The Daily Market Report

probably not more than half a mil- dozen; artichokes, $1.40 per dozen; lion bushels of wheat left in first beans, 25c per pound; peas, 15c per hands in the Inland Empire," said the city today "and the farmers themone of the leading grain dealers of selves, for seed and feed purposes, $1.75 per box; cauliflower, $2.00 will need the bulk of the grain yet @2.25 per crate; asparagus, 16@17c unsold to carry them to the new crop per pound.

"It is doubtful if any wheat crop in the Northwest was ever before sold so short at this time of the year as now. Stocks unsold to date are for the most part odd lots of indifferent wheat that have been more or less neglected by the buyers, and an indication of the strength of the market is the fact that much of this grain, admittedly inferior, is selling at good prices to the millers of the interior.

Small Receipts From The South. Aside from a car of celery there was little or northing in from the South today, and fruit and vegetable supplies generally were moderate. Asparagus is down to 15 cents a pound, and theer is little cauliflower now available at $2.75 a crate. Head lettuce is quoted at 75 cents a dozen and fancy tomatoes at $2.50 a crate. are quoted at $1.50 to $4.00. Apples $2.10. are moving steadily at about the same prices as for the past month. Halibut Price is Lowered.

Fish dealers report halibut coming more freely than for some time, and the price as a result was lowered to 84 cents a pound today. Small quantities of salmon caught in the season are still available, but they will not practically bare of this fish. The smelt supply was very light, but no change in the price was announced.

Egg Market In Good Shape. There were no complaint of inabiland the market held about steady at yesterday's prices. 24 to 25 cents a 20c. dozen for fresh ranch offerings. Receipts for the day were only moderate, and this is taken to indicate that considerable shipments are being sent from the country to markets other than Portland.

Advance in Sugar Coming. "We look for a lift in sugar prices | Oregon Graperoot-Per 100 lbs. an day," said a wholesale grocer to- $3@5. "In the East the sugar market is decidedly stiff and prices there have been raised. That the Coast trade will respond in the near future is in-
