LOCAL BREVITIES.

Hol voters.

Only four days—and then!

Strawberries are ripening, but not very plentiful in the market.

Big quartz ledge about four miles east of town. Particulars soon.

Wood, from down the valley, started a large band of horses for eastern markets last week.

A Georgia farmer made $100 off an acre planted in watermelons, and a neighboring doctor made $200 off the same acre.

Notwithstanding the extremely dry weather the range is in a pretty good condition—where the sheep have not been, of course.

The day is fast approaching when the great American bird will air his feathers in the breeze, laden with the odor of blossoming sagebrush.

A. Sproul and wife, formerly residents of this place, arrived Sunday on a visit, from Los Angeles, Cal., at which place they now reside.

Married. At Canyon City, in the parlor of the City Hotel, Tuesday, May 29th, 1888, by Wm. Miller, J. P., Mr. Geo. C. Sherwood and Miss Ella Taylor, both of Prairie City.

Next Friday falling on the News printing day, makes it an excellent one for the printer. It is a glaring fact also, that Independence day comes on Wednesday this year.

The boiler in King's sawmill on Canyon creek, from Harney, blew out a flue sheet, completely wrecking the entire mill, but no one was injured. Mr. King will immediately rebuild his mill.

"Sid," of Fisk & Hyde Implement Co., agents for P. Basche & Co., Baker City, anything in the line of buggies or machinery you want you can depend on them, and they will sell you first class goods.

We are in receipt of a neat and attractive pamphlet, printed by the Oregon Blade printing house, Baker City, containing a complete and correct description of Baker and Malheur counties.

Competitive bids will probably be opened on the evening of election. We caution the honest voter not to believe them. If they are not false they would have been circulated in time for publication.

Prof. T. Irwin's lecture at the court house last Thursday evening was largely attended. Mr. Irwin is well known as a lecturer and those who listened to his address on that evening were well repaid.

Another Good "Injun."

News comes to to us from the Harney country that Wm. Page, acting deputy sheriff, shot and killed a Piute Indian.

It appears that one of the tribe named "Buccaroo Jim," and a very bad character at that, was suspicioned of the murder of J. M. Bright, and Mr. Page went to their stomping grounds to arrest him, but was met by Jim's father and other Indians, all armed, and showing a disposition to scalp somebody. Mr. Page, to save himself, shot the father of "Buccaroo Jim," and then retreated. The next day, in company with other whites, Mr. Page went to the Indian camp, when the Indians displayed a flag of truce. They assisted the deputy and his men to fix "Buccaroo Jim," when he was taken to Harney for an examination.

A cartridge shell was found near the scene of the tragic murder of Bright, which had been struck and exploded by the hammer of the gun in a certain peculiar manner, the impression on the shell being a little to one side of the center. A resident of the valley recognized this as a peculiarity of a gun which was formerly in his possession, but which he had sold to this same Indian, and there being no similar ammunition in the country, he was thereupon arrested. We have not learned the particulars, but hope sufficient evidence may be obtained, if this is the guilty party, to put him beyond the possibility of taking another human life.

LATER: Yesterday Brody Johnson and Wm. Page arrived in town with "Buccaroo Jim," who, at the preliminary examination before Justice Parks, at Harney, was sentenced to jail without bail to await the action of the next grand jury. Jim says that another Indian did the killing, but evidence went to show that he was working for Mr. Morley during the day on which Bright was killed. A number of the tribe are doubtless parties to the crime, but all the evidence so far has gone to show that "Buccaroo Jim" is the guilty one, and our citizens may witness the rare treat of a first class Indian hanging bee along about next November.

NOTICE.

To the Taxpayers of School District No. 1 of Canyon City, County of Grant:

Your attention is especially called to the tax levied in March last which was due April 4th and will be delinquent after June 4, next, and will be collected as by law required.

F. HALL, Clerk.

By order of the directors.

Very warm.

Nice shower yesterday, and all nature refreshed.

Give us the news. If anything happens please drop us a card with particulars.

St. Louis has raised $37,000 to meet the expenses of the Democratic National convention.

William Sherwood, of Baltimore, Md., has been sentenced to one year's imprisonment for stealing a Bible.

