ILWACO

Mrs. M. M. Hawkins and her son, W. B. Hawkins, departed the first of the week for the Collins Springs Ore., to spend several days. Mrs. Hawkins will visit her daughter, Mrs. Allen Carmichael in Vancouver, before returning home.

Mrs. A. A. Seaborg of this city was a visitor to South Bend, for a few days during the past week. She returned Wednesday and was accompanied by her husband, who had been spending several days in that city on business.

J. A. Vaughn of Bear River, was in the city for a day or two, the latter part of the week. Al Simmons, took charge of his position, a watchman in the logging camp, during his absence.

Capt. Stuart of Cape Disappointment was among the passengers on the Hulda I, Wednesday morning enroute to Astoria.

Mrs. H. Kaylor of Long Beach, was a guest of her friend Mrs. Parks for a few days the last of the week.

Mr. McMillan and Debbie Bois, both traveling salesmen of Portland, were in the city the first of the week.

Mrs. Roy Moralee of the Breakers arrived Tuesday afternoon, and spent a short time visiting with her mother, Mrs. Matt Potano. She returned home the following day.

Al Simmons and Fred Gold, two of Ilwaco's most enthusiastic sportsmen returned Tuesday from Bear River where they enjoyed a short outing. They report a large catch of trout.

Main Street was the scene of some excitement Wednesday evening about 6 P. M. when the city drug store caught fire from a defective flue. The firemen arrived on the scene almost instantly and in a very short time had the fire under control. A hole was burned in the roof but other than this no damage was done.

H. Williamson and his son John left the last of the week for the Nasel where they will engage in logging for the next few months.

Bert Robinson, returned to Ilwaco Thursday from Cathlamet Washington where he has been for a few days.

Last Monday the three year old baby of Mrs. C. L. De Long, of Long Beach, swallowed some carbolic acid and for a while its life was despaired of. Dr. Paul, of this city was hurriedly summoned and administered antidotes. After two or three hours, however, the child began to show signs of recovery, and soon all the danger was over. At present the baby is reported all right except for a badly burned mouth.

Kenneth Goulter was a visitor to Astoria Thursday, returning in the afternoon on the Hulda I.

Sol. Michael is able to be up and around again, much to the surprise of his many friends, who understand that it would take about ten days for his recovery, from the fall he received while at work in the Aberdeen store.

Ernest Samples, Willard Jenkins, and Hendrixson, were in the city a few hours Thursday on business after which they returned to the Vaughn logging camp on the Nasel.

The Ilwaco Fraternity Rebekah Lodge No. 78, entertained a large number of guests, Wednesday evening in the Fraternity Hall. Progressive whist was the game of the evening but those who did not play managed to indulge in various other games. The following persons were awarded prizes, the best lady player, Mrs. Ed. Hawkins, a sterling silver cuticle knife; Chas. Seamore the best gentleman player, a silver stamp case; Gladys Graham, a rattle and Forest Heath a pig's tail, as booby prizes.

At the conclusion of the game a lunch consisting of cake, candy and punch, was served in the banquet room. The decorations were in pink and green crepe paper, draped from the center of the hall to the corners. In the banquet room, the decorations were similar, with an addition of ferns and roses for the tables, making the effect very beautiful. The committee on arrangements was as follows: Mildred Morden, Eleanore Heath and Ida Williamson and the success of the party, was partly due to a diligent effort on their part. The guests dispersed at midnight after having spent a very pleasant evening.

Gene Bouton of Chinook, has been engaged for the past week in repairing the telephone lines of the Ilwaco Telephone Co., between this city and Nabocco, also installing several new phones.

George Ross and Ralph Grabble, returned home Thursday, from the Nasel, where they have been employed in a logging camp for the past few weeks. In the future they expect to find work nearer Ilwaco.

BUSINESS MANNERS.

Orison Sweet Marden, writing in "Success Magazine," asks and answers two very pertinent questions:

Why is it that many of the cashiers, bookkeepers, bank tellers, corporation clerks, and people who serve the public through glass windows or across counters, are so pert and unobliging? Why is it necessary to make a customer feel that he is a nuisance?

Public officials, clerks, and attendants in our public buildings and municipal offices are proverbially curt, short, and snappy. Though you are paying them through your taxes for their services, they make you feel that they are doing you a great favor by giving you what belongs to you and by doing what you are paying them for doing.

How quickly you notice the atmosphere of a business house—a great department store, for example. There is as much difference between the feeling you have in walking through two great establishments as that you experience in talking with the different heads of these houses. In one, refinement, courteousness, consideration for others, a feeling of good will, permeates the very atmosphere. You have a feeling that every employee in the place would be glad to serve you if he could, and is anxious to please, whether you buy or not. There is evidence that the employer thinks a great deal of the character as well as the ability of his clerks, and that manners and deportment are never left out of consideration in their selection. In another house, only a few blocks away, you are ill at ease. Carelessness, indifference, and chilliness pervade the place. You do not feel at home. There is a lack of harmony, a sense of antagonism in the atmosphere. The employees make you feel that they are doing you a favor in letting you see the goods, or giving you the opportunity to purchase them with your money.

The man who thinks he is going to make a fortune without considering the man at the other end of the bargain is very short-sighted. In the long run the customer's best good is the seller's best good also; and, other things equal, the man succeeds best who satisfies his customers best and whose customers not only come back, but always bring others with them.

"My three-year-old boy was badly constipated, had a high fever and was in an awful condition. I gave him two doses of Foley's Orino Laxative and the next morning the fever was gone and he was entirely well. Foley's Orino Laxative saved his life." A. Wolfshub, Casimer, Wis. T. F. ALWAYS READY.

