TERSE TALES OF THE TOWN

Bar Association—
A meeting of the Bar Association has been called for next Tuesday night.

On Friday Next—
The ladies of the W. C. T. U. will on Friday afternoon, the 9th of April, hold a sale of fancy articles and of home cooking, at their rooms in the Seaman's Institute, on Exchange street.

Knows Him Well—
Andrew Anderson, one of the men on the steamer Hassalo, knew Nels Peterson, the man who was nearly killed with an ax, back in Sweden. He lived near the Peterson home, and in a day or two expects to call at St. Mary's and see him.

A New Chef—
Charles Gardiner, of Portland, has arrived in the city, and taken full charge of the Parker House restaurant, which he will run and cook for from now on. He is an expert and master of the art of fabricating dainty viands and the Parker House management is elated over the acquisition of his services.

Injured At Mill—
A Harper, one of the employees at the Hammond Lumber mills, was badly bruised yesterday by a fall, and at first it was thought his injuries were serious. He fell on a chain conveyor. At St. Mary's it was ascertained that aside from a sprained ankle and various bruises he had escaped hurt.

Over From Chinook—
Herman Johnson, of Chinook, one of the old residents there, was in the city yesterday and reports everything getting along well in the little Washington town. Stores and other places are being fixed up and the fishermen are preparing for their summer's work. Mr. Johnson has been a reader of the Astorian for 26 years, he says, and he took occasion to compliment it now as a good paper.

The Cat Came Back—
Al Seafeldt is feeling much better than he did. His beautiful white Angora cat has come back, unscathed and prettier than ever. It was brought home by Patrolman Hansen who reported that he had arrested Pussy for keeping late hours, and the boys are all saying that this is the first arrest Hansen has made for a year but they will have their josh, of course.

I. O. O. F. Notice.
All members of Beaver Lodge No. 35, and visiting members are requested to meet at Odd Fellows' Hall, this (Sunday) evening at 7 o'clock. Business of importance.
OLOF ANDERSON,
Secretary.

THAT EASTER SUIT
WHY NOT GET IT NOW?

A little later in the month we will be crowded with work and many of the beautiful patterns now in stock will be gone. Don't procrastinate. Come in today and talk it over, anyway. The goods are of the prettiest and best, and there's no question as to the tailor.

For General Service—
The Columbia River Packers' Association yesterday received its new piledriver, the best and biggest at this end of the river, and lately purchased from the "North Bank" railway people. It was brought down from Pillar Rock yesterday by the steamer Agnes, and will be used by the company for its general purposes of construction and repair.

Off For The Forests—
Foreman J. E. Croner, with a party of 25 timber cruisers, left this city yesterday morning in two four-horse teams from the Sherman barns, for the forest holdings of James D. Lacey & Company, south and west of Olney, in this and Tillamook counties, which comprise about 20,000 acres of fine timber. He expects to be out about 30 days. They were a fine and husky lot of young men and the last one of them looked exactly fit for the work ahead.

Looking After Her Bill—
Dr. B. Owens-Adair was in the city yesterday evening, en route to the Capital City, where she will look after the ultimate fate of her famous measure for the sterilization of perverts. It is not known that she can do anything to bring the matter before the special session of the Legislature which convenes tomorrow, but she intends to get the last and surest word in the case directly from His Excellency, Governor Benson. She left up on the 6:10 express last evening.

Peterson No Worse—
Nels Peterson, the man attacked by Robert Davis with an ax last Wednesday, was about the same yesterday, and the chances for improvement seemed encouraging from the fact that no infection had yet set in the wound in his head. He takes a little liquid nourishment. He may die, or he may live, is about all the safe forecast that can be made, but inasmuch as no inflammation or infection have set in his chances would appear to be fairly good. The injury to his brain is affecting his muscular movements slightly.

For Practice March—
Captain Abercrombie of the First Company issued an order yesterday directing the members of the company to meet at the armory at 9 o'clock this morning for the purpose of taking a march out into the country. If it rains the order is to be ineffective. The order directs each member to wear his field uniform and canteen and haversack, and that each man have with him sufficient food for one meal. It is planned to march the company out over the Young's River bridge several miles, and to possibly hold various maneuvers.

