A COMMON ERROR.
Correct the Sentences Before You Read the Explanation.
"May I examine the children a little as to their knowledge of the language?" asked the visitor at the grammar school, an old gentleman with a benevolent aspect of countenance, but a shrewd twinkle in his eye.
"Certainly you may," smilingly answered the teacher.
The old gentleman stepped to the blackboard and wrote this sentence upon it:
"Pennsylvania abounds in anthracite coal."
"Now," he said, "I should like to have some child point out the mistake in that sentence."
One of the older girls came forward, picked up the chalk and rewrote the statement thus:
"Anthracite coal abounds in Pennsylvania."
"Not so bad," said the visitor, "but you haven't found it."
Another changed it as follows:
"Pennsylvania abounds with anthracite coal."
"Still incorrect," was the comment.
"Anthracite coal is abundant in Pennsylvania," wrote a third.
"That will not do either," said Mr. Baxter.
One of the big boys tried his hand, with this result:
"Pennsylvania is abundantly supplied with anthracite coal."
"No; that is not so good."
Then a little boy stepped forward and with his finger erased the word "coal."
"That word isn't needed," he said.
"Anthracite" means hard coal.
"Right," said the visitor. "You have one bright pupil, anyhow, Miss Adair."

A GRIM CEREMONY.
An Emperor's Death Hastened by Rehearsing His Own Funeral.
Emperor Charles V. of Spain brought about his death by rehearsing his own funeral. For the last two years of his life, after resigning the scepter of Spain and the Netherlands to his son Philip in 1556, Charles retired to the monastery of Yuste, in Estremadura, and there lived a cloister life in close intercourse with the monks, devoting much time to religious exercises. During this period, prompted, it may be, by the example of Cardinal de la Marek, who for several years before his death, in 1528, had annually rehearsed his own obsequies, the emperor, in the summer of 1558, formed the resolution to celebrate his own funeral before he died.
Accordingly, on Aug. 30 of that year, the grim farce was carried out with the most elaborate ceremonial. The imperial domestics marched with black tapes in their hands, and the emperor, clad in sable weeds, himself followed, wearing his shroud. While the solemn mass for the dead was being before the high altar in the cathedral Charles gave up his taper to the priest, typifying thereby his resignation of life, and was solemnly laid his coffin.
The ceremony closed with sprinkling holy water on the body; then, all the attendants retiring, the doors were shut, and Charles rose from his narrow bed and withdrew to his private apartment.
The damping of the graveclothes induced a chill, which, aided no doubt by the mental depression caused by the gruesome ceremony, induced a fever which ended in his death three weeks later, on the 21st of September, 1558.

Colds and Croup in Children.
"My little girl is subject to colds," says Mrs. Wm. H. Serig, No. 41 Fifth St., Wheeling, W. Va. "Last winter she had a severe spell and a terrible cough but I cured her with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy without the aid of a doctor, and my little boy has been prevented many times from having the croup by the timely use of this syrup." This remedy is for sale by Frank Hart and leading druggists.

Husband and Wife Cured.
I had a bad form of catarrh. My left nostril was closed entirely. There was also a constant dripping of blood from the right. I only used Hyomei a little over two weeks, and am now cured. My husband was also cured of catarrh and lung trouble two years ago by Hyomei.—Mrs. Harry Obney, Alliance, Ohio.
