CRAFT ARRIVING AND DEPARTING IN AND FROM ASTORIA
—AND THEIR MASTERS, MEN AND MESSAGES

Captain Peterson of the fine barkentine Puako now at the Columbia mills dock at Knappton, was in the city yesterday on matters of business. He hopes to be loaded with his million feet of fir lumber by the 25th inst., and will then ship his crew and outfit for the long voyage to Sydney, Australia. Mrs. Peterson, who accompanied her husband on the voyage to this port will sail this afternoon on the steamer Yosemite, for ternoon on the steamer Yosemite, for band later in the Hawaiian Islands whence the Puako sails.

The steamer Wasp, of, and from San Francisco, entered port yesterday morning at 10 o'clock and an hour later berthed at the Callender dock. She had on board 250 tons of powder which is due for delivery at Martin's Bluff and the Wasp went on up the river in a short time after her arrival. She will then go to Goble and load ties for the return voyage.

Captain Reed, of the fine bark tug Wallula was a busy man yesterday. He took the French bark Cornill Bart to sea at 1:30 o'clock p. m. and brought in the American barkentine J. M. Griffith, from San Francisco, and then went out after the French bark Ville du Havre, chartered for grain at Portland and brought her into port.

The steamer Yosemite will be down from Prescott at 3 o'clock this afternoon and will sail for San Diego, loaded deep with lumber for the Benson people. She leaves the Callender pier at that hour.

STROKE OF WORK

STORE OF FOARD & STOKES
HARDWARE COMPANY
BURGLARIZED.

When the big store of the Foard & Stokes Hardware Company was opened up for business yesterday morning at the customary hour, the unpleasant discovery was made that the establishment had been burglarized during the night and eleven fine weapons, consisting of four guns (three shotguns and one rifle) and seven revolvers taken; each and all of the highest grade of manufacture, and approximating a value of $200.

The burglary was committed along about midnight and when the tide was out, the thieves having made the attack upon the house from beneath the street decking, as there are plenty of signs of waterfront mud that lead from the outer premises to the door through which entrance was effected. A oneinch Zenith bit and augur was used to bore holes clear around the lower panel of the east door of the pair in the rear of the store some 50-odd holes being bored before the panel was lifted out. The opening was just 14 inches by 12, which indicates that a reasonably small man must have done the work; and all signs point to the utmost deliberation and coolness on the part of the scoundrels engaged in it, the weight of the articles taken precluding the idea of one man having accomplished it with the necessary dispatch.

The thieves made no overtures toward the office, nor did they attack the cash register which they must have passed frequently in their peregrinations about the store and which contained some silver money; they were after weapons and nothing else.

The robbery was cleverly devised and well carried out, but there are resources in possession of the company which will be worked out to a culmination that will, sooner or later, lead to the guilty parties. This is the third robbery this house has had to face in the two years of its business existence.

HON. W. R. ELLIS HERE YESTERDAY EN ROUTE FOR THE COOS COUNTRY.

Hon. W. R. Ellis, of Pendleton, senior representative in Congress, for the State of Oregon, was in the city yesterday morning for an hour, or two, or during the stay here of the steamship Breakwater, en route to Coos Bay. Judge Ellis was enjoying the luxury of an early and beautiful morning in Astoria, with its brilliant sunshine, and fresh winds from the open sea, and had just finished a hearty breakfast when the Astorian man joined him in a promenade on the Breakwater's upper deck. After an interchange of courtesies, in which Astoria and her people lost nothing by way of friendly comment at the instance of the distinguished East Oregonian, that gentleman went on to say something of a cheering nature in political way, which was to the following effect:

"The State Republican Executive Committee deemed it necessary to send some one down into the lower coast country in the interests of Mr. Taft's election, not from any fear that the normal majorities down that way would be distributed by even a fraction, but as evidence of good faith, genuine good faith, and to show our friends they were not forgotten, so they asked me to go down there and give an account of things, and that is my errand. While I am there it is my purpose to hold five meetings and deliver addresses at Marshfield, North Bend, Coquille, Myrtle Point and Bandon, beginning next Monday night and taking the points named, daily, in this sequence. This should enable me to reach home, or at least Portland, on the evening of Sunday after next.

"Of course you good people of Clatsop are going to send up a round thousand majority for Taft next month; that goes without saying; nobody ever worries about your county at such junctures as this, and indeed, the State at large, is safer than it ever was in a Presidential election before. With the possible exception of In-

NAME MEANS SOMETHING.

When A. E. Petersen built and named the "Modern" barber shop, he meant that it should stand for what it was called. No patron has missed a single feature of the modern tonorial parlor at that house; and every new device in the way of perfect comfort and service is constantly added as it develops. The latest is an expert bootblack, the best in the business; a qualification that makes his employment really modern.

When last night's express from Portland pulled in at the depot, F. N. Clark, the genial, ever-smiling president of the Columbia Trust Company, was one of the first to alight, laden with two big heavy grips full of literature about the big tract, Swinton, which his company is handling in Portland. It seems good to have Mr. Clark with us to liveen us up with his optimistic spirit and enthusiasm, if it is only for a few days.

Swinton, an ad about which appears on the last page of this issue, is a tract which the Columbia Trust Company put on the market in Portland four weeks ago today. It is located on the Peninsula at Portland right along side of the great Swift townsite, "Kenton." The sale of the lots in Swinton has been phenomenal, its equal never before having been known in the history of the real estate business of Portland. The cause of this is the fact that it is located right in the center of the great activity on the Peninsula and people have been quick in seeing the excellent opportunity for investment offered in Swinton lots.

In speaking about the development and condition of things in that particular part of Portland, Mr. Clark said in part: "A person who has not had the opportunity to visit the section in which Swift's townsite, Kenton, and Swinton are located cannot begin to realize what is actually being done there. Swift's have laid out a townsite upon which they are laying the foundation of practically a new city. Hundreds of men and teams are at work there grading streets, laying water mains, installing electric lights and street car lines, gas, telephones, etc., and the construction of several buildings has begun.

"Our tract of Swinton, which we have been making so much to do over, is right in the path of all these developments and the way that the lots have been selling has been something wonderful. Nearly everyone who has seen the tract have bought lots, and many who have not seen it, among whom are some of the schrewdest business men in Portland. In several instances whole blocks have been sold to single purchasers. It has been pronounced by all as decidedly the best investment in Portland today. One of the greatest reasons for the great success of this proposition is due to the fact that we have our prices much lower than any other property in that vicinity.

"It was my intention to come to Astoria and give the people here an opportunity to buy these lots just as soon as we had it ready for the market but we were taken so by surprise by the sale of them in Portland that it caught us unprepared and we have been swamped, this being the first chance I've had to get away. Mr. Johnson, our local representative, has been kept busy selling lots in Swinton here in Astoria as a result of our advertising in the Portland papers, many of which purchasers have seen the property and come back more than pleased with their buys. I intend to be here for a few days to help Mr. Johnson out and to give others a chance to get in on this great proposition. Every man or woman in Astoria who has a little money to invest should buy one or more lots in Swinton. It will make them big and quick profits. We have made our terms easy, requiring only 10 per cent of purchase price down and 2 per cent of purchase price per month. While here I will make my headquarters with Mr. A. R. Johnson, at 120 Twelfth street."
