

The Daily Market Report

PORTLAND, Dec. 10.—The week ends with the poultry market on the whole in better shape than for more than a month past. Hens and chickens were in good demand today, and at prices approximately 2 cents higher than the quotations at the first of the week, while ducks also were fairly active at the quotations that have ruled all the week. For geese and turkeys there has been but little inquiry this week, but fortunately for the market, little stock in these lines came in.

There will be little if any poultry of any kind to carry over to next week, and the outlook is for a good market for the remainder of the month. No shipments of turkeys for the Christmas trade are expected for a week or more, but in all probability there will be enough for the demand for it is known that a number of the turkey producers of the Valley at Thanksgiving time held back some of their birds for the later holiday trade. Storage stocks in the city will also be drawn upon to some extent.

This is Worth Reading.
Leo F. Zelinski, of 68 Gibson St., Buffalo, N. Y., says: "I cured the most annoying cold sore I ever had, with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. I applied this salve once a day for two days, when every trace of the sore was gone." Heals all sores. Sold under guarantee at Charles Rogers & Son's drug store, 25c.

The Pompeian Men.
I do not like the Pompeian men. I do not wish him for a friend. He's built on such a gorgeous plan that he can only condescend, and when he bows his neck is sprouted. He walks as though he owned the earth—as though his vest and shirt contained all that there is of sterling worth. With a thread of his shirt trailing on a stray banana rind and slide a furlong on his head and leave a trail of smoke behind.—Emporia (Kan.) Gazette.

From Limb to Limb.
Housewife—Why don't you get a job and keep it? Hobo—I'm like de little bird dat keeps flyin' from limb to limb. Housewife—G'wan, you're only a bum! Hobo—How could you fly from limb to limb? Hobo—I mean de limbs o' de law, mumm!—Kansas City Independent.

Criticism often takes from the tree caterpillars and blossoms together.
Blether.
Mrs. McRaney's Experience.
Mrs. M. McRaney, Prentiss, Miss., writes: "I was confined to my bed for three months with kidney and bladder trouble, and was treated by two physicians but failed to get relief. No human tongue can tell how I suffered, and I had given up hope of ever getting well until I began taking Foley's Remedy. After taking two bottles I felt like a new person, and feel it my duty to tell suffering women what Foley's Kidney Remedy did for me." T. F. Laurin, Owl Drug Store.

It Was Worth About a Shilling to Pick Those Bones.
Colonel Ebenezer Sprout of Revolutionary fame was born and bred in Middleboro, Mass. He was always fond of a joke and was quick to seize an opportunity to indulge his propensity, as the following incident illustrates. His father, also a Colonel Sprout, kept a tavern. One day while Ebenezer was at home on a furlough three private soldiers, on their return from the seat of war, called for a cold luncheon.
Mrs. Sprout set on the table some bread and cheese with the remnants of the family dinner, which her son thought rather scanty fare for hungry men. He felt a little vexed that the defenders of the country were not more bountifully supplied. The soldiers, after satisfying their appetites, asked him how much they should pay. Ebenezer said he would ask his mother. He found her in the kitchen.
"Mother," he said, "how much is it worth to pick those bones?"
"About a shilling, I guess," she answered.
The young officer returned to the soldiers and, taking from the barroom till 3 shillings and smiling genially upon them, gave each man one and with good wishes sent them on their way. Mrs. Sprout soon after came in and asked Ebenezer what he had done with the money for the soldiers' dinner.
In apparent amazement he exclaimed: "Money! Did I not ask you what it was worth to pick those bones, and you said a shilling? I thought it little enough for the bones were pretty bare, and I handed the men the money from the till, and they are gone."
Mrs. Sprout could not find heart to reprove her favorite son for this misinterpretation of her words, and then she, too, loved a joke, and so, after an instant's glum look, she laughed and said it was all right.

Had Seen Them All Before.
Once while James Whitcomb Riley was visiting a town where he was booked to give a reading a committee called to take him in a carriage over the city. In acknowledging the compliment he said:
"I'll go with you, gentlemen, provided you promise that you will not show me the new courthouse, the new town hall, the new bridge, the new school building and the new jail, for I've seen them all a hundred times in as many towns. But they invariably wear me out before the time arrives for the curtain to rise on the evening entertainment."
Hoarse cough and stuffy colds that may develop into pneumonia over night are quickly cured by Foley's Honey and Tar, as it soothes inflamed membranes, heals the lungs, and expels the cold from the system.
