THE HEAD HUNTERS.

Uncanny Trophies That Are Cherished by the Dyaks.

The head hunting propensities of the Dyaks are well known to the students of ethnology. The leading thought in the taking of heads is the idea that the conqueror could secure the "soul" of the conquered and add it to his own...

I have often had the questionable privilege of sitting under the bundles of heads in the Dyak houses as the seat of honor and of examining them closely. Anakoda Unsang, who claimed to be my friend, was not a talkative man, but when roused from his usual stolidity would relate the circumstances of many a battle and victory in the past with apparent gusto...

Walter Seaborg returned Monday from a visit to Portland. He invested in several of the most interesting late books to add to his already large library.

Sunday evening Rev. Morris, pastor of the Presbyterian church here gave a very interesting lecture on Alaska illustrated by a magic lantern, giving his audience some ideas of the good that is being accomplished in that territory by the missionaries.

BITS OF MEANNESS.

Quiser Traits Shown by some of the Operatic Stars.

The celebrated impresario Schurmann said it was a precarious matter to draw up an agreement with a star, for each one had some strange little proviso which he insisted on inserting. In one contract Tamagno exacted that he should be allowed thirty-seven candles each night in his dressing room. Schurmann was amazed that even a great tenor should require so much illumination, but he consented.

Schurmann said that a small boy whose father was a great friend of Caruso's, having asked the tenor for a signed photograph, received as a reply, "Certainly; go to my photographer; he will sell you a photograph, and if you bring that to me I will write on it whatever you like."

A great feminine star made a stipulation that all her baggage be carried at the company's expense, duty free. Somewhat to the surprise of the impresario, the lady, whose wardrobe was not extensive, carried about with her a great number of enormous heavy boxes. These were afterward discovered to contain rice, which is very cheap in Italy and which was sold at a profit in protectionist France.

The Japanese Spy.

The spy system which the Japanese employed during the war with Russia and which was the wonder as well as the puzzle of the world may be said to have been introduced into Japan by the ancient bushi, who found the basis for it in a Chinese text from which came so much of their military knowledge. Therein may it be read that the spy is the finest evolution of military strategy. Five kinds are painstakingly defined, but the greatest of these is declared to be he who can pretend disloyalty and disaffection to the commander to whom he really has sworn fealty in order that he may so gain the confidence of the enemy, live as one of them in their own camps and betray them into following a course that to them will spell defeat.

Maryland County Flags.

How many students of Maryland history are aware of the fact that in addition to the Maryland colors, gold and black, embossed in our state flag, each county of the province erected prior to 1805 had its own colors? Ten counties had been erected in Maryland prior to 1686. Colors for the organizations of these several counties were assigned as follows: St. Mary's, red; Kent, blue; Anne Arundel, white; Calvert, yellow; Charles, orange; Baltimore, green; Talbot, purple; Somerset, buff; Cecil, crimson; Dorchester, the union Jack (being the maritime county)—Baltimore Sun.

An Old Tale.

There were rumors of graft in hides. "This road," declared one faction, "was to be paved with good intentions."

"Well?" "Examine the material. Are these good intentions?"—Kansas City Journal.

Truthful.

Polly Pinklights—The leading man says he once promised his mother he would never be an actor. Fanny Footlights—Well, he seems to be keeping his word.

Couldn't Deny the Truth.

Mrs. Wobbles—I shall never forget, dear, how idiotic you looked when you proposed to me. Mr. Wobbles (with emphasis)—I was idiotic.—Home Magazine.

When men are friends there is no need of justice.—Aristotle.

Hire an Expert.

If you want a thing well done, don't do it yourself in spite of what the proverb says. If you really want it well done hire an expert. If you try to do it yourself you are pretty sure to botch it.—Somerville Journal.

Exquisite Harmony.

Piper—The varra post muste I never heard whatever was done at Jamie Macclachlan's. There was fifteen or so pipers in the wee back parlor, all playin' different tunes. I thought I was doatin' in heaven.—Punch.

Foley's Honey and Tar clears the air passages, stops the irritation in the throat, soothes the inflamed membranes, and the most obstinate cough disappears. Sore and inflamed lungs are healed and strengthened, and the cold is expelled from the system. Refuse any but the genuine in the yellow package. T. F. Laurin, Owl Drug Store.