From The Azores—
Yesterday on the noon train Attorney C. J. Curtis received a heavy and much bestamped official envelope, containing the receipts from the five several heirs of the late Antone Furtado, of this city and county. They covered the legacies left by Mr. Furtado, and the $1900 despatched to them by Mr. Curtis, and were all very formal and swarming with seals and stamps of all official grades, according to the careful and painstaking rules observed in the Latin countries in all legal matters. The matter was closed through the American Consul at San Miguel, Portugal.

Court Adjourns—
The February term of the circuit court was adjourned last evening by Judge McBride. The next session will be the June term, though Judge McBride states that he expects to return here sometime in May to set various cases for trial. It is probable that Judge McBride may appear here at times in the future, though it is understood that he has said there is a possibility he may turn all of the work in this county over to the new judge to be appointed. On the other hand the more probable arrangement will be that one judge would take the equity cases and the other the law cases, or some such division of the labor. The bill providing for the new judge will not become law until May 21 when the appointment will probably be made at once.

Wanted.
All chronic sufferers to call and see Dr. Eva Marsh. No matter what your ailments are, or of how long standing, there is still hope for you with this wonderful drugless system. I am able to reach all diseases and remove the cause. Call and investigate.

New Service Inaugurated—
The Troy Laundry, of this city, is just starting a new line of service, which, if it meets with general approval and patronage, will be made one of the leading features of their extensive business in this city and section. The management proposes to do rough-dry washing for families at so much per pound, the rate making it easier for families to meet, and gives perfect service short of the ironing. It is the intention to push this line of work to such a point as shall warrant the enlargement of the already big plant here. This is an advantage that will be made of instantly by hundreds of families in this section.

Callenders Win Suit—
Judge McBride announced yesterday afternoon informally that he would hand down a decision in the suit of the Callender Company against the county in favor of the company. This was an action brought by the company to restrain the county from imposing taxes on it, on the grounds that it was a Washington corporation, and the decision will mean that the city and county may not impose any taxes against the company or collect the back taxes already laid. The decision is made on the grounds that inasmuch as the company was chartered in Washington, it necessarily has its principal office there and is liable to taxation there. Attorney Fulton appeared for the company. In circuit court yesterday decree was given to the plaintiff in the suit for divorce brought by Phillipa Funk vs. Geo. C. Funk. In the case of J. A. Montgomery vs. R. M. Hall the demurrer was sustained. In the case of the Columbia River Packers' Association the plaintiff took judgment by default. In the case of Samuel Elmore vs. Elizabeth Bakka judgment was given to the plaintiff by default.

Breaks In The Pipe—
During the past week the pipe line broke twice, each break being a pretty bad one, and during the repairs on one the water in the reservoir became quite low. By some it is thought that the present pipe line, though admittedly in fairly bad shape, might last a long time yet, though naturally repairs, some of them on an extensive scale, would be expected. Arthur L. Adams, the engineer, whose familiarity with the works is well known, once advised the commissioners that it would never pay to put in a new pipe line until the annual repairs exceeded $14,000. Thus far the annual repairs have never exceeded $1000. Mr. Adams' dictum would perhaps require some explanation, but nevertheless such was his judgment on the matter. To construct an entirely new pipe line would cost perhaps $125,000.

Found Dynamite—
A boy notified the police department yesterday that he had found a box on the hilltop at Tenth and Irving which he thought contained dynamite. Officer Harry Rinn went to investigate and found a box which contained enough dynamite to blow up half the town, there being nearly 50 sticks. The box was carried to the Foard & Stokes hardware store and left for safe keeping. This dynamite had been apparently left there by the contractor who has been working on the job, and it must have been there from three weeks to as many months. Whoever left it did so with a carelessness that seems little short of criminal, as it is a place where children are very likely to go, and that some tots did not get hold of it and blow themselves to Kingdom Come is perhaps a matter of providential good fortune more than anything else. This is not the first time recently that contractors have carelessly left dynamite behind them.

First Company Play—
The boys of the First Company, Coast Artillery, have made all arrangements to give a local play called "The Captain and the Spy," a military drama in four acts, dealing with incidents during the Spanish war. The cast is made up from members of the company and is put on for the purpose of raising a little money to better equip and fit up the armory and company rooms. The boys serve without pay, the State furnishes enough money to pay armory rental, but every other item of expense must be met by the company members. Numerous articles are needed to properly equip the company and the treasury is rather low, so this means has been decided upon. Inasmuch as the members of the company serve without pay, and in time of war would be called by the government to go to the front, the company thinks their means of raising a little money is one that should be helped and commended by the public as much as possible. Besides the play is sure to be an excellent one, and everyone that attends is sure to get his money's worth.

