WATERMAN'S

OCEAN, BAR, BAY, DOCK AND RIVER

The Portland-Asiatic steamship Nicomedia entered port on Sunday morning last, under command of Captain Knitschky, who was sent to this ship from the company's liner Barcelona, at Kobe, when the Nicomedia reached there after the mysterious death of her own master on the night of December 26th, three days out from Hong Kong...

The O. R. & N. river liner Potter met with an accident to her machinery at St. Helens, on Sunday and was towed to Portland by the steamer Harvest Queen which overtook her there six hours later...

The men and officers of the wrecked ship Alice arrived here yesterday afternoon on the steamer Nahcotta, from the north shore, and at 6:10 o'clock last evening, went on to Portland, headed by Captain Aubert...

The fine old Roanoke came swinging up the bay at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, from her California ports of call. She had a big lot of passengers and a fair cargo and stopped at the Callender long enough to put off several tons, and then went on up the river at 3 o'clock.

The Kamm liner Lurline arrived down last evening at 4:20 o'clock, and went back to Portland on her schedule, 7 p. m., with the following people on her cabin list: O. C. Almlade, Mrs. Liniff and G. A. Fredericksen.

The Harvest Queen arrived down early on Sunday with the French bark Armen on her hawsers. The Armen went to sea yesterday on the Wallulas line and took an offing for the United Kingdom, deeply laden with wheat.

The steamship Geo. W. Elder arrived down from Portland very early this morning, three days behind her schedule, and will go to sea and California also at an early hour.

It is supposed that the Harvest Queen and the Ocklahoma will both be on their way back to this port today, with the German ship Oregon, and the schooners Endeavor and Fred J. Woods, on their hawsers.

NAME MEANS SOMETHING.

When A. E. Petersen built and named the "Modern" barber shop, he meant that it should stand for what it was called. No patron has missed a single feature of the modern tonorial parlor at that house; and every new device in the way of perfect comfort and service is constantly added as it develops.

Wood and Coal.

If you want dry fir cordwood, inside fir, bark slab, or boxwood, ring up Kelly, the Wood and Coal Dealer, the man who keeps the prices down. Coal at $7.00 per ton in your basement or $6.00 at yard. Main 2191. Barn, corner 12th and Duane.

Take Advantage.

We are offering a fine line of ladies', men's and children's shoes this week. Odds and ends but all first-class values at cost and in many instances greatly below cost. Come in today. Chas. V. Brown, the family shoe man.

Notice.

If you want an exceptionally good brand of carbons and ribbons for your typewriter, see Lenora Benoit, Public Stenographer, 477 Commercial street.

The Clean Man.

The man who delights in personal cleanliness, and enjoys his shave, shampoo, haircut, and bath, in Astoria, always goes to the Occident barber shop for these things—and gets them at their best.

Captain Kidston, of the Rose City has been quite indisposed of late and did not leave his quarters during the trip up from San Francisco. But he was in full charge of his ship, all the same.

The Hammond liner Geo. W. Fenwick entered this port yesterday morning and went directly to the docks of the Hammond Lumber Co., where she will load out promptly for San Diego.

The gasoline motor sloop Condor, Captain Adams, which has been bar-boned here for more than a week, will endeavor to get out this morning, for Yaquina and Alsea.

The steamer Homer entered port last evening at 7 o'clock from San Francisco; with Captain Hardwick on her bridge. She will go up stream this morning.

The steamer Alliance was among the departures from this port on Sunday last, for Coos waters. She is unusually coming in from there on Sunday.

The steamship Breakwater was one of the Sunday arrivals in this port, hailing from Coos. She went on up stream at once, after a brief stay at the O. R. & N. piers.

The outgoing fleet on Sunday had these vessels on the list: The steamers Wellesley for Aberdeen; Argo, for Tillamook; Harold Dollar, for San Pedro; Eureka, for Eureka, Cal.

The Ocklahoma came down Sunday with the French bark Joinville, wheat laden for Europe, and dropped her at The Tongue, whence she will depart today for the high seas.

The fine four-masted schooner Robert R. Hind went up stream on the lines of the Harvest Queen and will load lumber for her outward voyage.

The steamer Nome City is due down today from Prescott, bound for the California coast with a big load of lumber.

The oil tank steamer Asuncion is due in this port today from California, and will go on to the metropolis at once.

The steamer Yosemite was due to arrive down last evening, and will go to sea and California this morning early, from the Callender dock.

The steamer Cascades is billed to arrive down the river this morning, en route to San Francisco.

The steamer South Bay is due down stream today sometime.

STILL IN THE FIELD AND VERY CHEERFUL

DR. OWENS-ADAIR WORKING HARD FOR HER BILL—IS WELL RECEIVED.

The following letter, just at hand from Dr. B. Owens-Adair, indicates that the Clatsop physician is still in the field and quite cheerful over the prospects ahead of her famous bill in the Legislature. Dr. Adair says:

"January 24, 1909. "Editor Astorian—In response to your request to send you a report from the capitol, I now take pleasure in announcing that Senate Bill 68 (my bill) was introduced by Senator Coffee on January 19th and I think it will be reported favorably.

"By invitation I addressed the Multnomah medical association, at their regular meeting, January 19th; and notwithstanding their rush of business, including special legislative business, every attention and kindness was extended to me. Much was said in favor of the necessity of such a law. Especially did Dr. W. T. Williamson, the president, speak in the strongest terms of the measure.

"I find, as I expected, that the greatest objection to such a law, is due to the want of knowledge of the subject; so few have given it a thought. And as you have said, the measure does seem heroic and drastic at first thought. Then, too, the old idea of the necessity of the use of the knife brings a shock. They have yet to learn that the knife is not necessary in this humane and benign measure. And to add to this every member is over taxed with work. Besides, his own bills, the calendar is already flooded with bills to be acted upon.

"DR. OWENS-ADAIR."
