CAMP NEMO, Reel Foot Lake, Oct. 27.—Return to camp today of Governor Patterson accompanied by Assistant Adjutant-General Alexander, who captured 10 more prisoners and the return of Captain Rogas from an expedition covering the entire Reel Foot Lake section were the principal events here today.

Nothing definite is known of the Governor's plans but it is rumored he will make another sifting of the prisoners and that the most important ones will be sent to Union City to appear before the grand jury.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 27.—A suit for $100,000 damages which was filed in the United States Circuit Court today promises to become an important factor in the night rider situation.

REMAINS IN THE RACE UNTIL IT ENDS

AN INTERESTING INTERVIEW WITH HON. ISAAC BERGMAN ON THE MAYORALTYSHIP.

"I SHALL STAY IN THE RACE!"

These were the concluding words of an interview accorded a representative of the Morning Astorian, last evening, by Hon. Isaac Bergman, at his Bond street home, during which the peculiar manipulations of the Smith-Citizens-convention of Monday night, were freely, and disgustfully, adverted to by the nominee of the Astoria Democracy, for the office of Mayor.

"Never in my life have I been so astonished and dismayed as I was at that meeting. My candidacy for the mayoralty was the outcome of many kindly and insistent request on the part of my friends, and my acceptance of it was more in deference to their wishes than of my own. I think I must have been the only man in Logan hall on Monday night who did not know of Tony Smith's ulterior plans in this direction; and in all my political life I have never been treated as he treated me. A few hours before the assembling of the convention I had intimated, in Smith's own office, my indisposition to take the place, and had begged his brother, John H. Smith, to enter the field and relieve me; but they both insisted on my retaining the claim, and position, I had assumed, and I did so. I feel the incident more than I can well express, but having gone into it with the best faith in the world, I do not feel called upon to relinquish my attitude nor aspiration, and shall not do so, unless, at the Democratic primaries on the 9th of November, he shall have again ousted me at the polls. I do not know what he will do nor do I care. As things stand, I shall stay in the race."

This, is, substantially, the expression of the man who was so boldly knifed in the "house of his friends" on Monday night; and it is the sense of every personal friend of Mr. Bergman in the city. It is said they intend to stand by him to the last ditch. There is no discount on the very broad and resentful feeling that dominates Mr. Bergman's friends and this is likely to grow rather than diminish as the campaign progresses.

sey campaign. Back in New York again he was the guest of the College Men's Democratic Club and next visited Harlem. Six meetings in Harlem brought the day to a close. In all his speeches Bryan warned the laboring men against traitors among them. He asserted that every laboring man who voted the Republican ticket would vote to repudiate the things demanded by labor and in the Denver platform. He held up Taft as an enemy of labor and assailed him at every opportunity. His allusions to the bank guarantee plank brought shouts of approval at all his meetings.

WRIGHT ALL RIGHT AGAIN.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Orville Wright, the aeronaut, will leave Fort Myer hospital for his home at Dayton, Ohio, on Saturday, if his condition continues to improve. His sister, Miss Catherine Wright, who has nursed him at the Army hospital, will accompany him. Mr. Wright desires to vote, even though it may be necessary to carry him to the polls.

LOCKER CLUBS ARE LEGAL.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 27.—The State Court of Appeals held yesterday that the municipal ordinances that conflict with the state law, which licenses the locker clubs, were illegal. The decision was handed down in the case of a Macon (Ga.) social club, attacking the ordinance of that city prohibiting the locker clubs.

IN ROUND THE WORLD BICYCLE RACE

ROBERT HELLMICH, GERMAN RIDER, STOPS OFF HERE FOR AN HOUR.

Robert Hellmich, announcing himself as one of the three men who are making a bicycle race from New York to Paris, stopped off in Astoria for the better part of an hour last night, during the time that the steamer Homer was tied up at her dock here. Hellmich was on his way from San Francisco to Portland on the steamer Homer, and from Portland he stated that he would resume his travels on his wheel, going to Seattle from that city. At Seattle he will take steamer for Japan and China.