Piano Recital Postponed.
Miss Hattie Wise has been a sufferer during the past week from an attack of la grippe, and the recital to be given by her under the auspices of the Epworth League has been postponed until Tuesday evening, March 23rd.

MR. HOLDEN'S CAREER ONE OF HONOR

FUNERAL OBSEQUIES OCCUR HERE TOMORROW MORNING AT 10:30.

The sad news of the death, in Portland, of Ebenezer C. Holden, in yesterday's Morning Astorian, caused widespread grief in the great circle of friends who had cherished him for long years as one of the best and most upright of Astoria's citizens. Everybody who knew him and they are legion hereabout, were busy all of yesterday exchanging expressions of profound regret at the news, and recalling all the clever and kindly incidents that marked their several and peculiar relations with him during all the years he dwelt here.

All that was mortal of Mr. Holden will arrive in this city today, and the funeral ceremonies will take place tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church, Rev. W. S. Gilbert, pastor, officiating. The members of Temple Lodge No. 7, A. F. & A. M. of this city, will conduct the ceremonies at the grave-side and interment will be had at Ocean View cemetery. The funeral party will take the noon train to Ocean View.

He leaves to grieve his loss, his widow, Mrs. E. R. Holden, and four daughters, as follows: Mrs. Charles H. Callender, of this city; Mrs. Mary E. Strong, of Portland; Mrs. A. W. McKenzie, of Spokane, and Mrs. C. M. Brink, of Portland. Two of the children born to Mr. and Mrs. Holden died some years ago. His stricken widow was Miss Emma Ridd, of Sierra City, Cal., to whom he was wedded in 1853.

Mr. Holden was an ardent and profoundly held Mason; and for 22 years he served Temple Lodge in this city as its secretary; and it is said that his records, as such officer (as well as those of his like service in the Astoria Chamber of Commerce, for many years), were exquisite models of inscription and beautiful orderliness and are among the most complete in detail of any in the country.

Mr. Holden was in his 85th year, having been born at Slinford, in Sussex, England, on the 17th of September, 1824. And, according to the biographical records maintained by the Oregon Historical Society of which he was an ardent and long-time member, he was apprenticed, at the age of eight years, to the Christ Hospital, of London, for six years. He was apprenticed out from there to a firm of booksellers, Simpkin, Marshall & Company, staying with them until 1844, when he became a school teacher in one of the country towns of Staffordshire, and three years later came to America, going first to Cincinnati, Ohio, and later to Buffalo, New York.

PERSONAL MENTION

Miss Clara Larson is in the city having come down from the metropolis to visit with her home people and friends for a week. Miss Larson is taking one of the Astorian's business college courses, and making splendid headway in her studies.

Captain and Mrs. C. R. Spencer left for their Portland home on the steamer Lurline last evening. Captain Spencer could give no assurance of the coming of his boat on the Astoria run this summer as he had not yet determined upon the matter.

Captain and Mrs. Oscar Wicklund of the Cape Adams life saving station spent the day in this city yesterday; and Captain Charles Stuart of the Disappointment Station returned at his post yesterday morning after a business trip to this city.

Lieutenant Prentice was up from Fort Stevens yesterday on his customary Saturday relaxation from military duty.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Veal of Portland were in the city yesterday on a business and pleasure trip, and were quartered at the Occident.

A. F. McIntyre of Los Angeles spent the day in this city yesterday.

W. J. Hatfield and wife, accompanied by Miss Hatfield of Portland were visitors in this city yesterday.

D. B. Atherton, a well known drummer out of Seattle spent the day here yesterday and was registered at the Northern.

B. H. Jagerstrom of Tacoma was among the business tourists noted in this city yesterday.

John Cordano came down from the metropolis yesterday on a matter of business, and will spend Sunday with Astoria friends.

The Man Who Eats.

The man who eats does so with the expectation of being satisfied. To this end he seeks the best possible place to gratify his normal appetite at most rational expense. These things account for the steady stream of people to and from the portals of the Palace Restaurant in this city. The reputation of the Palace is founded immovably upon the certainty and amplitude of the service it renders to every purse, and appetite, big and little. Open day and night.
