out of the forest reserves and should not confer the right of disposal upon the state in which they are located. Late in the day the session was enlivened by an appeal made on the floor by Edward M. Berwick, president of the California Postal Progress League, who accused the committee on resolutions of sharp practice in encompassing the defeat of his resolution providing the endorsement of the parcels post measure.

Colonel H. D. Loveland who chanced to be presiding, declared Berwick himself guilty of sharp practice in making a point of no quorum after his resolution was voted down. The parcels post question will be passed up to the convention.

C. R. Rulofson, representing the San Francisco chamber of commerce presented to congress a set of resolutions adopted by the Tri-State Conference representing the commercial

(Continued on page 8)

CATHLAMET STILL AGOG OVER MURDER TRIAL

JURY SECURED IN CAMPBELL CASE AND TESTIMONY BEING TAKEN.

SEVERAL WITNESSES CALLED

Careful Examination of Witnesses by the Defense Indicates Protracted Trial—Eye Witnesses of Shooting on the Stand.

The interest in the Campbell murder case is unabated and it remains very keen. The town is still crowded and every point in the progress of the trial is being closely watched. The securing of the jury was completed Thursday afternoon, the opening presentations made by the prosecution and the defense and the examination of witnesses commenced.

Capt. J. W. Babbidge was the first witness called but as his position on the boat, the day of the shooting, precluded his being an eye witness of the shooting his examination was short.

Capt. Hagbloom, of te Princeton, was the next witness called and he remained on the witness stand until adjourned, in the evening, there

(Continued on page 8)

WATERWAYS CONGRESS FINISHES WORK

Measure Passed for Connecting Lakes and Gulf

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—The adoption of resolutions and declaring the opening of the deep water channel connecting the Great Lakes with the Gulf of Mexico to be an imperative duty of the general government and that this work be immediately begun, and finished as soon as possible, selection of New Orleans for the next convention and the re-election of old officers were the features of the close of the session today of the waterways association.

Theodore Shonts of New York attacked violently the system of operation of railroads by commissions. "This system," said M. Shonts, "is wholly un-American and is in violation to the first principles of free government."

Shonts described the working of the New York public service commissions. "The state regulation under such a statute," he said, "is in effect to state prohibition of new enterprises and is state operation of existing railroads. What is the result? Transportation development in New York is not paralyzed,—it is dead."

BASEBALL GAMES.

Pacific Coast League.
Los Angeles 6, Portland 1.
San Francisco 7, Oakland 4.

COL. STEWART WILL BE RETIRED SOON

Retiring Board Finds Him to Be Incapacitated

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The army retiring board which has been investigating the conditions of the health of Col. W. F. Stewart, a so-called Fort Grant exile, concluded its work today and while the result of their deliberations are not officially made public, it is understood the board found Colonel Stewart seriously afflicted with valvular disease of the heart which incapacitate him to active service in the army. The finding will be reported to the Secretary of War tomorrow and it is probable Stewart's retirement by the president will follow. If not retired Stewart will still have more than four years active service and his friends say he will have a good chance of reaching the grade of brigadier-general before leaving active service. If retired he will receive three-fourths of the regular pay, about $400 a month. Stewart is not permitted to present circumstances under which he was sent to Fort Grant. The Colonel stated that he was in the habit for years riding 20 to 35 miles a day on horseback. He has been in the service about 40 years and there are only four officers who have a longer record. His counsel said the only criticism of Stewart's service by General Grant, who said Stewart was an able and efficient officer but that his "Efficiency is marred by irascibility."

WAR CLOUD AGAIN DARKENING IN THE FAR EAST

weeks' leave of absence, but the suspension of his brother officer will keep him here as a witness in the case.

TAFT TO VISIT ROOSEVELT.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 9.—Judge Taft and President Roosevelt will have a consultation in Washington where the candidate will spend Sunday, October 18th. In arranging his future work in the campaign which was the task the candidate devoted himself today it was found more convenient than otherwise that the Sunday in question should be spent at the national capital.

ENGLISH GIRLS COME OVER TO WED

LOVERS MEET THEM ON BOARD SHIPS AT NEW YORK DOCKS.

RED TAPE IN THE WAY

Immigration Laws Wouldn't Permit Their Landing Unless Married, So a Parson Was a Brought and the Knots Tied in the Ship's Library.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Wedding bells rang loud and long aboard the White Star S. S. Majestic. When the mail steamer from Old England arrived at her pier she brought three brides-to-be who were to be met by as many promised husbands. The girls were Miss Alice L. Osborn of Norwich, Eng.; Miss Mildred F. Hand of Bournemouth, Eng.; Miss Rost Jane Webb of Portsmouth, Eng. They had to tell all this to the immigration inspectors but she would not allow them to go ashore until yesterday. It took a good deal of red tape for three very earnest young men to get aboard the Majestic and into communication with three weeping young women who dried their eyes at sight of their sweethearts. The lovers were Walter Smith, formerly of London

(Continued on page 8)

Belgrade Ignores Warnings—Wants Bloodshed

WOULD OUST CABINET

Also Demand Abdication of King Peter Unless He Declares War

FIRE ON BULGARIAN FLAG

2000 Austro-Hungarian Troops Are Garrisoned on Drinar River Between Bosnia and Serbia, and 150,000 Men Can be Had in 24 Hours.

VIENNE, Oct. 9.—In spite of the warnings of King Peter from Great Britain and France for the people of Serbia to be kept in check, the populace of Belgrade held demonstrations yesterday, demanded the resignation of the cabinet and also the abdication of King Peter unless he declared war against Austria-Hungary which has refused to accept Serbia's protest against the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina. Two thousand Austro-Hungarian troops are garrisoned along the Driner river between Bosnia and Serbia and are ready for eventualities, and it is said 150,000 men can be thrown into Serbian territory in 24 hours.

