OCEAN, BAR, BAY, DOCK AND RIVER

All the Oregon bars are on the rampage at this time and many a bar-bound craft lurks on the landward side of them trying to wait patiently for the sunny and quiet break that shall make them passable.

The Elmore fleet is tied up, in port, here and at Tillamook. The Sue H. Elmore being at that port, and the Evie and Gerald C., here.

The French bark David D'Angers, Captain Guenen, 155 days from London, in cargo, and consigned to Balfour, Guthrie & Company, was reported off the mouth of the river yesterday at noon.

The Lurline got away in good season last evening with plenty of freight and the following named people: Lew Ogan, W. A. Brin, A. J. Gragg, Mrs. R. D. Cleveland, H. Holden and R. S. Sherwood.

The fine steamship Roanoke is due down from Portland early this morning. Captain Dunham back on the bridge, and will leave out from the Callender pier at 5:30 this morning, for the California coast.

The French bark La Rochejacueline has arrived down on the lines of the Harvest Queen and is in the lower harbor, ready to go to sea and Europe as soon as the bar is amenable.

The Portland-Asiatic steamship Nicomedia is in the city channel waiting for conditions to improve down at the bar so she may proceed safely on her way to the Orient.

The steamer Alliance arrived in from Coos Bay yesterday with good business, and went on to Portland after making her usual stop at the Callender dock in this port.

The French ship Vincennes and the Norwegian ship Dahgill are both below, awaiting an opportunity to cross out on their way to Europe with their cargoes of grain.

The steamer Yosemite arrived down yesterday and went to the lower harbor, where she has good company in her wait for a passable bar.

The steamer Rainier was the only craft that crossed in yesterday. She comes from San Francisco and will load lumber out from Prescott.

The Nehalem tug Geo. R. Vosburg will leave out this morning for her home waters if things are in shape at the bar.

The British bark Lydgate went up the river yesterday on the lines of the Harvest Queen, for Portland.

The steamship Breakwater is due down from Portland this morning on her way out to Coos Bay.

NORTH SIDE NEWS

Miss F. M. Williamson, of Ilwaco, is the accredited representative of The Astorian and will take care of all items of news, orders for subscriptions and all kinds of printing.

ILWACO

Mrs. Clarence Curry of Chinook made a flying trip to Nahcotta the first of the week.

R. H. Herrold left Tuesday for Nasel, after spending a few days with his family in Ilwaco.

Mrs. Bert Sprague of Chinook was visiting friends and relatives in Ilwaco the first of the week.

Thos. Greene, who has been engaged in fishing on Bear River for W. Vaughn for some time, returned the first of the week.

The Ilwaco Mill was closed Monday for repairs and remained closed Tuesday, election day, but resumed operations Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ross, of this city are the proud parents of a beautiful 14 pound baby girl, born on Halloween night October 31st. Both mother and child are reported doing nicely.

Edward Becken and family who have been living in Bear River for the past month or two, moved into town the latter part of last week and will reside here for the remainder of the winter.

Mrs. W. D. Taylor of Ocean Park who has been in very poor health for a long time was taken to the hospital at Chehalis, recently, and every hope is expressed for an improvement in her condition.

A grand ball was given Tuesday evening in the Ilwaco Opera House, as was previously announced by posters, where the returns of the election were also posted and owing to this fact quite a number were present.

Last Sunday the Cape Disappointment Life Saving crew was called to the assistance of a fisherman who started from Knappton to Chinook, and capsized. The crew had no trouble in rescuing him but the net and boat was not picked up until the following day.

Mr. and Mrs. Osborne Goulter, of Oysterville, arrived home last week from Portland, where Mr. Goulter has been under medical treatment for some time. His condition is very much improved and the prospects are that he will soon be as well as ever.

Several hunters from Ilwaco, went to Shoalwater bay, Sunday, but the ducks and geese proved very wild, and, consequently, soon very cold, wet and hungry hunters returned in the evening, without a feather to show for the strenuous day spent on those bleak and lonely shores.

S. S. Slingerland, of Oysterville is enjoying a visit from his sister, who makes her home in Portland. Mr. Slingerland who returned less than a month ago from Berbera Africa, is not in very good health at present, but hopes to be able soon, to get around and visit his friends as he has many interesting things to relate about his Africa trip.

Gus Anderson, who has been engaged in the shoe making business for several months in this city, left Monday for Portland, where he will spend a short time, before leaving for Tillamook where he expects to go into business if conditions look satisfactory. Mr. Anderson will be missed by his host of Ilwaco friends and their best wishes went with him for his success in this new locality.

