The lower classes of the Italian people continue to emigrate in enormous numbers, and the Government is much alarmed. The number leaving Genoa last year was 101,200, as against 52,552, the previous year.

Miss Susan Winter of Wheatlands, M. T., has sued a local editor for defamation of character. She is engaged to a young man named Spring, and the editor is alluding to the fact quoted the remark about winter lingering in the lap of spring.

Victor Keller has gone to work in the tunnel on the North Star mine on Canyon mountain, and still finds good looking ore. Personalities will win. Gabriel Bell was ten years prospecting their ledge and at last struck a "pay streak."

A German prince in a dream, seeing three rats—one fat, the other lean, and the third blind—sent for a celebrated Bohemian gipsy, and demanded an explanation. "The first rat," said the seeress, "is your prime minister the lean rat your people, and the blind rat yourself."

Another report comes from China that 10,000 of the inhabitants have been drowned. A year or two ago a few million went by the same route. At this rate there will shortly be no reason for extinction, not for the reason that there will be none left to extirpate.

The corner stone of the Virtue bank building, recently destroyed by fire in Baker City, was removed a few days ago. It contained a number of old relics all placed within the skull of a once notorious outlaw, Bags Greenwood, who was hanged at Straw ranch in 1864.—Oregon Scout.

At the Nevada museum can be seen some rich ore from Greenhorn, carrying nearly silver. The specimens are from the Leadville mine owned by N. S. Babcock. Greenhorn mining district is found to be one of the best now known in Eastern Oregon at no distant day—Cracker creek to the contrary notwithstanding.

The Redrock Democrat refers to the Sanger mining property, operated by the C. T. Bradley company, as one that Baker county can well feel proud of. This is the first intimation that the Baker county lines had been extended. A few more flappers like the Columbia and the Democrat will want to unload Cracker creek on to Grant county.—E. O. Republican.

Indian Agent Coffey report the Umatilla reservation nearly deserted by abandoned Umatillas, many of whom are scattered in the mountains one or two hundred miles away on their annual hunting tours. While these nobles are off the reservation Agent Coffey draws rations of coffee and other necessities for them from the government, and as the swashes are not there to consume it he has plenty of "put-let-ting" by selling the surplus. Petition the government to keep the Indians at home and Eastern Oregon will fare better.

Following is a list of cases filed with the county clerk for disposal by the circuit court. The list is already large, but there is probably more to follow. Prepare for a six weeks term of court. It cannot well be avoided.

The people of Bridge creek talk of petitioning the next legislative session to establish a new county out of a portion of Creek, Gilliam and Grant counties. The section of which it is proposed to establish a new county is so situated geographically as to make it convenient to remain in the counties to which it is now attached and there will hardly be any objection to the establishing of a new county.—Ochoco Review.

DIED.

ELLIOTT—At his home in Strawberry valley, near Prairie City, Oct. 27, 1888, of lung fever, after a few days illness, Mr. Wm. C. Elliott.

Mr. Elliott was one of the pioneer settlers of Grant county, and by his taking of the entire community loses an exemplary citizen, and his faithful wife and orphaned little ones feel their loss bitterly, for to them no one can be as the affectionate husband and father.

The funeral Monday was conducted by Hobah Lodge, I. O. O. F., of which he was a member, and a large concourse of friends followed his remains to their final resting place in the Prairie City cemetery.

Which Was It: Bacon or Shakespeare. The authorship of the dramatic productions attributed to the last of the above named is agitating literary circles to the very centre, but affects the practical masses far less than the momentary question, how to regain or preserve health, that essential of bodily and mental activity, business success and the "percent of business." We can throw far more light on this latter subject than the most profound Shakespearean can on the question first propounded. OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

There were seven republican and eight democratic senators in the House on Wednesday and Thursday mornings when the usual drum-drum of routine business commenced. On Wednesday, after permission had been given a couple of committees to go on sitting until about the end of time, and some Louisiana man's political disabilities had been duly removed, Senator Teller spoke in response to a recent speech by Senator Vest on National banks. When he finished there were seven senators on the floor and two in the restaurant.

When Congressman Oates, of Alabama, called up his resolution to adjourn on the 17th, and offered an amendment fixing the date on the 18th, Mr. Snowden, of Pennsylvania, wanted an amendment fixing the 21th as the date. Neither proposition was entertained, and Mr. Oates in disgust asked permission to adjourn himself. He was acceded leave for the rest of the session, and slumbered in a south bound train that night.

