COURSE LIKELY TO BE PURSUED AT THE GREAT CONSERVATION CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Keen interest is manifest as to what will be the program of subjects of the North American Conservation Conference between representatives of Canada, Mexico, and the United States, in this city, February 18. In his letter to President Diaz, of Mexico, and Lord Gray, of Canada, President Roosevelt outlined as the purpose of the Conference the consideration of "mutual interests involved in the conservation of natural resources" and the preparation of "a general plan adapted to promote the welfare of the nations concerned." There is a pretty well defined feeling, however, that definite topics will have to be discussed. That the Canadians take this view is indicated by the fact that they have sent to the National Conservation Commission compilations of specific matter on their natural resources.

Last summer's forest fires on both sides of the line between the United States and Canada are so recent in the minds of both countries that undoubtedly the possibility of some co-operative scheme of fire protection is likely to be touched on. There are other important international questions concerning natural resources which can hardly fail of consideration.

NORTH SIDE NEWS

Miss I. M. Williamson, of Ilwaco, is the accredited representative of The Astorian and will take care of all items of news, orders for subscriptions and all kinds of printing.

ILWACO

Miss Edith Whitcomb and Eleanor Williams of Ilwaco were guests of Miss Dell Hunter at her home on the Wallcut, Saturday, returning home Sunday morning.

J. W. Seaborg arrived in Ilwaco Saturday after quite a lengthy absence of a month or more. He spent Sunday with his mother, of this city after which he departed for South Bend, Wash., to be gone several days.

George L. Colwell was among the Astoria business visitors to Ilwaco the latter part of last week.

Sam Maxwell of Astoria, who for the past two or three years has acted as foreman of the logging camp belonging to the Willamette Pulp & Paper Co., of Oregon City, Or., between North Head and Ilwaco, is at present a visitor in the city. Mr. Maxwell's host of friends and acquaintances always extend him the glad hand of welcome, whenever he favors this city with a visit.

A valentine social was given Saturday evening, February 13, in the Fraternity Hall, under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal church. All persons desirous of remembering their friends, bought, stamped and mailed their valentines in a postoffice erected to do duty for one evening only. J. H. McAfee of North Head, acted as postmaster, with two very able assistants. Later in the evening a most interesting program was rendered consisting of music, vocal and instrumental and recitations after which refreshments were served in the banquet room. This was the first social of this kind that has ever been given in Ilwaco and was entirely new. The attendance was large and the proceeds amounted well into the dollars.

Mr. Hunt, traveling for J. K. Gill & Co., of Portland, was in the city yesterday. One of the young ladies of Ilwaco was caused considerable annoyance Saturday evening by a lost purse. It was found the following morning and restored to its owner.

Kenneth Goulter was a visitor to Chinook, Sunday and spent a short time with his sister, Mrs. Dan Williams.

Word was received recently that Matt Potana, who has been employed in Red Lodge, Mont., for several months, is at present confined to a hospital in that city with blood poisoning in his arm. The case is not thought to be serious, but it will doubtless delay his return to Ilwaco for a few weeks.

A "Hard Times" dance is scheduled to come off, February 20th at the Assembly Hall, in Long Beach. This is the third or fourth dance of this kind, that has been given in Long Beach and no doubt it will prove the success that the preceding ones have been.

Fred Hines and Joe Markham returned Tuesday to their work on the Nasel. Ernest Samples, who is working in the same camp, expects to return Wednesday.

hospital, which might read something like this:

"Amputate rheumatic right leg and graft on a new one."

"Cut out kidneys, which are developing Bright's disease, and transplant sound ones, preferably from a healthy young hog."

"Reverse circulation of the blood in the thyroid gland to produce hyperaemia and thus reduce diseased condition."

"Overhaul the intestines and patch where needed. The rest of him is hardly good enough to stand the expense of a new set."

"Overhaul circulatory system, replacing unserviceable veins and arteries with new ones. Put in a new heart only if absolutely necessary."

"Cut out stomach. It is completely worn out and has a well developed cancer. Besides, he won't have much use for it hereafter, as it will take all his earnings for a long time to come to pay his hospital bill."

"Cut out the left lung. It is so far gone with tuberculosis that it is good for nothing and only endangers the rest."

"Trim off fifty or sixty pounds of fat. With reduced stomach and lung capacity he can't carry so much ballast."

"Make all minor repairs needed to keep him going for ten or twelve years more."

Nonsense, say you? Not a bit of it. Perhaps no one man could stand it to have quite all these things done to him at one time, but the surgeons could do their part all right. They know they could, because they have already performed all these seemingly impossible feats and a great many more besides.

Unbelievers may find at the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research in New York some living circumstantial evidence in support of these staggering assertions—Technical World Magazine.

NEW HOME FOR ART.

New York To Strive For Another Monumental Treasure House.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Urged by the National Academy of Design, a bill will probably be introduced in the Legislature at Albany today looking to the erection in Central Park of a new home for art.

It is planned to place the building on the site of the old arsenal in the park, and the National Academy of Design stands ready to furnish at least $500,000 toward the project.

According to the plans the city would maintain the building and the Academy would have the care and direction of the gallery floor which would involve the maintenance of that floor. The lower floor, it should be said, would be exclusively devoted to the city uses. The building is to be forever the property of the city, and the Academy to be charged with utilizing its own resources for the furtherance of American art in its galleries.

A genuine crusade is about to be started against spitting. The particular reason for the crusade is the epidemic of pneumonia now prevalent in the city. Dr. Evans believes that only by the most rigid enforcement of the ordinance can this disease be stamped out.

