OCEAN, BAR, BAY, DOCK AND RIVER

When the Undine arrived down last night Purser Harry Blanchard was said to be mourning the loss of a package he brought on board with him Portland; in fact he brought two on board but one got away; the other—the Undine—went up last evening at 7 o'clock with good business; and among her passengers were: C. C. McGowan, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Day, William Starr, Ole Carnoe and William Dietz.

The American-Hawaiian steamship Riverside is due down the river this morning, and she will dock at the A. & C pier, where she will take on 3500 cases of salmon, belonging to the Alaska Fishermen's Packing Co. of this city for delivery in New York and Philadelphia. And thus begins the new transportation deal which is to figure so prominently here this year.

The French bark La Tour d'Auvergne, Captain Le Bras, is on her way down the river, on the hawsers of the Ocklahama, and should reach here this morning. She is wheat laden for the United Kingdom, for orders, and will taken the quickest possible dispatch out of here.

The steamship Geo. W. Elder will not be down from Portland today. She had 400 tons of freight to discharge there, and it is not likely she will be back here, on her way to California, before Sunday morning, unless she sacrifices waiting freight to the resumption of her schedule.

The big Norwegian steamship Elsa is lying in the city channel, ready for sea, with huge cargo of good Oregon lumber, bound for Dunedin, New Zealand. She will leave out at the first available moment. She carries 3,000,000 feet.

The steamer Cascade was the first arrival down the river yesterday morning. She was laden with $20,000 feet of lumber for San Pedro, loaded at Prescott. She went below but it is not known that she got over the bar.

The British steamship Agapanthus, which was in this port last year, is due to arrive here again today, from Puget Sound. Just what she is coming for could not be learned yesterday.

The steamer Argo is still in port awaiting a favorable moment to slip over the Columbia bar to Tillamook waters.

The fine British steamship Katanga, is now loading wheat at Portland for Mexican delivery.

ANOTHER CLIFTON MAN PLEADS GUILTY

D. FALANGOS IS FINED $400 ON TWO INDICTMENTS AGAINST HIM.

At the session of the circuit court yesterday afternoon D. Falangos of Clifton, charged with selling liquor without a license, pleaded guilty. He had been arrested on two indictments and admitted the charge in both. Judge McBride fined him $200 on each indictment, or a total of $400 for selling intoxicants without first securing a license to do so.

The second case against William Nyberg was to arise today, but the court granted an extension until next Tuesday. Mr. Nyberg wanted to secure some additional legal aid.

Attorney Curtis, who appeared for Falangos yesterday, and entered his plea of guilt on the first indictment, made a further plea of clemency, and wanted the prosecuting attorney, Mr. Tongue, to consent to the imposition of a fine in the first case and to let the second one go, pending good behavior on the part of the defendant. But the prosecuting attorney would not consent to this and insisted that the defendant plead guilty to both indictments or stand trial. Thereupon Falangos pleaded guilty.

The liquor cases promise to lend much interest to this term of the circuit court, and the bringing of nine indictments in all against Nyberg, and the insistence of the prosecuting attorney that Falangos should plead guilty to both indictments against him or stand trial, tend to show that law-breaking saloon men are up against the "real thing" this time. The fines thus far imposed by Judge McBride have been of a size to make some of the men interested blink a little. The subject is of especial interest because of the allegation that evidence has been secured against virtually all of the saloonmen in the city who have been indiscreet enough to keep their doors open on Sundays. From some source has come a hint that there is a stack of whisky bottles big enough to fill a bushel basket, all of which are to be presumably used as "exhibits" before the grand jury and juries in court. In addition it is even said, according to a story that was told yesterday, that some of the grand jury men took such a deep interest in the matter as to even take a walk up to Nyberg's place on Franklin avenue, but whether they bought "Maltonia" or cigars is not definitely stated.

OF MEXICAN RAILWAY.

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Samuel M. Felton, president of the Mexican Central Railway and formerly president of the Chicago & Alton, has returned from Mexico City to live in Chicago. He explained that he would remain president of the Mexican Central, but that the active management and operation was under the jurisdiction of the National Railways Company of Mexico, of which E. N. Brown is president.

Rumors have been afloat to the effect that Mr. Felton would become identified in an important capacity with one of the large roads running out of Chicago. He declared he had no such plans at present.

HURRIED THEM UP.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 19.—"Hurry up and take my money, so I can catch my train," said Edward Cogley, a Wabash engineer, when waylaid by three bandits early today. Cogley was due to take his train out of the Union Station a short time later and being robbed of $8, a watch, and a gold medal for bravery which adorned his breast. He urged them to make haste so that the train would not be held up as well as himself.

DYNAMITE SNOW SLIDES.