Prince Ferdinand, Czar of Bulgaria, entered Philippos yesterday and received enthusiastic greetings at the hands of troops and the populace. There is no confirmation of the report that Albanians have declared the independence of the Sultan of Turkey. The forts on the Bosphorus yesterday fired blank shots across the bows of a steamer flying the new Bulgarian royal flag as it attempted to pass them. The remarkable feature of self control of Turkey, who are acting practically under the direction of Sir Edward Grey, British secretary of foreign affairs.

CANEA, Oct. 9.—Official information was received today from Candia to the effect that the militia has taken oath of fidelity to Greece that the authorities have stopped the move-

(Continued on page 8)

ASTORIA POLICE OFFICER SUSPENDED FROM DUTY

Patrolman Linville Removed Temporarily Pending Investigation For Alleged Faults

CASE WILL GO BEFORE POLICE COMMISSIONERS

The Trouble Started Several Nights Ago When It Is Said Linville Commenced Drinking After Having Been a Tototaller for Many Months

Acting Chief of Police Fred Oberg last night suspended Patrolman Linville pending an investigation of charges that will be presented against him before the police commissioners. This news will be received with great surprise among many of the friends of the big police officer.

The trouble had its origin several nights ago, when, it is alleged, Patrolman Linville started drinking slightly after having been virtually a tototaller for many months, and it is further alleged that on the night in question Patrolman Linville and Patrolman Emslie Houghton met and engaged in a wordy altercation that promised for a time to end in some serious affray. Both are bold men and fearless, and not the men to consider the consequences, but happily this matter passed off by Patrolman Houghton calmly walking away.

At all events their altercation attracted much attention, and especially among those who are not friendly to Patrolman Linville, the occasion was one not to let go by. The next day the story was told all over town and the office of the acting chief of police was flooded with the tales that came in.

Last night Acting Chief Oberg refused to discuss the matter other than to confirm the report of the suspension. "I have suspended Patrolman Linville," he said, "thought I did so with the greatest reluctance."

The news of the suspension spread fast last night in that part of the city known as the "bad lands" where Patrolman Linville's beat is, and where he is hated with a cordiality that is as marked as it is general. Linville's iron hand and iron determination have, it is said, perhaps done more to quell thefts and crimes in that portion of the city than any other agency or man, and while this activity has won him credit among citizens generally it has also won for him a dislike and hatred in some quarters that are now exulting.

According to the story told of the matter the past few days, Patrolman Linville began drinking a few nights ago, and late that night Patrolman Houghton went to him and advised him to set with circumspection, whereupon, it is alleged, Linville at once began to abuse his brother officer and their wordy altercation grew to so high a pitch that they could be heard for a block around. Bystanders thought that a serious affray was about to occur. Such is the story that has been generally told.

It is understood that Patrolman Linville denies emphatically the allegations of having been drinking.

The tales of the affair began to fly thick and fast to police headquarters, until finally there seemed nothing for the acting chief to do but prefer the charges. The exact nature of the charges has not yet been formulated, but it is presumed that the patrolman will be called to face the police commissioners and explain the whole matter.

Police Officer Houghton was about to leave for California on a two

PRIMARY LAW NOW UNDER ADVISEMENT

Judiciary Non-Partisan Feature of Washington Law Attacked by Prospective Candidate

OLYMPIA, Wash., Oct. 9.—The supreme court today heard the arguments in the four cases of candidates who have attacked the direct primary law. The court took the matter under advisement. Although there is some adverse speculation on the subject, it is generally believed the decision will be rendered in ample time before the election.

Chief interest was attached to the case brought by Charles E. Coon against the canvassing board in which a writ has been issued requiring the board either to certify Coon as the nominee for lieutenant-governor or show cause why M. E. Hay who received a majority of the first and second choice votes should be placed on the ticket. This case involves the constitutionality of the choice provision and decision thereon will determine the nominations also for governor and Attorney-General.

The case of W. W. Zent, who was defeated by O. R. Holcomb for non-partisan superior judge of Adams, Franklin and Benton counties, attacks the judiciary of the non-partisan feature of the law, as does also the case of William H. White, who desires to become a candidate for superior judge of King county. Arguments in these cases were practically consolidated. E. K. Pendergast, who seeks to compel the Secretary of State to place him on the ticket for superior judge of Okanogan and Ferry counties, as a candidate by petition, presented his own case and the attorney-general submitted a written brief against the petition.

PETITIONS OUT FOR MAYORALTY

One Is for I. Bergman, the Other Seeks Signatures for Mayor Wise to Run Again

Somewhat to the surprise of business men and others in the downtown sections two petitions were in circulation yesterday for the office of Mayor. The first out, apparently, was one in favor of I. Bergman, and when it became known that the Bergman petition was being assiduously circulated, friends of Mayor Wise started out a petition for his candidacy. Both were signed pretty freely, though as a rule the politicians refrained from signing either.

For the past several months it has been understood that Mr. Bergman had it in mind to be a candidate, though later the statement had gained wide circulation that he had said he would not run for the mayoralty providing any other good or strong man wished to make the race.

In a general way it has been understood that Mayor Wise did not wish to run again, and the petitions out yesterday in his name were circulated by friends who are urging him to again become a candidate for the mayoralty. Whether Mayor Wise will decline, or will permit his name to stand, is not yet definitely known.

But whether Mayor Wise runs or not the candidacy of Mr. Bergman apparently means that there is bound to be at least one opponent in the field. It seems to be well understood that Mr. Bergman would primarily be the candidate of what may be termed the liberal element, and those who oppose an "open" town, and who are

(Continued on page 8)