EXTRA OFFICER MAY BE OF MUCH HELP

HERETOFORE POLICE HEAD-QUARTERS HAVE BEEN LOCKED AT NIGHT.

Harry W. Rinn, whose services as plain clothes man and as desk man at the police station were scheduled to commence today, took an early start and began the duties at the office yesterday. Later in the day Mr. Rinn went out on a case that was reported by wire and "picked up" two men whose descriptions had been sent in.

The employment of Mr. Rinn should permit some changes at police headquarters that have long been required. Heretofore there has been no one at the station at night, after 6 or 7 o'clock, unless some of the officers chanced to be there, and hence it was not possible for citizens to get an officer by phone no matter how urgent the need might be. Even in the day time the station has been locked up much of the time, as the chief of police found it necessary to be out on the streets in pursuit of his manifold duties. But the lack of any one in the station at night was the worst feature. There might be a burglar in one's house, or a murder going on next door, with no means of securing the quick services of an officer by phone.

It is understood that the new man will be detailed to remain in the station much of the day, and part of his duties will be to keep the books, though this is a very simple matter, though including the handling of the licenses money, etc. With the station thus covered during much of the day it should not prove a difficult matter to arrange to have the office kept open at least during the early part of the night; or, if this is not done, there seems an imperative necessity of making some arrangement whereby citizens may get in touch with the police in case of dire need. At present if a citizen needs an officer the way to get him—after dark—is to go out and look for him on the streets.

Acting Chief of Police Oberg stated yesterday that he may make some new assignment of beats for the men. In this way men who have had night work and bad beats for a long time may get a chance for some easier hours and duties.

Recently there have been several complaints made from Uniontown about lack of proper policing of that section of the city. In some small municipalities where the police force is small and the men are necessarily kept out on the streets, various simple expedients are used to get in touch with the officers in case of urgent need. For example, it may be arranged to phone to the telephone office. There the operator may touch a switch and turn on some red, or green, light prominently displayed on the street. This is almost certain to be seen by officers within a very few minutes, and they can then quickly ascertain what is wanted. This system is now used in several cities of the country, in addition to their signal boxes.

SINGER IS A FUGITIVE, MARKO FREE

SECOND MAN IN WORTHLESS CHECK CASE FINDS HIMSELF IN GREAT LUCK.

S. Singer, the man who was charged with having fleeced four Astoria merchants out of considerable amounts of money by means of worthless checks, and was later released from the county jail upon $200 cash bail, failed to show up yesterday when his hearing was called in justice court. Those who guessed that Singer would not show up guessed right, the very first time.

But Singer may not get off so easily after all. A bench warrant was issued for his arrest at the instance of Mr. Brownell, the district attorney, and efforts will be made to apprehend the missing man. It is presumed that his home is in Seattle. His cash bail was declared forfeited yesterday, and the county is that much ahead anyway. Mr. Brownell stated yesterday that he will do everything in his power to apprehend the fugitive from justice, and the case against him will be prosecuted vigorously if he is found.

But Sam Marko, Singer's partner, was also in great luck. The case against him was dismissed by Justice Goodman after the evidence was all in. A. G. Spexarth, P. A. Stokes, Victor Rost and A. Jaloff all got on the witness stand and told what they could about Marko, but all the testimony combined still left Marko merely an "innocent bystander." He had not signed the checks, nor had he made any false or fraudulent representations, the testimony showed. He had simply stood by while Singer did the work. While it might have been possible to have convicted Marko as a fellow conspirator with Singer, yet under the manner the case was brought this seemed impossible and Marko went free. Thus both men are out of the clutches of the Clatsop county law, though there is the bare possibility that Singer may yet be caught.

SENSATIONAL CHARGE.

California District Attorney Is Accused Of Accepting A Bribe.

REDWOOD CITY, Oct. 31.—In an affidavit filed today by attorneys representing his three stepdaughters, who are contesting for a portion of their deceased mother's estate, the integrity of District Attorney C. C. Bullock of San Mateo is attacked upon an allegation of bribery that promises a sensational investigation. The affidavits alleges that five years ago Bullock solicited a bribe of $2500 from Howard H. McLellan of San Mateo in return for dismissal of an indictment charging McLellan with manslaughter. It is alleged that Bullock finally received $750 for this purpose and gave a receipt which is still in existence.

The allegation is made in support of the contention that the district attorney, who is a candidate for the superior bench, is unfit to manage the $100,000 estate left by his wife.

NAME MEANS SOMETHING.

When A. E. Petersen built and named the "Modern" barber shop, he meant that it should stand for what it was called. No patron has missed a single feature of the modern tonorial parlor at that house; and every new device in the way of perfect comfort and service is constantly added as it develops. The latest is an expert bootblack, the best in the business; a qualification that makes his employment really modern.