The Oregon Blood Purifier is Nature's own remedy, and should be used to the exclusion of all nauseous medicines in all diseases of the stomach, liver and kidneys.

Mr. Carter, in the employ of the Government, has been in town for a few days calling testimony in Indian depredation claims, and will probably go from here to the North Fork country.

A large crowd turned out yesterday to commemorate the day and [illegible] flowers over the graves of loved ones. It is a beautiful custom, and the Grand Army boys deserve credit for their successful efforts in maintaining its observance.

Mining enterprises are taking quite a boom at Susanville. Messrs Stone & Haskell are digging a ditch, 9 miles in length, through which they will bring water onto their claims. A large number of men can find ready employment there, at $2½ per day.—Eagle.

We are in receipt of a copy of the first number of the Oregon State Weather Review, and Agricultural Report published under the auspices of the Immigration Board and Portland Board of Trade, devoted to information respecting the climate of Oregon and the condition and prospects of crops. The success of the paid rendered by those in Oregon interested in meteorological work, and who desires to see the climatology of the State published. The publication is issued monthly and will reach and be read by thousands, many of whom will emigrate to the State.

AMONG THE MINES.

Quartzburg, May 29, 1888.

The Keystone Mill is running on the Keystone ore, and is doing well. The company are working ten men in the mine; and in the Wide West mine there is a three foot vein, all paying ore, which the company has been crushing from all winter.

THE COLORADO

Mine is worked by Granville, Pierce & Co. The mill, at present, is running on the ore of this mine, and has been for a month past.

THE GARFIELD MINE.

Mr. O. C. Miller and George Bently are crushing ore from the Garfield Mine at Mr. Nelson Babcock's arrastra, and it is paying well.

THE EAGLE MINE

is owned by Mr. Fearmon. He has 150 feet of tunnel on it, and 45 feet of shaft, and the ore is free milling gold, the formation being granite, on the foot wall, and the hanging wall is porphyry, which makes it a contact lead. They have been crushing ore on R. C. Reid's arrastra which showed that the mine was paying well. The good work is still going on.

I am positive that Canyon City will soon be surprised, as I learn that a mine has been struck not far from its vicinity that will surprise the neighborhood. I have witnessed ten cents out of a pan of quartz on the surface and the lead is 300 feet in width, and all prospects. If the vein average $5 per ton it is a fortune for the owners. I will write more about this when the party gets it in shape.

MINER.

Portions of Lake Superior are yet covered with ice, and many vessels remain frozen in.

The following problem invites solution. It needs no great effort of mathematical genius to work it out, but when you do get through with it you will be struck with the truth of the result. Here it is: "Put down the figures of the year in which you were born; to this add 4; then add your age at your next birthday, providing it comes before January 1st; otherwise add your age at your last birthday. Multiply the result by 1000. From the result so obtained subtract 677,423. Now in this result substitute for the figures corresponding letters of the alphabet—a for 1, b for 2, c for 3, and so on. The result will be the name by which you are popularly known.

LONG CREEK LYRICS.

Long Creek, May 25th, '88.

Our lawyers and constables are kept busy with attachment suits.

The road supervisor is out with a full force doing some needed repairs on the road.

By an oversight my last letter with Items was left on the desk until the mail had left.

Next Sunday the church at this place will be dedicated, and a large congregation is expected.

Revs. Hayes and Wood have arrived in town to assist in the dedication of the church on next Sunday.

Mr. Cameron, the efficient Assessor, completed his work in this part of the county and left last Monday.

Just as I am finishing my letter a gale is blowing and everybody says, "It is going to rain sure." So may it be.

The great May party picnic turned out to be a complete failure, as also the dance in the evening. What is the matter with the boys?

Loads and loads of wool are passing through town daily, but they don't seem to create the enthusiasm they did when wool was worth 20cts.

Since the change of editors, the Eagle seems to give general satisfaction. Happy Jack don't hunt for a fight or a fuss, but minds his own business.

The funeral of the late T. F. Scroggins was attended by everybody in the vicinity. The Masonic brethren from Canyon City and John Day were unable to attend.