Governor Wilson of Kentucky evidently disagrees with those who think that it is wise to so arrange matters that the newspapers of the country will have to proceed with extreme caution in discussing public affairs. He declares that the only hope of relief from the criminal conditions which afflict the commonwealth of Kentucky lies in arousing a strong and enlightened public sentiment which can only be done by a free and untrammelled press. ROUGH 'EM UP!

Now that Professor M. V. O'Shea of the University of Wisconsin has told the Illinois Congress of Mothers that boys in the schools "suffer for the lack of something rough," and that women teachers cause effeminacy, there probably will be a great laying on of sticks at our institutions of learning. But, after all there is nothing very new in what Professor O'Shea says. Soloman said something very similar, though he courteously refrained from singling out women teachers.—Ex.

OH! RATS!

A recent consular report says that plague has again made its appearance in Bombay but that the health department is doing its utmost to keep down the disease. To this end about 10,000 rats are being killed weekly. Perhaps the remedy may prove efficacious, but the fact that in India most of the victims of the plague are on the border land of starvation suggests that a little better feeding would do more to arrest the ravages of the disease than rat killing.—Ex.

THE LIVE WIRE.

A young woman in Columbus, O., was electrocuted a few days ago through her umbrella coming in contact with a telephone wire. A dozen persons who attempted to remove her body were hurled to the ground by the shock. The frequency of accidents caused by exposed wires in cities may have the effect of hastening the day when they will all be ordered underground; but the American people suffer a long while before taking steps to defend themselves.—Ex.

GUARDING HEALTH.

A committee has been appointed by the Association of Life Insurance Presidents to consider the proposition to contribute financial support to the campaign of education now being conducted by the Committee of One Hundred on National Health. It has been urged that by the adoption of practical hygienic reforms the span of life may be increased fifteen years. If that result can be achieved it will pay the insurance companies splendidly to assist in the campaign, and no one will have more occasion to rejoice over that fact than those who by the prolongation of their lives benefit the companies who are insuring them.—Ex.

IS COLUMBIA IN IT?

According to recent revelations the Fish combine is not a local or State affair, but it has secured a grip on the fisheries of the Great Lakes and the Atlantic Coast as well as those of the Pacific seaboard. On this coast it forces fishermen to sell their catch of salmon, bass, shad, halibut and other food fishes at from 2 to 3 cents per pound and it makes consumers pay from 15 to 25 cents per pound. Its baneful effects on the fisheries of the Great Lakes and the Atlantic seaboard are manifested by the steps taken at Chicago a few days ago to proceed against it as an unlawful trust created for and conducting its business in restraint of trade and in violation of the interstate commerce law. The influence of the trust on the California consumer in respect to Eastern fish importations is illustrated by the fact that, before it was organized, finnan haddies, for example, were retailed in the bay cities at 12 1-2 cents per pound, and they are now quoted at 17 1-2 cents per pound.—Oakland Tribune.

ECZEMA A GERM DISEASE

Myriads of Microscopic Animals Infest the Skin of the Sufferer.

When the skin of an eczema sufferer itches and burns in untold agony, do you know what is going on within the pores of that skin? Myriads of microscopic animals are gnawing at the flesh, breaking down the fine cells and causing festers, thick scales and that terrible itch. The germs multiply faster than Nature can throw them off.

Now, there is only one way to get rid of these germs—they must be killed in their lodging places. Dosing the stomach or trying to cure the blood will not, of course, kill the germs, and that is why all the blood remedies fail in eczema; that is also why salves which do not penetrate can do no permanent good.

Ordinary oil of wintergreen properly compounded in liquid form will penetrate the pores of the skin and kill the eczema germs. If properly mixed with thymol, glycerine and other ingredients (as in D. D. D. Prescription) this wash will build up the tissue of the skin and promote its healthy growth, giving Nature a chance, while killing the germs faster than they can multiply.

THE CONCIERGE.

Tyrant Rule of the Autocrat of the Parisian Flat House.

The "conciierge" is considered to be the bane of the Parisian flat dweller's existence. His functions are supposed to be the following: The first and most important is to collect the rent on quarter day; after that he must see that the tenants do not surreptitiously remove. The latter precaution seems to be somewhat unnecessary, as rents in Paris are always paid in advance.

He should also bring up your letters at least twice a day, but as the concierge is generally a stout, middle aged woman who has a decided objection to climbing stairs the latter regulation remains somewhat of a dead letter.

In Paris the front door of most houses is generally closed at 10 o'clock. After that time admittance can only be obtained by ringing a bell. The concierge is obliged to open the door, and she does this, as soon as she is awake, by pulling a rope which hangs by her bedside.

If she is a sound sleeper and you are accustomed to come home late at night, the best thing to do is to look for another flat, as the concierge will put you down as a "bad tenant" and make things as unpleasant for you as possible.

If you never stop out late at night, receive very few friends and feel her heavily at Christmas, the concierge will consider you as a "good tenant" until you give notice to leave, when her interest in you suddenly vanishes.

As there is nothing more to be expected from you and the incoming tenant is obliged to give a substantial tip, called a "denier a Dieu," she is anxious to "speed the parting guest" as much as possible.

The concierge does sometimes make a final effort to extract something more from you by attempting to make you pay a frame for every nail hooked in the walls of your flat, but this has been decided to be illegal and may be safely resisted.

But the Parisian concierge is really unpopular because she represents a landlord.—London Mail.
