TO CONSERVE HEALTH OF THE PUBLIC

ROCKEFELLER GIVES PLAIN ANSWER TO PLAIN QUESTION OF HIS CHOICE.

COMMON MALADIES ATTACKED

Being a Republican he Adheres to the Republican Position on Tariff and Currency—Duty of a Citizen, he Says.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—That President Roosevelt has agreed to recommend to Congress in his next message the passage of a law to conserve the health of the public, similar to the one proposed by the American Medical Association was the statement made last night in an address before the New York Academy of Medicine by Charles A. L. Reed of Cincinnati, O., chairman of the Association's committee on national medical legislation. In speaking on the campaign for national health laws, Dr. Reed said:

"On the heels of the various steps forward I am gratified to be able to assure you that the President has authorized the statement that he will formulate definite proposals and transmit them with his endorsement to the next congress. It now devolves upon 130,000 doctors in the United States, not only to back the President, in his work, but to anticipate those actions by a persistent campaign in behalf of this fundamental feature of the public welfare."

Speaking of the pollution of streams, Dr. Reed referred to the Ohio watershed as a "thousand miles of river and a thousand miles of typhoid." Over 60,000 persons die every year of cancer, he said, and the death rate from that cause is increasing by leaps and bounds.

If only one half of the persons who die or are incapacitated as the result of tuberculosis and typhoid were saved, Dr. Reed declared it would mean a saving in money to maintain a "National Board of Health, pay for the army and navy, fortify our coasts, duplicate our armament on our seas, deepen our internal waterways and in ten years would pay for the Panama canal, and wipe out our national debt."

MOTOR GUNBOATS

That the gasoline propelled vessel is excellently adapted for river and harbor service, both from the economy and efficiency of the machinery system, has been conclusively demonstrated, since it possess many advantages over steam. An important development has, however, recently been made by the Austro-Hungarian government acquiring two such vessels for special naval duty upon the River Danube. The vessels measure sixty feet in length by nine feet wide and draw two feet eight inches of water. There are five sets of gasolene motors, each of seventy brake horsepower, driving three screws. Their offensive armament comprises a light gun mounted upon a revolving tower at the stern while there is a crew's nest fitted to the mast whence elevated rifle fire can be maintained. The vulnerable parts of the boats are protected by chrome steel armor plates offering complete resistance to point blank short range rifle fire. Forward is a small coming tower.

In the official tests these vessels proved very speedy, a mean speed of 22 1/2 knots per hour being maintained during a run of sixty minutes with a load of three tons. One very notable point which was strikingly demonstrated is the greater radius of action which such a craft fitted with internal combustion engines offered in comparison with steam. A special test was imposed to ascertain what distance could be covered with a single supply of gasoline in the tanks at the average speed of eleven knots and under these conditions five hundred nautical miles were covered. Had these vessels been fitted with steam propelling machinery it would have been possible to have covered only a third of this distance—on overwhelming advantage in favor of gasoline motors. The boats each have accommodation for six men, one of whom is quite sufficient to attend to the machinery.—World Magazine.

A Jeweler's Experience

C. R. Kluger, the jeweler, 1060 Virginia avenue, Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I was so weak from kidney trouble that I could hardly walk a hundred feet. Four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy cleared my complexion, cured my backache and the irregularities disappeared, and I can now attend to business every day, and recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy to all sufferers, as it cured me after the doctors and other remedies had failed. T. F. Laurin, Owl Drug Store."

All our belongings should mean much to us, and great care should be exercised in selection. We need only a few things, but each of these things should suggest utility, strength, harmony and truth. All of our actions must be suggestive of peace and right. Not only must we speak truth, but we must live it. Our lives should be consecrated to the good—lives consecrated to Truth and Beauty. Consecrated Lives.

Saved His Boy's Life

"My three year old boy was badly constipated, had a high fever, and was in an awful condition. I gave him two doses of Foley's Orino Laxative and the next morning the fever was gone and he was entirely well. Foley's Orino Laxative saved his life." A. Wolkush, Casimer, Wis. T. F. Laurin, Owl-Drug Store.

FRANTIC WOMEN

Organic disturbances of the feminine system act like a firebrand on the nerves of women, often driving them fairly frantic.

A nervous, irritable woman is a source of misery not only to herself, but to all those who come under her influence. That such conditions can be entirely overcome by taking is proven by the following letters. Mrs. Mary Wood, of Christians, Tenn., writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I had the worst form of female troubles and my nerves were all torn to pieces; sometimes I suffered so much that it seemed as though I could not live. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I feel like a different person. Your medicine is worth its weight in gold, and I cannot say enough for your advice."

Mrs. Wallace Wilson, Thompsonville, Conn., writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I was all run down, nervous, and could not rest nights. Doctors failed to help me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored me to perfect health."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodical pains, backache. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.