Hellmich's credentials indicated that he is what he represented himself to be. He stated that a prize of 20,000 marks is offered for the one that gets to Paris first over a certain route that is laid. The main difficulty will be in the trip across China, Siberia and Russia.

Hellmich is riding a German wheel. He represents the "Wendstraudt", a Berlin bicycle club, he states. On his trip across the continent from New York to San Francisco he used three pairs of tires of American make. His competitors are Henry Fisher, an American rider, and George Walde, a Hungarian. They all left New York on July 14, and Hellmich is the first to reach the Pacific Coast.

score was due to the fact that an Astoria player was near by when another fumble occurred near the Portland Academy's goal line. Although both their scores were made on what might be termed flukes, the Astoria team clearly had the better eleven, and was speedier than the home aggregation at every point. One exception to this was noted in punting, for Cookingham time and again booted the sphere for a distance of 40 yards and saved his team-mates from impending peril.

Portland Academy opened proceedings by kicking off to the 15-yard line, from which place Astoria began a steady march toward their opponents' goal. After two long end-runs by Upshur and some good gains by Parker through tackle, the ball was landed on the Academy's 40-yard line. The Academy team held at this point and Astoria was forced to punt. Upshur drove a pretty spiral which dropped in Cookingham's arms on the goal line. The onrushing Astoria end must have upset the nerve of the Academy quarterback, for he dropped the ball and an Astoria man fell on it for a touchdown. The trial at goal failed and the score was 5 to 0.

The Portland Academy team had not had the ball in its possession yet and the first attempts on the offensive were unsuccessful either in penetrating the opponents' line or in circling the ends. The outside kick was resorted to and was used after that with varying success throughout the game. For the remainder of the game the ball zig-zagged from one end of the field to the other, neither side being able to gain with enough consistency to score. Stoyer for Astoria was seen repeatedly to break through the opposing line and break up the formations.

The second half was characterized by long runs and much shifting of the cene of battle. Morton, Astoria's diminutive end, was used in end-runs around the other wing and proved a good ground-gainer. His fleetness and agility in dodging tacklers were productive of several long runs. Both sides scored in this half and several scores were averted by fumbles being recovered and by good tackles. Astoria scored first about the middle of the half, when Holmes picked up the ball on an outside kick and ran 30 yards for a touchdown. Portland Academy's score came late in the half just before the whistle blew and was on a pretty drop-kick from the 25-yard line by Cookingham. The Academy boys had punted from the midfield and recovered the ball on the 30-yard line on a fumble. An outside kick was worked prettily and put the ball on the 15-yard line. Attempts to penetrate the Astoria line were unsuccessful and Cookingham went back for a try at goal. Standing on the 25-yard line he sent the ball soaring straight between the goals.

FICTION AND FACT.

Dreams of Authors That Have Been Turned into Realities.

The deliver among old books often finds, says the Berlin Umschau, prophecies made by writers which in their day were nothing but romance. This can be so easily observed by reading the works of Jules Verne, and there are also books in which airships, the telephone, photography and the motor wagon have been spoken of generations before these were accomplished facts.

Kaffirs' Love Letters.

The Basutos prove an interesting study. Not that they have any depths of character, but theirs is a very happy go lucky nation. These South Africans are romantic and sentimental, but it's all on the surface. Here are a few amusing paragraphs from Kaffirs' love letters:

"My sweet flowers, the ink and the paper are very glad, because they will see your dear, beautiful face, but the pen and me are truly sad, for we are staying behind!"

"My love for you is burning like a paraffin stove!"

"Oh, you are so beautiful! You look like a peacock sitting under a willow tree!"

A Little Case of Telepathy.

"There is nothing strange to me in the operation of one mind upon another," the telepathic woman said. "Once when my sister I am very fond of was operated on I went with her and sat in the anteroom a long way off from the operating room—that is, I walked up and down there, worried to death nearly about her, when all at once I threw myself into a big armchair and went sound asleep. They had just given her the ether then, so her mind was at rest and rested mine. I slept until she came out from under the influence."
