One Day at a Time.

One day at a time! That's all
it can be;
No faster than that is the hardest fate;
And days have their limits, however we
Begin them too early and stretch them too late.

One day at a time!
It's a wholesome rhyme!
A good one to live by,
A day at a time.

One day at a time! Every heart that aches,
Knowing only too well how long they can seem;
But it's never to-day which the spirits breaks—
It's the darkened future, without a gleam.

One day at a time! When joy is at height—
Such joy as the heart can never forget—
And pulses are throbbing with wild delight,
How hard to remember that suns must set.

One day at a time! But a single day,
Whatever its load, whatever its length;
And there's a bit of precious scripture to say
That, according to each, shall be our strength.

One day at a time! 'Tis the whole of life;
All sorrow, all joy, are measured therein;
The bound of our purpose, our noblest strife,
The one only countersign sure to win!

One day at a time!
It's a wholesome rhyme!
A good one to live by,
A day at a time.

WHAT AM I TO DO?

The symptoms of Biliousness are unhappily too well known, differing in different individuals in more or less degree. A Bilious man is seldom a breakfast eater. Tongue coated, sick, he has an excellent appetite for liquids. But none for solids of a morning. His tongue will hardly bear inspection at any time; if it is not white and furred, it is rough, at all events.

The digestive system is wholly out of order and Diarrhœa or Constipation may be a symptom or the two may alternate. There are often Hemorrhoids or even loss of blood. There may be giddiness and often headache and inability or hesitance and tenderness in the pit of the stomach. To correct all these if not effect a cure try Green's August Flower, it cost but a trifle, and thousands attest its efficacy.

Against Hasty Conclusions.

A woman in Layfayette street, East, rushed out the other day and informed a policeman that she had seen a big dog crawl under her barn, and she believed the animal mad. The officer went round by way of the alley, accompanied by the usual crowd, and after peeking and peering for some time he shot three bullets under the barn to scare the dog out. After a third shot a movement was heard, and presently the long end of a colored man crawled into view. After backing out and brushing the dirt out of his eyes he asked

"Was it me you were shooting at?"

"I supposed it was a dog under there," replied the officer.

"Well, sah, doan' you neber 'spose no mo'! It's dangerous."

And he showed a bullet hole in his cap and an other one in his coat as proofs of the accuracy of the officers aim. He had crawled under after a rabbit which had escaped from a neighbor.

"It's all right," he said as the officer apologised, "but doan' you 'spose no mo'! You jist keep right down to de cole facts. Dis 'sposin' around ar' what gets pussons into serus truble."

Brigham Young's Ready Wit.

It is believed that the following anecdote of Brigham Young has never been published. The high priest of the Mormons often had to exert the whole of his wonderfully quick wit in order to preserve the faith that his followers had in him, but he was generally equal to the occasion. A certain elder, while chopping wood, had cut his foot so badly that it had to be amputated. As soon as he was able he came to Young and stated his case to him somewhat as follows: "I have always been a good Mormon; I have several wives and a good many children, and in my present maimed condition I do not know how I am to provide for them. I believe truely that you are Christ's representative on earth, and that you have all the power that He had. If you like you can work miracles; if you like you can give me a new leg, and now I ask you to do it."

Young assented to all the flattering propositions as they were laid down, and when the elder had finished speaking he said: "I can give you a new leg, and I will, but I want you to think about it a little first. When the day of judgment comes, whenever you are burried, your old leg will find you out and join itself to you, but if I give you a new one, that will rise with you, too, and the question is whether you would rather suffer the inconvenience of getting along with one leg for a few years here or go through all eternity with three legs."

The choice was soon made, and Brigham's reputation as a miracle-worker was saved.

Near the town of Soleure, in Switzerland, a bird's nest was recently found which was constructed entirely of the imperfect watch springs thrown out from the workshops. It has been deposited in the local museum.

The largest electric light in the world is in the light house at Sydney, Australia. It has the power of 180,000 candles, and can be seen at sea fifty miles distant. America's largest light, 24,000 candle power, is at San Jose, Cal.
