

Who Wouldn't be an Editor?

One of the beauties and the charms of an editor's life is in dead heading it on all occasions. No one who has never tasted the sweets of that bliss can begin to take in its glory and its happiness. He does one hundred dollars worth of advertising for a railroad, gets a 'pass' for a year, and rides twenty five dollars worth and then he is looked upon as a dead-head, or a half-blow dead beat. He "puffs" a theatre or a concert troupe ten dollars worth and gets one dollar in "complimentaries" and is thus passed in "free." If the hall is crowded he is bridged the room he occupies—for if his complimentaries were paying tickets the troupe would be a much in pocket. He blows and puffs a church festival free to any desired extent, does the poster printing at half rate, and rarely gets a "thank you" for it. It goes in as a part of his duty as an editor. He does more work gratuitously for the town and community than all the rest of the population put together, and gets credit for it all, in many instances, where a man who do nates a dollar on the Fourth of July, base ball club or church, is gratefully remembered. No, it is a sweet thing to be an editor. He puffs "free" you know.—De Witt Observer.

At the close of the sermon the minister became impressive. Raising his voice, he said: "Judgement, judgement!" and a small boy near the vestry aisle shouted: "Out on the first!"