Mr. Ballance is busy preparing for the sale of the horses belonging to the Furlough estate. The tightness of the money market it is feared, will effect the prices, as only cash will answer.

Where, Oh! where are the candidates for office, election is close on hand and not one has shown up. Are they going to throw off on Long Creek or don't they need our vote. We would like to get acquainted with them anyhow.

Mulky & Hunsacker's teams arrived loaded down to the guards with Long Creek necessaries, viz., 40 barrels of beer, liquors and whiskey, and everybody can again be happy. No more danger of starvation.

The saloon of this place has set a good example by the closing of its doors on Sunday, and we hope every business establishment will follow. Even if the back door is opened occasionally, it shows respect to the sentimental public.

Everybody seems to be anxious to either leave or sell their business. Nearly every merchant wants to sell, hotel wants to sell or rent Blacksmith shop, livery-stable and every thing else seems to be in the market. The low price for wool and continued drouth seems to be the cause of hard times.

Ed Woodall vs Charley Williams, was a case tried before Constable Davis. Woodall attached a horse claimed by Williams for money loaned long ago. Mrs. Williams claimed the horse as her's, and after hearing the eloquent pleadings of Mr. Dustin, the jury decided the case in favor of Mrs. Williams.

As I predicted before, the case of the State of Oregon vs Kit Carson came to naught, the prosecuting witness, Mr. Bryant, not appearing against the defendant. Has the State got to pay the expenses on such trumped up charges, done out of spite, or for sake of vengeance?

A respectable woman, willing to work and do washing for the community would find this a good place to make an honest living. It is nearly impossible to get cloth washed.

Harney City, May 23d, 1888.

EDITOR GRANT COUNTY NEWS:

The Harney Items of 11th inst. contains an open and clear statement by Dr. Gilham, Republican candidate for the Legislature, defining his position on the vexed question of the division of Grant County. In it he manfully declares himself in favor of division and proposes to submit the selection of the county seat for Harney county to the people of said county. It seems that this very fair proposition does not meet the approval of the "managers" at Burns, fearing that that place will be left in the contest for county seat, and we have reliable information that the good people of Burns intend to support Mr. J. F. Morrison, the Democratic candidate for the Legislature, and in turn expect his aid in securing the county seat for that place. Mr. Morrison has been invited to define his position on this subject, and also on the question of division, but so far has failed to respond. Is he afraid to offend the people of Burns?

Truly yours.
HARNEY COUNTY.

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

Weekly Budget of News as Furnished by our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, May 24, '88.

During the month of May the Capital will be given over to the conventionists. At present the five National Baptist Associations, which have attracted thousands of delegates, are in session here. On the 22nd, the National Bar Association will meet here. On the same day they will be on Pennsylvania Avenue such a parade of Knights of the Golden Eagle as has never been seen the history of that order anywhere. On the 24th the laying of the corner stone of the Catholic University will be witnessed by an immense number of persons, 10,000 invitations have been issued, and on the same day the Hebrews will open a convention in this city. If there are any more conventions looking for a place to meet they will doubtless gravitate towards Washington.

The object of the Lawyer's convention is to form a National Association for the purpose of harmonizing certain matters of law in the different States. A great deal of unnecessary trouble and inconvenience is caused by different laws, for instance, on marriage and divorce, descent of real estate, distribution of personal property, manner of attesting and executing deeds and wills, bills of exchange, and notes and checks.

By the formation of this association it is hoped that many of these difficulties can be obviated. Just how a change is to be brought about remains to be determined, but it is thought it will be by the formation of advisory boards, which will formulate bills for uniform legislation on these subjects, and present them to the various State Legislatures. Many of the States east of the Mississippi will send from five to twenty delegates to the convention, which will be held in the Universalist Church and will last several days.

The order of Knights of the Golden Eagle is a secret benevolent institution, founded in Baltimore, in '73. Its membership now approaches 40,000. No person can be admitted who is not a white male of good moral character, a believer in the existence of a Supreme Being, of the Christian faith, free from any mental or bodily infirmity, competent to support himself and family, and having said faith is at education to sign his application for membership. There are to be 8,000 uniformed Sir Knights from all parts of the United States, and they are to be inaugurated, exhibited and made to have a good time every way.

