More New Walks—

Among the many new sidewalks going down all over the city at present is one completely around the traffic sides of the Hotel Leyde at the corner of Commercial and Fourth streets. They are appreciated everywhere.

Registration—

Registration for the municipal election on December 9 opened again in the office of the city auditor yesterday and the books will be kept open until December 4. Quite a number put their names down yesterday. There are perhaps upwards of 700 yet to register.

A Big Improvement—

The new dry goods house of Albert Dunbar, at the old Commercial street stand, presents a wonderful and effective change, since it has been remodeled and the new front put in. It will be among the handsomest establishments in the city when it is opened up for business.

Park of 2500 Acres—

The department of the interior of the federal government has placed Saddle Mountain, and Humburg Mountain, in park reservations, the two combining practically 2500 acres. This matter is due largely to the good work done by U. S. Senator Charles W. Fulton, who started it some months ago.

Building With Purpose—

Nils Edison, one of Alderbrook's valued citizens, is building a neat and comfortable home up that way, containing nine rooms, and it is said will furnish it completely with the happy purpose of soon installing a mistress therein after his own heart's choice; but the pleasant details are withheld for the time being.

Off From San Diego—

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gaither, of Knappton, and family, will leave for San Diego, California, tomorrow, by rail, to settle there. Mr. Gaither having accepted a fine offer from the Benson milling people. He is well known and appreciated in this community and will carry with him the best wishes of many good friends.

Back From Siletz—

Deputy State Fish Warden W. A. Mack, with headquarters in this city, has just returned from an official trip to the Siletz, which he made on horseback and found it very irksome and rough the entire distance. On the way back he ran across a net stretched from one bank to the other of the O'Hanna, and promptly appropriated it; it had no number nor monument to denote its owner, or server. Mr. Mack reports that the Oregon Patrol, the fisheries launch, completely finished, and launched yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Elmore Accepts—
Samuel Elmore filed his acceptance of the Republican nomination for mayor yesterday.

Want Arc Light—

A petition was filed in the office of the city auditor yesterday by B. L. Ward and 23 others asking that an arc light be established at the corner of Ninth and Commercial streets.

New Officer At Columbia—

Captain Percy Willis, commanding at Fort Columbia, was in the city yesterday on affairs of business. He reports that he has just been "aided and abetted" in his command by the arrival of Second Lieutenant Lincoln B. Chambers, a young officer recently appointed from civil life, and a former citizen of Corvallis, and a graduate of the Oregon State Agricultural College.

A Good Guesser—

W. L. Thorndyke, of this city, is among the fortunate guessers of this neighborhood. Last night, when the letters containing the guesses in behalf of the beautiful guess-gift, a fine ruby ring, at the store of A. Spexarth, his guess of "1953" proved the winning number, and he was later endowed with the gem.

Wanted In 'Prisco—

Wasilya Jovanovich, as he gives his name, a rather fine looking man who says he is a native of Montenegro, has been a prisoner in the city jail for the past several days awaiting further action by the authorities of San Francisco, at whose instance he was arrested here. Jovanich was arrested by Police Officer Thompson upon a description given by the California authorities, who evidently had secured information which led them to think the man was in Astoria. He is charged with embezzlement, though none of the details of the matter are known here. After his arrest the San Francisco police were notified of the capture, and while Jovanich is apparently the man they are after, no further definite word has been received. The prisoner, who is a man of intelligence, denies that he has committed any wrong. He is educated and apparently has a working knowledge of several languages. It is probable he will be extradited.

UTMOST CONFIDENCE IN THE OUTCOME

REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE
HOLDS ITS FIRST MEETING
—ALL SEEMS WELL.

At a meeting yesterday afternoon of the members of the Republican county committee, who reside within the city of Astoria and therefore comprise the city committee the political situation was thoroughly canvassed. It was agreed that at its commencement the campaign for the Republican ticket looks exceedingly bright. "I believe," said one of the members, "that we will elect the entire ticket from the head down."

The meeting organized by electing Asmus Brix chairman and Ole J. Settem, secretary. Frank Patton was designated as the treasurer. Five members of the committee were present yesterday, as follows: Ole J. Settem, E. Hauke, D. H. Welch, Frank Deveney, F. I. Dunbar.

It was decided to call a meeting, for some day this week to be decided upon later, when all of the candidates on the Republican ticket may get together and discuss the situation. There seems to be a feeling in the air that the Republicans can't lose the election if they simply take proper measures to instill a little activity into the campaign. Some are free to say with confidence that if the election were to be held tomorrow the Republicans would win two to one, or even three to one, though it is anticipated that the other side will work ceaselessly to overcome what now appears to be a very uphill job.

It is interesting to note the character of men who are now not only allying themselves with the Republican ticket, but are openly working for its success. Some of the best men in the city are giving their active assistance.

