PROHIBITORY AMENDMENT.

The following is the proposed prohibitory amendment to the Constitution of the State of Oregon, which the people will vote for or against on the 8th of November, next.

Article XIX, Section 1. The manufacture, sale or the giving away, or the offering to give away, or the keeping for sale of any spirituous, vinous, malt, distilled, fermented, or any intoxicating liquors, whatever, is prohibited in this State, except for medicinal, scientific or mechanical purposes.

Sec. 2. The legislative assembly shall provide by law in what manner, by whom, and at what place such liquors, or any of them shall be manufactured or sold, or kept for sale, for medical, scientific or mechanical purposes.

Sec. 3. This amendment shall take effect and be in full force from the date of its ratification by the electors.

Sec. 4. The legislative assembly shall without delay, pass all necessary laws with sufficient penalties necessary to enforce this amendment.

The German government is nursing disorder within the Empire instead of curing it. The command to use only the German language in public soon to be followed by another arbitrary edict, that German alone must be taught in the schools, is a step towards breeding an Ireland for Germany to contend with perhaps for hundreds of years. Alsace and Lorraine, or Elsass and Lotharingen, as the two provinces are now ordered to be called, are more French than Paris itself. The vote on the German army bill recently showed the feeling of the people. It is partly that vote which has inspired the arbitrary and coercive measures which we allude to.

The German ukase against the former Germans in the country who have become naturalized in America is another of those arbitrary measures which speak of despotism, and indicative of weakness, for what should a nation fear from a few who return from a foreign land to visit their kindred.

We are informed that the freight rate on horses, in carload lots, from Wallula to St. Paul, has been raised from $180 to $420 a car, and that this rate was made necessary by the Inter-State Commerce law. This rise in freight, if permanent, paralyzes the horse business of this country. The railroad men appear to be desirous of making the law regulating their business as obnoxious as possible. The opposition they desire to create should not be directed to the law, but to the railroad manipulators, and the people through their commission should not be the least bit afraid of screwing them down to the sticking place hereafter. A little regulation appears to be a bad thing.—Ex.

A report from the Treasury Department covering the dates between March 1 and March 19, inclusive, give the following satisfactory showing as far as the circulation of silver is concerned: "During the time stated the decrease in the amount of silver dollars in circulation amounted to $346,545, while the increase in the amount of silver certificates put into circulation in nineteen days foots up $6,096,619. This shows that on March 19, $1,758,000 more silver currency, was in circulation than on the first day of March.

The United States treasury contained over $550,000,000 in coin, treasury notes and national banks' notes on the 1st of March, according to the treasurer's report. This vast sum is over $10 each for every man, woman and child in the country.
