ATHLETIC HAS ARRIVED

CHARLES RIPER WILL TAKE OVER DUTIES OF A. A. A. A.

Athletic Instructor Charles Riper, the newly appointed manager of the A. A. A. arrived here yesterday to assume his important post in that establishment and will take over the trust officially tomorrow morning. He is a pleasant young gentleman who seems to have his particular cult at his fingers' ends, as it were, and to be heartily in earnest about it. Mr. Riper has had extended experience in athletic matters, being for the past two years athletic instructor at the art, or science, in athletic circles at Detroit, Michigan.

Mr. Riper desires to meet the junfor members of the A. A. A. SERVICE IN THE CABINET.

The Custom of Our Presidents In the Republic's Early Days.

If President John Adams had been a man of different temperament the custom might have been established in the early years of the government of the United States of retaining the cabinet of one administration for service with its successor where that successor succeeded to the political ideas of its predecessor. President Adams sought at first to retain through his administration the members of the cabinet of President Washington. Indeed, at that early period the status of a cabinet officer was not exactly that of the present time, and in the course of President Adams' rows with the members of his official household he resorted to the strange step of removing his secretary of state, Timo-Mrs. Clara Geissler, living on Third thy Pickering, and James McHenry, street, Hillsboro, Ore., says: "It af. his secretary of war.
