ANEW VIEW OF CONSUMPTION.

And One which Appeals to Common Sense.—Many Curable Cases.

[Medical Stories.]

"Many persons die of Consumption, but it can be cured," said Dr. S. C. Clark of Watertown, N. Y., "if they would go at it right. I have a new view of the disease. Consumption is not always of lung origin."

"How so? What is it then?"

"Many cases of consumption fare secondary. The disease itself prevails everywhere, but the best prognosis is to attribute it entirely to consumption in the weaker. If a person lives in the most favorable climate in the world and has any tendency to lung weakness, certain conditions exist in the system, that climate, however favorable, will not prevent development of the disease. The disorder in such cases is only a secondary symptom in the lungs of some other ailment, and can never be cured until approached through its source."

"Yes, doctor, but what is the method of approach?"

"If you dip your finger in acid you will die; do you not?"

"If you wash this burnt finger every second with the acid, what is the result?"

"Why constant inflammation, festering and eventual destruction of the lung."

"Physician! Now then for my method, which commands itself to the reason and judgment of every acid practitioner. You know certain acids are developed in the body. Well, if the system is all right these acids are neutralized or utilized and carried out. If the system is run down by excesses, anxiety, continual exertion, over-work, those acids accumulate in the body. There is only natural weakness in the lungs. This acid attacks it, having a natural affinity for it, and if the acid is not neutralized or passed out of the system, it burns, ulcerates and finally destroys the lung. Is this clear?"

"Perfectly! But how do you prevent the accumulation of these acids in the system?"

"Incurable cases of the liver and kidneys create this excess of acid and the supply can be cut off only by correcting the wrong action of these organs. The kidneys alone should earn out in quantity, in solution enough of this acid daily, which, if left in the blood, would kill four men. When the stomach, the liver and the kidneys are all conspiring against the lung, the wonder is that weak lungs resist death as long as they do!"

"But you have not told us how you would treat such cases?"

"No, but I will. The lungs are only diseased as an effect of this acid or kidney poison in the blood. After having exhausted all authorized remedies, the next condition was compelled to submit to justice of my patients, even to Warner's salve, etc.; though a proprietary remedy, it is now the greatest. I say, by leading physicians, by Presidents of State Boards of Health and by insurance physicians, as a scientific and the only guarantee for these great organs in which enter ninety per cent. of diseases of man or are contained!"

"Is this form of treatment successful?"

"It is wonderfully so, and for that reason I am only too willing that you should communicate it to the world of consumptives!"

Note by the Publishers.—We have received the above interview from H. H. Warner & Co., Rochester, N. Y., with a request that we publish it for the good of suffering people. In a few notes to their letter they say:

"The experience of Dr. Clark is most valuable to us. In our practice we have found that many theories of those people suffering from what they think is Consumption, whereas the real difficulty is with the liver and kidneys, proves by the fact that when these organs are restored to health by the use of Warner's salve, the consumption disappears and so does anemic or kidney poisoning, which causes so many symptoms of disease, but the entire system is subject to the same. This may be said of rheumatism, caused by acid condition of the system. We insist upon what we always have claimed, if you remove the cause, the system will soon perfect the self-healing process." Mrs. Rev. Dr. Theodore Wolf of Gettysburg, Pa., wife of the editor of the Lutheran Standard, with her friends that have had success with Consumption, but after a long time with Warner's salve, she says: "I am perfectly well." We can cite them in hundreds of such cases, but one is enough. If you publish the above article, Mark it as a medical copy."

We gladly give place to the article, for it can in any way stay the ravages of Consumption, which carries away so many millions yearly. It is our bounden duty so to do.—P. G.