His departure leaves about thirty members of the House present in the city, and Monday may see only Cols. Kilgore and E. B. Taylor on the floor. These gentlemen have pledged themselves to remain on guard for their respective parties. If any member desires to keep Congress here until December, he can do it by himself unless leaves of absence are recalled and a quorum collected for adjournment. Even the motion to do this could in its turn be defeated by the "no-quorum." Adjournment question being worn thread-bare, two rumors were afloat last night. One is to the effect that the president will send to congress a proclamation declaring non-intercourse with Canada. The other is that he will make the formal visit of the committee announcing a proposed adjournment of Congress, an occasion to rebuke the Senate for failing to enact further tariff legislation. The sensationalists state that Senator Allison's motion for a recess, which the House seems apt to reject, was occasioned by the possibility of such rebuke. Democratic Republicans are inclined to believe that it would be an excellent plan to force the Senate to move adjournment instead of recess. How the facing is to be done does not at this writing appear. Representative Cox, flushed with political news and confident of democratic victory, was on the House floor Wednesday, and rising to a question of privilege asked that the New York Tribune editorial of September 29, on the subject of mysterious forgery of Mr. Cox's signature, on unfrankable matter, be read. He then personally defended himself, and called attention to similar packages of unfrankable matter endorsed by Senator Quay. His character being formerly vindicated, he went back to New York on a very fast train, that he might lose no precious time.

The Sioux Indians held a pow-wow with Secretary Vilas on Wednesday, and seemed loath to commit themselves in either individual or representative capacities, to any scheme for the settling the land troubles. Secretary Vilas refused to be called "Great Chief," and he put off by the wily savage, and demanded a settlement of the question. Sitting Bull, White Ghost, Hairy Chin, Gail, and the rest are in the meantime enjoying themselves. Their hotel is crowded with curious spectators who wish to see real Indians. Mentally and physically the Sioux chiefs are the best looking band of out-throats one might wish to see. They are the first Indians who have ever been here where the ready-made raiment of civilization, with even indifferent success. Some of the younger men are as graceful that no strangeness of apparel can detract from their fine appearance. The Sioux visitors are peacefully inclined. Even the amateur photographers, those individuals who have added new terror to civilization, were tolerated, and when they drew bead with their cameras, not an Indian winked.

The North Carolina and Louisiana cases, involving the right of the citizen to sue his own state, have been postponed indefinitely in the supreme court. Chief Justice Fuller, in making the announcement, stated that the question was so broad he would like to have it settled by the full bench, and he would therefore suggest that the hearing be postponed in the hope of Justice Matthews' early recovery and reappearance on the bench.

The craze for campaign buttons and badges has not severely afflicted Washington. I saw a dude with a big hickory cane the other evening. The handle was marked like a bandanna handkerchief. Still, I thought the dude did not appear happy at the charitable amusement of the other passengers in the street car and seemed in a fair way to realize that this peculiar form of political insanity is going out of style.

LIGHTNING.

Harnessed and Driven by Medical Science—Numerous Instances of Its Effect.

Cross Eyes Straightened in Five Minutes or No Charge.

Dr. Steele Cured by Drs. Darrin.

From the Oregonian.

There is an old saw which runs: "Who shall decide when doctors disagree?" That doctors do disagree often than the contrary, modern history of medicine abundantly proves. When a doctor admits that another doctor, through a different school, has performed a cure which he and his colleagues of his own school have deemed impossible, surely the millennium must be nearing us. The following tribute to the gift and skill of Drs. Darrin is a remarkable instance of a generous impulse worked out against powerful professional prejudice, and is worthy of record:

Card to the public: I have for the past two years been afflicted with chronic pericarditis, accompanied with great pain around the heart all that time, with excessive circulation, sleepless nights, fear and distress. I was unable to attend to the duties of my profession. I had exhausted my knowledge of medicine, as also that of my colleagues, and found no relief until coming under the electro-magnetic treatment of Drs. Darrin. A little more than a year has elapsed since received this treatment and I can truthfully say that I am cured. I have none of my former trouble, and wish thus to give my personal experience in the interest of humanity. I have been practicing physician fourteen years, and am well known in this city and in Marshfield, Oregon. I deem it but justice to the public and to Drs. Darrin to write the above. DR. STEELE.

Miss Akers, of Junction City Restored

Editor Oregonian: I wish to add my testimonial to the thousands already published of the skill of Drs. Darrin in the cure of consumption by the Rectal Injection cure. I had been ailing over two years, and my friends thought I was going into consumption. I took a bad cold which hastened the development of the disease. I took cod liver oil and all manner of disagreeable medicines, and was examined by several physicians and my case was pronounced quite a consumption. Again the advice of friends, I took treatment of Drs. Darrin—it was my last hope. I have been saved by their treatment. The treatment is not disagreeable in the least. Any one interested in this mode of cure can refer to my people in Junction City, Oregon, which is my home, or at 60 Col lege St., Portland, Or., where I reside. MISS IZORA AKERS

She Could not Wink With One Eye.

Mr. Editor—Sir: Ome year ago I was under Dr. Darrin's treatment for chronic catarrh of the throat and nose. Also serofulous swelling, and fema troubles, and was cured of all the above afflictions in about three months. Two months ago I had the misfortune to have my eye-lid and optic nerve of the paralyzed. The lid dropped so that I could not wink up eye or see. I again consulted Dr. Darrin but was given little hope of a cure, still he said electricity would cure it, if anything would, a d d he would treat the case. He did try, and to my astonishment, success crowned his effort, and I find myself cured, and can see as well as ever, and my eye-lid is in its normal condition. Refer anyone to me at 117 Water street, Portland. MRS. S. P. MUGGEE

Everything Turned Dark Before Him.