A Common Occurrence—

A well-attired woman with the manner of one not used to business affairs required at the office of the city auditor yesterday about her assessments on two lots. The auditor explained, telling of the installment plan. She said she did not know just what to do. Perhaps she would have to let both of them go, she said. Or perhaps, by the installment plan, she could make payments on one at least. She evidently hoped she would be able to make the payment on one of the lots at least. The reporter who chanced to hear made no enquiries as to the amount of the assessments, or the financial standing of the lady. It was simply another occurrence that has become quite common at the city hall. Perhaps, too, the two lots that this lady was asking about may have been about all the property she owns in the world, and it may have seemed quite hard to her to be compelled to think that she is about to lose one or both of them by "confiscation," or to be told that the same men who have ruled the city's affairs of late years are now promising that the same "public-spirited improvements" shall be kept up.

Not Many Truants—

Police Officer Wilson, who has been detailed on the list of truancy cases, reported to the department by the board of education, has not been able to find many youngsters who are kept out of school. Out of 300 cases reported he has only found thus far perhaps a dozen during a week's investigation, and usually they are either just about 16 years of age or are over 14 and at work. Many who are reported as delinquent have moved out of the city, and 75 reported as delinquent are attending the Sisters' school. It is the duty of the clerk of the school district to take the school census this fall and the new census may show some delinquents of whom nothing is known now. It would have seemed the best way to have postponed the "rounding up" until after the annual census, as the work will now apparently have to be gone over twice.

Mr. Bell states that his property was not benefited by the improvement, but actually injured on account of the grade being cut down, contrary to the petition of the adjoining property owners. A slide ensued, too, which tore up the crossing and sidewalk. Mr. Bell states that he understands a reduction was made in the case of Myra Reed, whose property adjoins his, and in order to settle the matter by way of compromise, he offers the city the sum of $150 in full settlement of the claims against him. The council has already in several cases gone behind the assessments made by the proper board of assessors and granted relief, and in other cases has refused the requested relief. The whole method appears quite doubtful; though the need of relief in some cases appears to be plain.

Club Officers—

At its annual meeting the Irving Club of this city elected and installed the following named directors and officers for the ensuing year: Directors: A. L. Fox, H. L. Henderson, Asmus Brix, Chris Schmidt and C. H. Callender; the officers being: President, H. F. Prael; first vice-president, A. R. Finch; second vice-president, John Fox; secretary, O. F. Heilborn, and treasurer, J. R. A. Bennett.

Another New Home—

Contractor C. G. Palmberg is to build a new home for Manager Chas. Humphrys of the Postal Telegraph Co., of this city. It will be a very handsome and cozy establishment and among the real "gem" houses of the city; it is needless to say that Mr. and Mrs. Humphrys will be overjoyed to get into it finally.

The "Bakeronian"—

The new and handsome little theatre, for so long a time known here as the "Star," but now doing business under the title of the "Bakeronian," was jammed to its threshold last evening, when it opened to the public under the management of Mr. Bernard, assisted by Mr. Simon. The theatre is very neat in its new decorations and equipment, and the bill was strongly attractive and entertaining, and with the long series of improvements promised, the house must become a popular favorite in the amusement world of Astoria.

A Happy Wedding—

The Sundquist home at the corner of Duane and Ninth streets in this city, was the scene of a pretty and romantic wedding at 11 o'clock last night, when the lives and fortunes of Miss Tyra Gundborg Brodin and Mr. Anders Gustaf Kohlander, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony according to the beautiful and impressive ritual of the Lutheran faith. Rev. G. A. Rydquist, pastor of the Memorial Lutheran church, officiating. The parlors and dining room of the home had been beautifully decorated by the ladies of the household for the happy event and presented a very attractive appearance. The pretty bride reached the city on the 10:40 train last night, having come direct from her home in Sweden to carry out the sacred compact she had entered into with Mr. Kohlander before he left her in the old country. The groom is the well known chief clerk in the Rindell pharmacy, on Commercial street, near Eighth, and has won many appreciative friends during his short sojourn in Astoria. There was about a score of invited guests to make merry with the happy young people, and the incident will be long remembered by all present for the pleasure it conferred upon all who witnessed it.

Pleasant Reception—
A pleasant reception was tendered to Rev. G. A. Rydquist, of the Memorial Lutheran church, in this city, last evening, by the members of the Lyre Singing Society, in conjunction with the members of Mr. Rydquist's old parish, the First Lutheran church. The good pastor has hosts of devoted friends who sought, in this way, to express to him the profound esteem and honor in which he is held, and the manifestation was handsomely accentuated by the gift of two purses, one by the Singing Society, and presented by Judge Olaf Anderson; and the other by the First church, and presented by Mr. Agren. It was a very jolly affair and one the delighted recipient will not soon forget.
