How to Cure a Cold. Be as careful as you may you will occasionally take cold, and when you do get a medicine of known reliability, one that has an established reputation and that is certain to effect a quick cure. Such a medicine is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It has gained a world wide reputation by its remarkable cures of this most common ailment, and can always be depended upon. It acts on nature's plan, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. During the many years in which it has been in general use we have yet to learn of a single case of cold or attack of the grip having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by Frank Hart and leading druggists.

One Way of Getting Out. Gaston burst like a whirlwind in upon his friend Alphonse. "Will you be my witness?" he cried. "Going to fight?" "No; going to get married." Alphonse after a pause inquired, "Can't you apologize?"

Valuation. "Young man," said the stern parent, "have you any idea of the value of a dollar?" "Certainly," answered the gilded youth. "At the club a dollar represents one white chip."—Washington Star.

Husband and Wife Cured. I had a bad form of catarrh. My left nostril was closed entirely. There was also a constant dripping of blood from the right. I only used Hyomei a little over two weeks, and am now cured. My husband was also cured of catarrh and lung trouble two years ago by Hyomei.—Mrs. Harry Obney, Alliance, Ohio.

Stones and Bricks. Mrs. O'Hoolihan—This paper says there do be serious in syntax. Phwat do yez think av that? O'Hoolihan—O dunno about the ser-moans, but many a good ar-rument has come out av a brick. O'm thinkin'—Exchange.

Caught on the Rebound. "John, dear," said Mrs. Skimpem as she poured the coffee at the breakfast table, "if I remember rightly, you have often said you disliked to see a woman constantly getting herself into print." "That's right," rejoined Skimpem. "You consider it indelicate and unwomanly, don't you?" "I certainly do."

How It Happened. "Please, ma'am," said the husky hobo, "would youse help a pore feller wot wuz caught on a elevator an' laid up fer six months?" "Certainly, poor man," replied the kind lady. "Here's a dollar for you. How did you happen to get caught in an elevator?" "De perlice wuz too quick fer me," explained the h. h. as he hastily beat it.—Minneapolis Journal.

Two Boreas. Towne—'d rather associate with No-ditch than Kadley. Kadley's just a society man. I can't imagine anything worse than a man who is always indulging in small talk. Browne—Oh, I don't know. He can't be worse than a fellow who's always talking big.—Philadelphia Press.

As to Divorce. Briggs—Even divorce nowadays of fern no sure relief. Griggs—How so? "Why in nine cases out of ten a man is free to marry agagin."—New York Life.

Her Catch. He told about the fish he caught on his vacation trip. And how he used with rod and line The mountain streams to whip. And how he stalked from pool to pool An old and wary trout. And, where all other anglers failed, Had pulled the rasual out. But while he talked a maid demure Was clinging to his arm. Her shyly drooping lashes dark Enhanced her modest charm. She did not boast about her catch— 'Tis not a woman's plan— But while he angled for the fish She hooked the fisherman.—New York Press.

SHE WAS NO HAS-BEEN.

Why the Little Old Woman Rode in a Smoking Car. "Madam," said the brakeman as the train stopped at a little village station and a little old woman started to enter the smoking car, "the car back is the one you want."

"How do you know?" she tartly asked. "Because this is the smoking car." She pushed past him and climbed up the steps, and after taking a seat she pulled out and filled a pipe, struck a match on the sole of her shoe, and after drawing a few puffs she said to a man smoking a cigar across the aisle: "That young feller out there don't know half as much as he thinks he does."

"How so?" she asked. "He took me for an old woman that had never rode on the cars before and told me this was the smoking car." "And you wanted this car?" "Why, I never ride in any other— not unless my pipe is broke, my tobacco all out and none of you men folks will lend me a cigar."—Chicago News.