Mr. Editor: I commenced treatment one year ago for heart disease—dyspepsia, pain in the heart and lungs, and general nervous debility. Many times I would fall as though I was dead. Everything seemed to turn black before my eyes. Dr. Darrin's treatment has been successful in my case. Postoffice address Station, Marion county, Or. LEVI BARTMES.

Total Deafness Permanently Cured.

Mr. Editor: In 1872 my daughter was taken with the membranous croup, and upon her recovery was left totally deaf. I called on two eminent physicians who said they could do nothing for her. As a last resort I took her to Dr. Darrin, who cured her, and she has never been troubled with deafness since. I consider it one of the greatest cures of electro-magnetic treatment on record, and with great satisfaction give this testimonial. I reside in Berkeley, Cal., and will take great pleasure in answering any inquiries concerning this most remarkable cure. Yours respectfully, WILLIAM S. DIBBLE.

A Cross Eyed Advertisement.

Among the numerous cases of cross eyes cured by Dr. Darrin we mention the following: Miss Mary Walter, 361 Tweelfth street, Portland; C. Loftus, Newcastle, W. T.

Miss Ella Gregg, Seattle, W. T.; Lillie Quentor, Tacoma, W. T.; Andrew Anderson, Fort Townsend, W. T.; Mrs. M. Rebe's son, 143 Water street, Portland; Mrs. A. Shea's girl, 348 Columbia St., Portland; Miss Maggie McGuire, 55 Sherman street, Portland; E. Ahlf, 160 North Fourteenth St., Portland; Fanny Kennaly, Walla Walla, W. T.; Miss Lucy Moran, Monmouth, Or. The above named Parties can be referred to. Dr. Darrin will treat cross eyes Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday October 29, 30 and 31 only, at the Portland office, as only one of the doctors do this delicate work.

OFFICE HOURS AND PLACE OF BUSINESS

The doctors can be consulted at 235 Fifth street, corner of Main, Portland, and Stine house, Walla Walla, W. T., 10 to 4 daily; evenings, 7 to 8; Sundays, 10 to 12. All curable chronic diseases, loss of manhood, blood taints, syphilis, gleet, gonorrhoea, stricture, spermatorrhoea, seminal weakness or loss of desire of sexual power in man or woman, catarrh and deafness, are confidentially and successfully treated. Cures of private diseases guaranteed. Circulars sent free. Most cases can receive home treatment after a visit to the doctor's office.

The longest session of congress in America adjourned on Oct. 20th.

"DOCTORING OLD TIME"

A Striking Picture—A Revival of old Time Simplicities. In one of Harper's issues is given a very fine illustration of Robert's celebrated painting, known as "Doctoring Old Time." It represents a typical old-timer, with his fellows, living the dust from an ancient clock, with its cords and weights carefully secured. One of these clocks in this generation is appreciated only as a rare relic.

The suggestive name, "Doctoring Old Time," brings to our mind another version of the title, used for another purpose—"Old Time Doctoring." We learn, through a reliable source, that one of the enterprising proprietors of the common herbs and plants, has been for years investigating the formulas and medical preparations used in the beginning of this century, and even before, with a view of ascertaining why people in our great-grandfather's time enjoyed a health and physical vigor so seldom found in the present generation. They now think they have secured the secret or secrets. They find that the prevailing opinion that then existed, that "Nature has a remedy for every existing disorder," was true, and acting under this belief, our grandfathers used the common herbs and plants. Continual trespass upon the forest domain, has made these herbs less abundant and has driven them further from civilization, until they have been discarded, as remedial agents because of the difficulty of obtaining them.

H. H. Warner, proprietor of Warner's safe cure and founder of the Warner observatory, Rochester, N. Y., has been pressing investigations in this direction, into the annals of old family histories, until he has secured some very valuable formulas, from which his firm is now preparing medicines, to be sold by all druggists.

They will, we learn, be known under the general title of "Warner's Log Cabin remedies." Among these medicines will be a "sarsaparilla," for the blood and liver, "Log Cabin hops and buchu remedy," for the stomach, etc., "Log Cabin cough and consumption remedy," "Log Cabin hair tonic," "Log Cabin extract," for internal and external use, and an old valuable discovery for catarrh, called "Log Cabin rose cream." Among the list is also a "Log Cabin plaster," and a "Log Cabin liver pill."

From the number of remedies, it will be seen that they do not propose to cure all diseases with one preparation. It is believed by many that with these remedies a new era is to dawn upon suffering humanity and that the close of the nineteenth century will see these roots and herbs, as compounded under the title of Warner's Log Cabin remedies, as they were at its beginning. Although they come in the form of proprietary medicines, yet they will be none the less welcome, for suffering humanity has become tired of modern medicine, and the public has great confidence in any remedies put up by the firm of which H. H. Warner is the head. The people have become suspicious of the effects of doctoring with poisonous drugs. Few realize the injurious effects following the prescriptions of many modern physicians. These effects of poisonous drugs, already prominent, will become more pronounced in coming generations. Therefore we can cordially wish the old-fashioned new remedies the best of success.