Special trains starting from Minneapolis, Chicago, New England and the South have been bringing delegates to the great Baptist conventions, and the large, handsome Calvary Church where the five Baptist Societies are in session, presents a busy scene. Those organizations are: The Women's Home Missionary Society, the Baptist Educational Society, the American Baptist Publication Society, and the American Baptist Union. It is through these five organizations that the 3,000,000 communicants of the Baptist Church put before the world their practical work of evangelization, education and extension. Through these missions are founded and sustained in heathen lands; through these Bibles, books, papers, pamphlets, and tracts are thrown broad cast by the million. But only those inside of the Church organization have a full understanding and appreciation of the scope, character, and completeness of these organizations in every detail.

Each of these five Societies holds one session daily, but only one at a time. As soon as one adjourns another takes its place.

There was no lack of temperance meetings in Washington last Sunday and they as usual well attended. The Capitol Hill branch of the W. C. T. U. holds a meeting regularly Sunday afternoons on Pennsylvania avenue, and the Gospel wagon from the Central Union Mission often attends and assists in the services. Last Sunday there were meetings under the auspices of the Good Templars at the Church of the Reformation and at Prohibition Hall, also a mass meeting of the W. C. T. U. at the Congregational Church and a temperance talk to men at the Young Men's Association parlors.

In Congress the lower Branch is the busier body now. The tariff bill has the right of way and tariff speeches are ringing fourth incessantly. On Tuesday the speech of Representative Butterworth, of Ohio, proved to be the feature of the debate. The other speakers were Mr. Buckalew, of Pa., Mr. Simmons of North Carolina, Mr. Stone of Kentucky, Mr. Henderson of Illinois, Mr. Grout of Vermont, and Mr. Seymour of Michigan. On Wednesday Representatives Bayne, Lair, Ryan, Weaver, Fitch, Maish, Allen, Baker, Bound, and Dazell, spoke. On Thursday Messrs Breckinridge of Arkansas and Cox of New York were on the programme with well prepared speeches. To-day Messrs Bandall, McKinley and Breckinridge of Ky., will speak and tomorrow will belong to Mr. Reed of Main and Speaker Carlisle

NOTICE OF CONTEST.

In the United States Land Office, La Grande, Or. C. A. Snook, Timber Culture contestant, vs.

Alexander L. Eggert, Pre-emption claimant and T. M. Overfelt & Co., Purchasers.

In accordance with instructions from the Hon. Commissioner of the General Land Office, issued on hearing held made to him, through the undersigned, by C. A. Snook, against Alexander L. Eggert, of Kimberly, Grant County, Oregon, Contestee, on the 20th day of March, 1888, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the SW quarter of Section 12 and E. 1/2 of Section 13, Township 10, South of Range 26, E. W. M., and T. M. Overfelt & Co., purchasers of said tract of land, alleging that said Alexander L. Eggert has not established a pre-emption right to the land in question, in S. No. 1,001, for said tract of land, by reason of having filed a non-mineral, D. S., No. 58, for a tract of land in The Dalles Land District, Oregon, on February 17, 1875.

That said Alexander L. Eggert settled upon and entered said tract of land to sell the same on speculation, and made an agreement to sell the same to said T. M. Overfelt & Company.

That said Alexander L. Eggert failed to comply with the requirements of the law in matters of residence and cultivation.

That I do by said Alexander L. Eggert and T. M. Overfelt & Co., are hereby summoned to appear at this office, on the 17th day of September, 1888, at 10 o'clock A. M., of said day and show cause if any there be, why said Cash Entry, No. 214, should not be cancelled.

And the said parties will further take notice that the Register and Receiver have designated James T. Hall, County Clerk of Grant County, Oregon, to take the testimony in this case, at such witnesses as each may present to him for that purpose, at the office in Canyon City, in said Grant County, Oregon, on the 18th day of July, 1888, at 10 o'clock A. M., of said day, and continue thereafter from day to day until all the testimony offered by either party be taken and reduced to writing by said James T. Hall and at the conclusion thereof the same will be duly reported at this office for use at the hearing hereof.

Dated this 23d day of March, A. D. 1888.