TELLURIDE, Colo., Feb. 19.—Anticipating the movement of a huge mass of snow which has been hanging upon the mountainside and which has threatened the lives of the miners employed at several of the properties of the camp, the slide above the Pandro lease was shot with dynamite yesterday, carrying thousands of tons of snow and rock with it. It is proposed to shoot several of the other dangerous slides in this district within the next few days.

NOW AND FOREVER

RID YOURSELF OF AWFUL MISERY OF STOMACH TROUBLE.

ALL DYSPEPSIA WILL VANISH

What is the Need of Continuing to Feel Miserable Day in and Day Out When You Can be Free Forever—Merely a Matter of Taking a Little Diapepsin.

You haven't Catarrh of the Stomach, or Nervousness, or Gastritis, or Cancer, etc. Prove this by taking Pape's Diapepsin after your very next meal. Convince yourself within five minutes that your actual disease was sour, acid Stomach—Food fermentation—that every bit you ate turned to Stomach gas, Stomach poison and Acid, which makes you feel sick and miserable, producing such symptoms as pain in the pit of the stomach, difficulty in breathing after a meal, Headaches, Belching, Heartburn, Nauseous breath, Water brash, Biliousness, Sour risings, Gas on Stomach and many other bad feelings.

Indigestion is a result, not a cause, of your misery. If the Stomach is sour, your food becomes tainted, and that's why you have these stomach disorders.

Ask your pharmacist to show you a case of Pape's Diapepsin, which costs only 50 cents. Read what this effective Stomach and digestive treatment contains, and how absolutely harmless it must be; how it does for the Stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn; absolutely removes every corrupting or tainting element, and will digest all the food you can eat.

Go to your druggist and get some Diapepsin now, then eat anything you want at your next meal, and you will not suffer from Indigestion or Stomach trouble. Each bite of food will taste good, and, besides, you will not need liver regulators to keep your intestines and Stomach clean and fresh.

Now and forever rid yourself of the misery of Indigestion and Stomach trouble. Make your meals a pleasure by going to the table with a healthy appetite.

Wood and Coal.

If you want dry fir cordwood, inside fir, bark slab, or boxwood, ring up Kelly, the Wood and Coal Dealer, the man who keeps the prices down. Coal at $7.00 per ton in your basement or $6.00 at yard. Main 2191. Barn, corner 12th and Duane.

MENTAL BREAK DOWN FROM HIGH VOICES

BOSTON MAN SAYS THAT WE ARE A NATION OF SCREAMERS

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—"If we don't watch out we are going to become a nation of high sopranos, although at present we have only reached the point of expressing all of our sentiments—ethical, emotional and intellectual in a voice that screams." Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chatfield Taylor last night learned of this unsuspected national pitfall from George Riddle of Boston. By way of proving his first statement, Mr. Riddle reproduced the popular way of expressing sentiments of love, humility, excitement, and anger. Juliet, he declared, wished herself no longer a Capulet in the treble clef, the politician declared his platform in a falsetto pitch.

All this might be funny, he announced, if it were not so dangerous—mental breakdowns, he said, are traceable in some instances to our high pitched voices.

"A man of business broke down not so long ago because he talked so much and so loud that he fatigued his temples," he argued. "Then that fatigue in his temples affected his brain. Pretty soon his fatigued brain produced imperfect thought and indistinct speech."

Even our countenances are getting "spoiled" in our excited efforts to be emphatic, according to Mr. Riddle. "For the high pitch fails in emphasis and we seek to reinforce it with exaggerated facial contortions," he continued. "Then we use superlative adjectives with accompanying expressions of countenance trying to emphasize our point."

"The reason for our affliction extends into the roots of our nature. It is based on our extreme haste and impatience. We will not pause to restrain ourselves to the extent of speaking slowly and in a low pitch. "To be able to sit in one's office, a man of affairs and all day long to say to the stream of visitors in a controlled, low pitched voice, "No, I don't care to go into that, thank you; I will take no shares in this,"—such a faculty is as great a luxury to possess as a steam yacht to him who measures his possessions in terms of health."

COCKS IN COURT.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., Feb. 19.—An echo of the cock fight which was raided by the police here early last Sunday morning was heard in court yesterday when the room temporarily transformed into a cockpit in order that the jury might be properly impressed. During the exhibit one of the champion birds was seized, crowded lustily, creating merriment and confusion in the courtroom. Paul K. Kohn of Mount Vernon, N. Y., an agent for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, was convicted on the charge of being a spectator to the fight and was fined fifty dollars.

Among the exhibits were a number of spurs with which the cocks were armed; twenty-five cases in which they were transported to the battleground to fight for the championship and the last bit of evidence, the body of a valiant fowl which perished during the fray.