The five teachers in the Ilwaco Public School returned Saturday morning from South Bend where they spent last week attending teachers institute, which opened Monday evening, October 20, in the Odd Fellows Hall. There were about 70 teachers in attendance, and the many inspiring talks and addresses were highly appreciated, they will also help to bring the schools up to a higher standard of excellence.

An unknown man, was washed ashore Monday morning on the Ilwaco beach, between the Yellow Bluff and the Combine dock. There was nothing about his person to lead to his identification, so he was buried Monday afternoon, in the Ilwaco cemetery by the town. It is most probable that he was drowned in the upper Columbia, because, if he had been drowned out at sea, it is almost impossible for his body, to have washed in where it did.

The play entitled "The Haunted House," given on Halloween evening by the ladies of the Presbyterian Church, was a success in every way, and more than came up to the expectations of the most critical. The young people who rendered their assistance as well as the older ones, are to be highly commended for the ability displayed in the way they acted and recited their parts. The proceeds were not ascertained, but undoubtedly were large, as the Opera House was packed to its full capacity.

Chas. Eckert, who for years has been conductor on the passenger train for the I. R. & N. Co. on their lines running to and from Ilwaco, left the first of the week for Salina, Oregon, where he has accepted a position with Dorsey B. Smith, formerly superintendent for the O. R. & N. Co. on the north side of the river. It will be a long time before the people will be reconciled to seeing a new man in the place where, for years, they have been accustomed to see Mr. Eckert, and it is needless to say that his genial manner both on and off duty will never be forgotten by his old friends and acquaintances. His wife and daughter will join him in the course of a couple of weeks.

Hill Party's Schedule— Inquiry made at the office of General Agent Giles B. Johnson, of the A. & C. Railway, yesterday afternoon, elicited the information that Mr. Hill's special would leave Portland today at 1 o'clock and arrive in this city at or about 3:30 o'clock p. m. Further than this Mr. Johnson had had no definite instructions in the matter.

A Good Show— "Ma's New Husband" at the Astoria Theatre, last night, drew a good house and the audience was pleased with the presentation. The different characters were well portrayed and while there was no plot of any extent there was sufficient to tie the different parts together in such a shape as to entertain the audience until the final ring down of the curtain.

Pacific County Returns— The Astorian learns from reliable sources, that the Republican county ticket in Pacific county, Washington, has been elected entirely, with handsome majorities, with the possible exceptions of the sheriff and one commissioner. The federal returns indicate, at Chinook, Taft, 120; Bryan, 20; and the balance of the county ticket ranging from 105 Republican to 18 and 20 Democratic, all through.

He Celebrated— One well known citizen celebrated the election of Mr. Taft last night by procuring a big bass drum, hiring eight small boys to follow him about the streets carrying torches, and then proceeded to lead his procession about the principal streets. He solemnly but vigorously pounded his big drum until one side was broken, but that did not stop the music. The procession attracted much attention and created a lot of good natured merriment.

Closed Year's Business— The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Alaska Fishermen's Packing Company, of this city, held their annual meeting yesterday afternoon, in the Bond street offices of the company, and the old board of directors was re-elected; after which the board of directors proceeded to elect W. F. McGregor as president for the ensuing year, and E. J. Noonan, as secretary. The company finds its affairs in excellent and satisfactory condition in all departments of its wide interests.

Election Fun— Tuesday night some good friend of Hon. John H. Smith's, strung one of Corbett's quarter-sheet posters, announcing a reward of $10,000 for the discovery of John Smith, and declaring him to be lost, on the door of the Senator's home at Sixteenth and Irving avenue; and in the early hours of yesterday it caused a lot of genuine fun at the expense of the good natured publicist; but he took it as he takes everything, and later in the day admitted that he "went home pretty-blamed early on Tuesday evening as there was not much of interest to keep him down town, anyway." It is said that a brother-attorney, who shall be nameless, but who is of tall, dark, and dignified habit, had more or less to do with the perpetration of the seasonable joke.

Holding-Orders Released— Yesterday there was a general loosening up on the holding-orders that had been heretofore filed with certain of the large manufacturing concerns in this city, for the issue of the Presidential campaign, and among those released were two no-A big salmon order of a carload or two, filed with C. Schmidt & Co., the cold storage house about two months ago, and which was ordered forwarded to New York on telegraphic table ones, worth mentioning, to wit: instructions at once; and the big lumber order filed by the Quincy, Illinois, people sometime ago, for filling in the event of Mr. Taft's election, by the Hammond Lumber Company, at Tongue Point, and which was denied and ridiculed at the time it was announced, in various directions. And these are but meagre instances in tens of thousands of other orders made on the same identical basis, all over the country.