"When a man smokes in a closed compartment of a car he necessarily must spit," said he. "Smokers are unnecessary and of no use on trains and the man who enters one does so at the risk of his health. As for the smoking compartment on the street car, which is seen at its worst on the pay-as-you-enter cars, there is a worse danger in these for the passenger does not go voluntarily, there, but must if he follows the rules of the companies, use this platform in making his exit. Men and women are forced to go through the foul smoke tainted atmosphere, and women drag their skirts over the filthy floors, picking up disease germs and carrying them to their homes."

WOMAN SUCCEEDS.

"I see no reason why a woman cannot earn as good a living on a small farm as in any other field."

Such is the assertion, made with the cheerful certainty of one who has tried it—and succeeded—by a Connecticut woman, Mrs. Jane C. Barrow, who has for the past eight years supported herself and sent two children to school, on the earnings of a four-acre farm, only one acre of which is available for planting and buildings.

"If a woman is as fond of the country as I am," Mrs. Barrow says, "she will not find it hardship, but rather a pleasure. I had everything to learn and I have succeeded, so I think other women could do as well. I began with a small boy as assistant; now I have a woman and a man and we are all three kept pretty busy."

When this energetic and courageous woman took her land she was forced to go into debt for money to pay for groceries enough to keep her and the two children until the farm began to make returns. How she worked out and solved the problem is best told by herself in the March Technical World Magazine.

ONLY PREJUDICE

WILL KEEP HUNDREDS OF FOLKS FROM GETTING WELL

GET SOME DIAPEPSIN NOW

Merely a Matter of Taking a Little Diapepsin When All Your Stomach Trouble Will be Over With Forever—Don't Spend Another Miserable Moment.

Every family here ought to keep some Diapepsin in the house, as any one of you may have an attack of Indigestion or Stomach trouble at any time, day or night.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour stomach five minutes afterwards.

If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of Indigestion.

Ask your Pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take one triangle after supper tonight. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or Intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for all stomach misery, because it will take hold of your food and digest it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Actual, prompt relief for all your stomach misery is at your Pharmacist, waiting for you.

These large 50-cent cases contain more than sufficient to cure a case of Dyspepsia or Indigestion.

MORE HEALTH EXPEDIENTS.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—Smoking cars on the elevated trains and smoking on the front platforms of the street cars will be abolished if Dr. W. A. Evans, commissioner of health is so fortunate as to get the officials of the city transportation companies to look at the matter in the same light that he does. He has written letters to the presidents of the companies suggesting that as smoking is conducive to expectorating and as spitting is prejudicial to the health and a violation of the city ordinances, the easiest way to get rid of the evil will be by abolishing smoking on public conveyances.

came a voice, saying, "Well, here you are. We have the drop on you."

"Did you see anyone?"

"No, sir. The voice came from behind and very near to me."

"What did you do?"

"Nothing. I saw Mr. Carmack with hat raised, look over my shoulder with a look of surprised inquiry. As he did so, he put his right hand back into his pocket and drew slowly a pistol. It seemed to catch I put my hands to my face. Then the voice began behind me again, and it said: 'You cowardly scoundrel, hiding behind a woman's skirts, are you! Get out, you dastard!'

"When I saw the revolver I jumped to one side and turned. The revolver in the Senator's hand was upside down. That is, he held it by the barrel."

The prosecutor sent for the revolver, and the witness gave a dramatic illustration of the Senator's position.

"I put up both hands," said said, "and jumped back. I heard the shot and turned. I thought I recognized Dr. White as the man with the revolver and I screamed: 'My God, doctor, don't shoot, please don't.' I then recognized that it was Colonel Cooper."

"Then I sprang against the fence and saw young Cooper and heard two other shots fired so rapidly that I thought they were simultaneous."

Fine Bill At The Grand.

Manager Shortley, of the Grand moving picture house in this city, is a careful purveyor to the tastes and culture of Astorians. His bills always have a charm and interest, and the one that prevails there today and tomorrow, is probably the best he has presented yet. It includes the fine athletic film "King of the Ring," to which he especially invites the attention of the A. A. A. members; the strong and beautiful colored dramatic hit of history that tells the story of "Charlotte Coray," the French heroine of Paris, who killed Marat in his bathtub; and the "Adventures of a Bag of Coal," a happy farcical representation that is as interesting as it is laughable. The songs for this period include, "Could You Learn to Love a Little Girl Like Me?" and "Cheer Up, Cherries Will Soon Be Ripe." The whole winding up with a splendid set of brilliant views from scenic Norway.

Answer This Question

When a remedy has lived for over thirty years, steadily growing in popularity and influence, and thousands upon thousands of women declare they owe their very lives to it, is it not reasonable to believe that it is an article of great merit?

We challenge the world to show any other one remedy for a special class of disease which has attained such an enormous demand and maintained it for so many years as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the famous woman's remedy for woman's ills. Unless it is a very good medicine and the claims made for it are honest, such a record would have been impossible—fraud or misrepresentations would long ago have been detected and the business gone into oblivion. Read this unsolicited letter:—

Melbourne, Iowa:—"I suffered for many years with female troubles, inflammation, and bearing-down pains, so that I was unable to do my work."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended, and I am so thankful for the great good it has done me. I feel that I am a living advertisement for this medicine as I have influenced so many of my friends to use it, so thankful am I that it restored me to health."—Mrs. Clara Watermann, R. D. 1, Melbourne, Iowa.

When a woman like Mrs. Watermann is generous enough to write such a letter as the above for publication, she should at least be given credit for a sincere desire to help other suffering women. For we assure you there is no other reason why she should court such publicity.

We say it in all sincerity and friendship—try this medicine.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.
